Policing The Global Economy:

Policing the Global Economy Prince Sadruddin Aga Khan, 1998      The Illicit Global Economy Peter Andreas, 2025 The illicit global economy encompasses cross border flows of goods people money and information unauthorized by either the sending or receiving country Typically this means flows that are prohibited endangered species and narcotics regulated migrants cigarettes arms stolen art and antiquities or counterfeit ranging from prescription medicines to currency Some of these flows are obscure the black market trade in bear bile or mostly a law enforcement nuisance cross border trade in stolen vehicle parts but others receive enormous policy and media attention drug trafficking and human smuggling Still others have severe environmental impacts toxic waste illegal logging overfishing and poaching and security implications sanctions busting and arms trafficking Collectively these flows reflect the illicit side of the global economy The Illicit Global Economy What Everyone Needs to Know answers the key questions about how illicit global markets are structured and operate how they intersect with state institutions and practices how they interact with the legal economy and how they shape and are shaped by domestic and international politics This pithy yet authoritative primer helps readers make sense of a crucial part of the global economy that is too often either neglected or distorted In this regard an underlying theme in the book is the need for a more historically informed critical perspective that challenges the many myths and misconceptions about the illicit global economy that are all too prevalent in contemporary media accounts Hollywood depictions popular books and policy debates      Policing the Global Economy Prince Sadruddin Aga Khan, 1998      Global Policing Ben Bowling, James Sheptycki, 2011-12-16 In the transitional networked society police power is no longer constrained by the borders of the nation state It has globalised Global Policing shows how security threats have been constructed by powerful actors to justify the creation of a new global policing architecture and how the subculture of policing shapes the world system Demonstrating how a theory of global policing is central to understanding global governance the text explores the new security agenda focused on serious organised crime and terrorism and how this is transforming policing the creation of global organisations such as Interpol regional entities such as Europol and national policing agencies with a transnational reach the subculture of the global cops blurring boundaries between police private security military and secret intelligence agencies the reality of transnational policing on the ground its effectiveness legitimacy accountability and future development Written by two leading international experts who bring cutting edge theoretical debates to life with case studies and examples Global Policing will prove captivating reading for students and scholars in criminology criminal justice international relations law and sociology      Policing the Global Economy Murray L. Weidenbaum, Mary A. Fejfar, 1984      Policing Higher Education Eve Darian-Smith, 2025-05-06 On the essential role of higher education and academic freedom in thriving democracies Higher education is facing an existential crisis Students and staff are surveilled with cameras and facial recognition software Police zip tie and arrest students during protests As universities across the United States become epicenters of ideological warfare Policing Higher Education contextualizes these skirmishes within a broader global framework From the contentious debates surrounding free speech and curriculum control to the denial of tenure for outspoken faculty Eve Darian Smith examines the myriad ways higher education has become a battleground Darian Smith highlights the intersecting global trends of rising authoritarianism and declining academic freedom revealing how the United States is part of a larger pattern seen in democracies worldwide including in Brazil Hungary Germany India and the Philippines This book challenges readers to view educational conflicts not merely as culture wars but as intense and connected struggles over economic political and social power Drawing from extensive scholarship Darian Smith humanizes the impacts of these attacks on scholars and students offering poignant stories of persecution and resilience With a critical eye on the historical and structural drivers of antidemocracy this book pushes for new meaningful conversations about academic freedom that transcend national borders It emphasizes the vital role of universities in fostering social responsibility and combating the global drift toward authoritarianism

Economic Development, Crime, and Policing Frederic Lemieux, Garth den Heyer, Dilip K. Das, 2014-12-04 The 22nd Annual Meeting of the International Police Executive Symposium was held in August 2012 at the United Nations Plaza in New York Chaired by Dr Garth den Heyer the symposium focused on the links between economic development armed violence and public safety Drawn from these proceedings Economic Development Crime and Policing Global P

Policing European Metropolises Elke Devroe, Adam Edwards, Paul Ponsaers, 2017-02-03 Understanding the politics of security in city regions is increasingly important for the study of contemporary policing This book argues that national and international governing arrangements are being outflanked by various transnational threats including the cross border terrorism of the attacks on Paris in 2015 and Brussels in 2016 trafficking in people narcotics and armaments cybercrime the deregulation of global financial services and environmental crime Metropolises are the focal points of the transnational networks through which policing problems are exported and imported across national borders as they provide much of the demand for illicit markets and are the principal engines generating other policing challenges including political protest and civil unrest This edited collection examines whether and how governing arrangements rooted in older systems of national sovereignty are adapting to these transnational challenges and considers problems of and for policing in city regions in the European Union and its single market Bringing together experts from across the continent Policing European Metropolises develops a sociology of urban policing in Europe and a unique methodology for comparing the experiences of different metropolises in the same country This book will be of value to police researchers in Europe and abroad as well as postgraduate students with an interest in policing and urban policy

Global Capitalism and the Crisis of Humanity William I. Robinson, 2014-07-28 This exciting new study provides an original and provocative expos of the crisis of global capitalism in its multiple dimensions economic political social ecological military and cultural Building on his earlier works on globalization William I Robinson discusses the nature of the new global capitalism the rise of a globalized production and financial system a transnational capitalist class and a transnational state and warns of the rise of a global police state to contain the explosive contradictions of a global capitalist system that is crisis ridden and out of control Robinson concludes with an exploration of how diverse social and political forces are responding to the crisis and alternative scenarios for the future

Policing the Poor Neil Websdale, 2001 A hard hitting examination of community policing and its negative impact on the urban poor

The Future of Policing Joseph A. Schafer, Michael E. Buerger, Richard W. Myers, Carl J. Jensen III, Bernard H. Levin, 2017-07-27 As communities continue to undergo rapid demographic shifts that modify their composition culture and collective values police departments serving those communities must evolve accordingly in order to remain effective

Democratic Policing in Transitional and Developing Countries Michael D. Wiatrowski, 2016-05-13 Is it possible to create democratic forms of policing in transitional and developing societies This volume argues that policing models and practices promoted by the west are often inadequate for adoption by countries making democratic transitions because they do not adequately address issues such as human rights equity co production accountability openness and organizational change Therefore police reform is often limited to a one size fits all approach The book expands the dialogue so that discussions of democratic policing around the world are more realistic comprehensive and sensitive to the local context Detailed case studies on Iraq South Africa Northern Ireland and Kazakhstan provide a realistic assessment of the current state of policing The editors use the studies to suggest how to promote democratic policing and other important goals of democratic reform around the world The volume will assist academics policy makers NGOs and others in tailoring a local democratic policing strategy within a broader framework to enhance socioeconomic development and citizen capacity build social capital reduce various forms of conflict and support human rights

Transnational Crime and Policing James Sheptycki, 2017-07-05 This collection of essays on transnational crime and policing covers a broad range of themes the relationship between global policing and the transnational state system the impact of advanced technologies on policing practice the changing morphology of occupational policing subculture and the transnational practices of police agencies The essays include case studies and are based on empirical fieldwork that began in the early 1990s and continued for over a decade well into the post 9 11 period This collection also provides valuable accounts of the secret social world of transnational police demonstrates that the developmental trajectory of transnational practices was already established prior to the age of Homeland Security and addresses the controversial issue of how transnational policing in all of its complex manifestations might be made politically accountable in the interests of the general global commonwealth

Accountability of Policing Stuart Lister, Michael Rowe, 2015-07-30 Accountability of Policing provides a contemporary and wide ranging examination of the accountability and governance of police and policing Debates about who guards the guards are among the oldest and most protracted in the history of democracy but over the last decade we have witnessed important changes in how policing and security agencies are governed regulated and held to account Against a backdrop of increasing complexity in the local national and transnational landscapes of policing political legal administrative and technological developments have served to alter regimes of accountability The extent and pace of these changes raises a pressing need for ongoing academic research analysis and debate Bringing together contributions from a range of leading scholars this book offers an authoritative and comprehensive analysis of the shifting themes of accountability within policing The contributions explore questions of accountability across a range of dimensions including those individuals and institutions responsible for its delivery within and between the public and private sectors and at local national and transnational scales of jurisdiction They also engage with the concept of accountability in a broad sense bringing to the surface the various meanings that have become associated with it and demonstrating how it is invoked and interpreted in different contexts Accountability of Policing is essential reading for academics and students involved in the study of policing criminal justice and criminology and will also be of great interest to practitioners and policymakers

Redefining Capitalism in Global Economic Development Kui-Wai Li, 2017-06-07 Redefining Capitalism in Global Economic Development reconsiders capitalism by taking into account the unfolding forces of economic globalization especially in Asian economies It explores the economic implications and consequences of recent financial crises terrorism ultra low interest rates that are decades long debt prone countries and countries with large trade surpluses The book illuminates these economic implications and consequences through a framework of capitalist ideologies and concepts recognizing that Asia is redefining capitalism today The author Li seeks not to describe why nations fail but how the sustainability of capitalism can save the world Merges capitalist theory with global events as few books do Emphasizes ways to interpret capitalist ideas in light of current global affairs Reframes capitalism via economics supported by insights from political science sociology international relations and peace studies     Policing the Global Economy Prince Sadrudin Aga Khan, 1998     Community

Policing in Indigenous Communities Mahesh K. Nalla, Graeme R. Newman, 2013-03-04 Indigenous communities are typically those that challenge the laws of the nation states of which they have become often very reluctantly a part Around the world community policing has emerged in many of these regions as a product of their physical environments and cultures Through a series of case studies Community Policing in Indigenous Communities explores how these often deeply divided societies operate under the community policing paradigm Drawing on the local expertise of policing practitioners and researchers across the globe the book explores several themes with regard to each region How community policing originated or evolved in the community and how it has changed over time The type of policing style used whether informal or formal and uniformed or non uniformed whether partnerships are developed with local community organizations or businesses and the extent of covert operations if any The role played by community policing in the region including the relative emphasis of calls for service the extent to which advice and help is offered to citizens whether local records are kept of citizen movement and locations and investigation and arrest procedures The community's special cultural or indigenous attributes that set it apart from other models of community policing Organizational attributes including status in the hierarchy of control within the regional or national organization of policing The positive and negative features of community policing as it is practiced in the community Its effectiveness in reducing and or preventing crime and disorder The book demonstrates that community policing cannot be imposed from above without grassroots input from local citizens It is a strategy not simply for policing with consent but for policing in contexts where there is often little if any consent It is an aspirational practice aimed to help police and communities within contested contexts to recognize that positive gains can be made enabling communities to live in relative safety

Investigating Corruption in the Afghan Police Force Danny Singh, 2020-08-05 Based on unprecedented empirical research conducted with lower levels of the Afghan police this unique study assesses how institutional legacy and external intervention from countries including the UK and the US have shaped the structural conditions of corruption in the police force and the state Taking a social constructivist approach the book combines an in depth analysis of internal political cultural and economic drivers with references to several regime changes affecting policing and security from the Soviet occupation and Mujahidin militias to Taliban religious police Crossing disciplinary boundaries Singh offers an invaluable contribution to the literature and to anti corruption policy in developing and conflict affected societies

Policing World Society Mathieu Deflem, 2002 This book offers a sociological analysis of the history of international police cooperation in the period from the middle of the 19th century until the end of World War II It is a detailed exploration of international cooperation strategies involving police institutions from the United States and Germany as well as other European countries

Policing Global Regions Saskia Hufnagel, 2021-01-26 This book provides a stocktake and comparative socio legal analysis of law enforcement cooperation strategies in four different regions of the world the European Union EU North America Greater China and Australasia The work analyses law enforcement cooperation mechanisms within the socio legal framework of global normmaking The strategies addressed range from legal frameworks facilitating cooperation to formal and informal police networks and cooperation practices The study also takes into account crime specific engagement for example campaigns focusing on drug crimes terrorism financial crime kidnappings and other offences It explores challenges in policing practice and human rights protection in each region that could be countered by existing strategies in another As regions usually develop more advanced cooperation mechanisms than exist at a global scale strategies found in the former could help find solutions for the latter To map existing strategies and assess their impact on both human rights and policing practice this study relies on an assessment of the primary and secondary literature sources in each region as well as interviews with practitioners ranging from senior police officers to prosecutors government officials customs and military staff This book presents a valuable resource for academics and postgraduate students as well as policing and criminal justice practitioners government officials and policy makers
