Policing The Poor From Slave Plantation To Public Housing:

Policing the Poor Neil Websdale, 2001 A hard hitting examination of community policing and its negative impact on the urban poor

Public Housing That Worked Nicholas Dagen Bloom, 2014-08-04 When it comes to large scale public housing in the United States the consensus for the past decades has been to let the wrecking balls fly The demolition of infamous projects such as Pruitt Igoe in St Louis and the towers of Cabrini Green in Chicago represents to most Americans the fate of all public housing Yet one notable exception to this national tragedy remains The New York City Housing Authority America's largest public housing manager still maintains over 400 000 tenants in its vast and well run high rise projects While by no means utopian New York City's public housing remains an acceptable and affordable option The story of New York's success where so many other housing authorities faltered has been ignored for too long Public Housing That Worked shows how New York's administrators beginning in the 1930s developed a rigorous system of public housing management that weathered a variety of social and political challenges A key element in the long term viability of New York's public housing has been the constant search for better methods in fields such as tenant selection policing renovation community affairs and landscape design Nicholas Dagen Bloom presents the achievements that contradict the common wisdom that public housing projects are inherently unmanageable By focusing on what worked rather than on the conventional history of failure and blame Bloom provides useful models for addressing the current crisis in affordable urban housing Public Housing That Worked is essential reading for practitioners and scholars in the areas of public policy urban history planning criminal justice affordable housing management social work and urban affairs

An Introduction to American Policing Dennis J. Stevens, 2017-05-08 An Introduction to American Policing Second Edition connects the US criminal justice system criminology and law enforcement knowledge to the progress of the police community It is the perfect resource for a Police Science course

The Geographies of Threat and the Production of Violence Rasul A Mowatt, 2021-09-30 The Geographies of Threat and the Production of Violence exposes the spatial processes of racialising gendering and classifying populations through the encoded urban infrastructure from highways cleaving neighbourhoods to laws and policies fortifying even more unbreachable boundaries This synthesis of narrative and theory resurrects neglected episodes of state violence and reveals how the built environment continues to enable it today within a range of cities throughout the world Examples and discussions pull from colonial pasts and presents of old strategic settlements turned major modern cities in the United States and elsewhere that link to the physical and legal structures concentrating a populace into neighbourhoods that prep them for a lifetime of conscripted and carceral service to the State

Sex Offenses and the Men who Commit Them Michelle L. Meloy, 2006 A surprising and provocative reevaluation of community efforts to police sex offenders on probation

Fatal Family Violence and the Dementias Neil Websdale, 2024-03-05 This book explores dementia related aggression violence and homicide through a detailed analysis of gray mist killings The term gray mist killing refers to intimate partner homicides IPHs committed by spouses partners suffering from dementia homicides of dementia sufferers committed by their caregiving spouses partners or other family members and IPHs attributable to the complications of caring for a co resident family member suffering from dementia Killings by people with dementia raise questions about the role of biological psychological and sociological forces This book therefore encourages discussions around the relative weighting of these interrelated forces and why the criminal justice system and the courts have a hard time handling these killings It also adds to our understanding of the social responses to people with dementia the orchestration of services the nature of caring and the interaction between sufferers and those familial community and state actors that provide support and care The vividly detailed case studies from the US UK and Australia uniquely inform criminological debates about violence homicide and the social responses to these complex phenomena They are organized around the apparent motives for the killing such as mercy theft prior intimate partner violence mental illness and exhaustion The social responses of families communities and state actors are examined and contextualized against what researchers and dementia specialists suggest are promising or best practices for intervention Apparent triggers or circumstantial precipitants for the killings invite discussion of signals risks and preventive interventions The book culminates in an attempt to make sense of gray mist killings as well as a discussion of broader implications and significance in relation to globalization violence against women the rising prevalence of the dementias declining birthrates climate change and sustainable economic development Drawing from a variety of disciplines this book will be of great interest to students and scholars of criminology sociology psychology psychiatry anthropology gender studies social work law public policy and gerontology It should also appeal to judges prosecutors lawyers social workers gerontologists law enforcement adult protective services physicians psychologists and psychiatrists The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license A Typology of Domestic Violence Michael P.

Johnson,2012-12-13 Reassesses thirty years of domestic violence research and demonstrates three forms of partner violence distinctive in their origins effects and treatments Victim Advocacy in the Courtroom Mary Lay Schuster,Amy D.

Proppen,2011 Provides a deeply textured view of how victims voices are introduced and heard in courts Women, Violence, and the Media Drew Humphries,2009-04-15 Provocative collection of essays designed to give students an understanding of media representations of women s experience of violence and to educate a new generation to recognize and critique media images of women Out in the Storm Gail A. Caputo,2008 Out in the Storm examines thirty eight drug addicted women in the Philadelphia area who have taken up shoplifting and sex work to finance their habits and their lives Back cover Freeing Tammy Jody Raphael,2013-03-12 The latest volume in the popular trilogy of books about women poverty and violence Neither Angels nor Demons Kathleen Ferraro,2015-12-01 She is a victim of intimate partner violence a woman who has been harmed She is a criminal offender a woman who has harmed others Superficially it seems

she is two separate women Victim and offender are binary categories used within law social science and public discourse to describe social experiences with a moral dimension Such terms draw upon cultural narratives of good and bad people and have influenced scholarship public policy and activism The duality of good and bad women separated into mutually exclusive extremes of angels and demons has helped segregate thinking about and responses to each group In this groundbreaking study Kathleen J Ferraro exposes the limits of such thinking by exploring the link between victimization and offending from the perspective of the women charged with the crimes Interviewing forty five women charged with criminal offenses more than half of whom killed their abusers the others participated in a range of violent crimes related to domestic violence Ferraro uses their stories to illuminate complex interactions with violent partners their children and the legal system She shows that these women are neither stereotypical angels nor demons but rather human beings whose complicated lives belie the abstract categorizations of researchers legal advocates and the criminal justice system Ferraro begins with a general discussion of blurred boundaries and the complexity of experience and moves from there to discuss women s interactions with the criminal processing system In the course of her study she reexamines and finds wanting many standard ways of evaluating women s violent behavior including mutual combat battered woman syndrome and cycle of violence She argues that a more complex nuanced understanding of intimate partner violence and how it contributes to women s offending will contribute to public policy less focused on control and accountability of individuals than on developing social conditions that promote everyone s safety and well being and foster a sense of hope

Changing Communities in Challenging Contexts to Address Intimate Partner Violence Lori K. Sudderth, 2024-10-29 Women around the world face substantial barriers to reporting their victimization and in some contexts the classical criminal justice response to violence can be muted corrupted or even inappropriate This book discusses the strategies and efforts of advocates and activists to support survivors of intimate partner violence in isolated rural tribal and poor communities It asks questions such as how do you create safe space for survivors of intimate violence in places where people tend to know each other And how do you create safe space for survivors in places with few resources or where tribal identity is key to mental health Drawing on research from the Caribbean Central America and New Zealand this book speaks to criminologists social workers and those working with victim advocacy communities on college campuses and to policymakers who serve rural or tribal areas

Hard Lives, Mean Streets, 2010-07-31 Although homelessness is a serious social problem in the United States there is little direct information about the actual experiences of violence past and current among homeless people This volume based on the Florida Four City Study brings together interview material from 737 women including structured quantitative interviews as well as in depth qualitative interviews The authors investigate how many homeless women have experienced violence in their lives either as children or as adults and then examine factors associated with experiences of violence the consequences of violence and types of interactions of homeless people with the justice system The volume concludes with pragmatic and compassionate policy recommendations Equality with a Vengeance Molly Dragiewicz,2011-04-12 A provocative investigation of how fathers rights groups are trying to erode the gains of the battered women s movement Companion Reader on Violence Against Women Claire M. Renzetti,Jeffrey L. Edleson,Raquel Kennedy Bergen,2011-04-26 An invaluable companion to the Sourcebook on Violence Against Women Second Edition Designed to advance knowledge about violence against women and to serve as an inspiration to those studying or working in the field this companion reader s 20 original articles focus first on theoretical and methodological issues then on types of violence against women and finally on prevention and direct intervention Readers will find a wide range of articles that draw attention to the global dimensions of violence against women and the importance of taking into account political economic and cultural differences across diverse groups of people While the book s articles are designed as companion pieces to the chapters in the Second Edition of the Sourcebook this reader may also be used as a stand alone text by those researching specific topics such as diversity issues conducting trainings or teaching advanced courses such as international social work Slow and Sudden Violence Derek Hyra,2024-08-06 Exposing the roots of racial unrest that consistently harm Black communities In Slow and Sudden Violence Derek Hyra links police violence to an ongoing cycle of racial and spatial urban redevelopment repression By delving into the real estate histories of St Louis and Baltimore he shows how housing and community development policies advance neighborhood inequality by segregating gentrifying and displacing Black communities Repeated decisions to upgrade the urban fabric and uproot low income Black populations have resulted in pockets of poverty inhabited by people experiencing displacement trauma and police surveillance These interconnected sets of divestments and accumulated frustrations have contributed to eruptions of violence in response to tragic unjust police killings To confront American unrest Hyra urges that we end racialized policing stop Black community destruction and displacement and reduce neighborhood inequality America Is the Prison Lee Bernstein,2010-06-01 In the 1970s while politicians and activists outside prisons debated the proper response to crime incarcerated people helped shape those debates though a broad range of remarkable political and literary writings Lee Bernstein explores the forces that sparked a dramatic prison art renaissance shedding light on how incarcerated people produced powerful works of writing performance and visual art These included everything from George Jackson s revolutionary Soledad Brother to Miguel Pinero s acclaimed off Broadway play and Hollywood film Short Eyes An extraordinary range of prison programs fine arts theater secondary education and prisoner run programs allowed the voices of prisoners to influence the Black Arts Movement the Nuyorican writers New Journalism and political theater among the most important aesthetic contributions of the decade By the 1980s and 90s prisoners educational and artistic programs were scaled back or eliminated as the war on crime escalated But by then these prisoners words had crossed over the wall helping many Americans to rethink the meaning of the walls themselves and ultimately the meaning of the society that produced them Race and Human Rights Curtis Stokes,2008-10-16 The terrorist attacks against U S targets on September 11

2001 and the subsequent wars in Afghanistan and Iraq sparked an intense debate about human rights According to contributors to this provocative book the discussion of human rights to date has been far too narrow They argue that any conversation about human rights in the United States must include equal rights for all residents Essays examine the historical and intellectual context for the modern debate about human rights the racial implications of the war on terrorism the intersection of racial oppression and the national security state Others look at the Pinkerton detective agency as a forerunner of the Federal Bureau of Investigation the role of Africa in post World War II American attempts at empire building and the role of immigration as a human rights issue Surveillance and Governance Mathieu Deflem, 2008-04-08 Presents insights in the sociological study of surveillance and governance in the context of criminal justice and other control strategies This volume provides a varied set of theoretical perspectives and substantive research domains on the qualities and quantities of some of the transformations of social control
