Crime Lab Report John M. Collins, 2019-09-17 Crime Lab Report compiles the most relevant and popular articles that appeared in this ongoing periodical between 2007 and 2017. Articles have been categorized by theme to serve as chapters with an introduction at the beginning of each chapter and a description of the events that inspired each article. The author concludes the compilation with a reflection on Crime Lab Report, the retired periodical, and the future of forensic science as the 21st Century unfolds. Intended for forensic scientists, prosecutors, defense attorneys, and even students studying forensic science or law, this compilation provides much needed information on the topics at hand. Presents a comprehensive look behind the curtain of the forensic sciences from the viewpoint of someone working within the field. Educates practitioners and laboratory administrators providing talking points to help them respond intelligently to questions and criticisms whether on the witness stand or when meeting with politicians and or policymakers. Captures an important period in the history of forensic science and criminal justice in America. Crime Laboratories, 1968 National survey and state study on consolidation of police services providing information for improvement of state and local laboratory systems. Autopsy of a Crime Lab Brandon Garrett, 2022-03 This book exposes the dangerously imperfect forensic evidence that we rely on for criminal convictions. That's not my fingerprint, your honor, said the defendant after FBI experts reported a 100 percent identification. The FBI was wrong. It is shocking how often they are. Autopsy of a Crime Lab is the first book to catalog the sources of error and the faulty science behind a range of well-known forensic evidence from fingerprints and firearms to forensic algorithms. In this devastating forensic takedown, noted legal expert Brandon L. Garrett poses the questions that should be asked in courtrooms every day: Where are the studies that validate the basic premises of widely accepted techniques such as fingerprinting? How can experts testify with 100 percent certainty about a fingerprint when there is no such thing as a 100 percent match? Where is the quality control at the crime scenes and in the laboratories? Should we so readily adopt powerful new technologies like facial recognition software and rapid DNA machines? And why have judges been so reluctant to consider the weaknesses of so many long-accepted methods? Taking us into the lives of the wrongfully convicted or nearly convicted, into crime labs rocked by scandal and onto the front lines of promising reform efforts driven by professionals and researchers alike, Autopsy of a Crime Lab illustrates the persistence and perniciousness of shaky science and its well-meaning practitioners. Police Ethics Michael A. The Forensic Science Service Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Science and Technology Committee,2011-07 The Science and Technology Committee is not confident that an orderly transition can be achieved by the extremely challenging deadline for closure of the Forensic Science Service of March 2012 Extending the deadline by at least six months would allow the government to consult on and determine a wider strategy for forensic science In making its decision to close the FSS the government failed to give enough consideration to the impact on forensic science research and development the capacity of private providers to absorb the FSS s 60% market share and the wider implications for the criminal justice system These considerations appear to have been hastily overlooked in favour of the financial bottom line The report also draws attention to the historical inadequacies in government decision making that brought the FSS to its current financial situation The FSS s dire financial position appears to have arisen from a complex combination of factors principally the shrinking forensics market driven by increasing police in sourcing of forensic science services and a forensic procurement framework that has driven down prices and does not adequately recognise the value of complex forensic services In the transition to closure transferring work from the FSS to a non accredited police or private laboratory would be highly undesirable posing significant and unacceptable risks to criminal justice Proposals should be brought forward immediately to provide the Forensic Science Regulator with statutory powers to enforce compliance with quality standards
