Policing Under Fire:

Policing Under Fire Ronald Weitzer, 1994-12-05 This book examines police community relations in an ethnically divided society focusing on the attitudes and experiences of the Catholic minority and the Protestant majority and the lower class and middle class sections of those populations These groups attach great importance to but are often polarized over issues of police accountability the handling of complaints against the police the legitimacy and professionalism of the police force the Royal Ulster Constabulary use of deadly force and the various forms of counterinsurgency policing which is preeminent in Northern Ireland The study specifies the conditions under which an ethnic group's relations with the police are likely to deteriorate or improve Comparisons to other societies make this more than a case study of Northern Ireland It is a major contribution to the literature on policing and ethnic conflict

Police Under Fire Ted Gottfried, 1999 The author discusses the work of the police and examines the delicate balance between allowing the police to do their work and keeping open an honest dialogue to prevent corruption and brutality by a small minority of officers Jacket Representations of Policing in Northern Irish Theatre T. W. Saunders, 2023-03-31 This monograph provides the first sustained chronological account of Northern Irish police officers representation in theatre Importantly its scope comprises a critical period of national and organisational development beginning with the Partition of Ireland in 1921 and the founding of the Royal Ulster Constabulary RUC one year later in 1922 It progresses through the relevant theatrical and historical events of the century through the period after the RUC's dissolution and replacement with the Police Service of Northern Ireland PSNI in 2001 and concludes in 2021 to coincide with the centenary of Partition As such this project is distinctive in its ability to trace paradigm shifts in perceptions of the police over time as they intersect with relevant historical events and milestones of political conflict in the province

Race and Policing in America Ronald Weitzer, Steven A. Tuch, 2006-06-12 Race and Policing in America is about relations between police and citizens with a focus on racial differences It utilizes both the authors own research and other studies to examine Americans opinions preferences and personal experiences regarding the police Guided by group position theory and using both existing studies and the authors own quantitative and qualitative data from a nationally representative survey of whites blacks and Hispanics this book examines the roles of personal experience knowledge of others experiences vicarious experience mass media reporting on the police and neighborhood conditions including crime and socioeconomic disadvantage in structuring citizen views in four major areas overall satisfaction with police in one's city and neighborhood perceptions of several types of police misconduct perceptions of police racial bias and discrimination and evaluations of and support for a large number of reforms in policing

Community Policing in Indigenous

Communities Mahesh K. Nalla, Graeme R. Newman, 2013-03-04 Indigenous communities are typically those that challenge the laws of the nation states of which they have become often very reluctantly a part Around the world community policing has emerged in many of these regions as a product of their physical environments and cultures Through a series of case studies Community Policing in Indigenous Communities explores how these often deeply divided societies operate under the community policing paradigm Drawing on the local expertise of policing practitioners and researchers across the globe the book explores several themes with regard to each region How community policing originated or evolved in the community and how it has changed over time The type of policing style used whether informal or formal and uniformed or non uniformed whether partnerships are developed with local community organizations or businesses and the extent of covert operations if any The role played by community policing in the region including the relative emphasis of calls for service the extent to which advice and help is offered to citizens whether local records are kept of citizen movement and locations and investigation and arrest procedures The community s special cultural or indigenous attributes that set it apart from other models of community policing Organizational attributes including status in the hierarchy of control within the regional or national organization of policing The positive and negative features of community policing as it is practiced in the community Its effectiveness in reducing and or preventing crime and disorder The book demonstrates that community policing cannot be imposed from above without grassroots input from local citizens It is a strategy not simply for policing with consent but for policing in contexts where there is often little if any consent It is an aspirational practice aimed to help police and communities within contested contexts to recognize that positive gains can be made enabling communities to live in relative safety

Policing in Israel Tal Jonathan-Zamir,David Weisburd,Badi Hasasi,2015-10-05 It is hoped that through this series it will be possible to accelerate the process of building knowledge about policing and help bridge the gap between the two worlds the world of police research and police practice This is an invitation to police scholars and practitioners across the world to come and join in this venture Dilip K Das PhD

Challenges of Policing Democracies Dilip Das,Marenin Otwin,2012-10-12 In this text the editors analyze the diverse situations that police forces operate under and the challenges that they face in different kinds of democracies This cross cultural comparison of various systems highlights the universal observation that police are a anomaly in a democracy and explores how various influences for example large scale social violence a zeal for crime fighting and vulnerability to temptation often find police incapable of behaving in a democratic manner Challenges of Policing Democracies goes beyond just showing the similarities and differences of the policing challenges democratic societies face it also examines the responses and remedies adopted by police in various countries at different levels of democratic achievement and how every society struggles with the challenges of preserving democratic values without sacrificing the effectiveness of policing      The Politics of Policing in Greater China Sonny Shiu-Hing Lo, 2016-11-21 This book examines the politics of policing in Greater China including mainland China Taiwan Hong Kong and Macao As the author shows police ideological indoctrination is strongest in mainland China followed by Hong Kong and Taiwan where the police is under increasing political stress in the aftermath of rising public protests and socio political movements Macao s police on the other hand is far less politicized and indoctrinated than their mainland Chinese counterpart This book demonstrates that policing in China is a distinctive and extensive topic as it involves not only crime control but also crisis management and protest control governance and corruption or anti corruption the management of customs and immigration the control over legal and illegal migrants the transfer of criminals and extradition and intergovernmental police cooperation and coordination As economic integration is increasing rapidly in Greater China this region s policing deserves special attention      Comparative Policing M. R. Haberfeld, Ibrahim Cerrah, 2007-12-17 A wonderful resource user friendly and very well written Timothy J Horohol John Jay College A unique approach to studying police forces around the globe How do police forces around the world move toward democratization of their operations and responses Analyzing police forces from 12 different countries Comparative Policing The Struggle for Democratization assesses the stages of each country based on the author s development of a Continuum of Democracy scale Key Features Using five basic themes this book uses the following criteria to rank and evaluate where each country falls on the continuum clarifying how policing practices differ History of a democratic form of government Level of corruption within governmental organizations and the oversight mechanisms in place Scope of and response to civil disobedience Organization structures of police departments Operational responses to terrorism and organized crime Intended Audience This unique analysis of policing is an ideal text for undergraduate and graduate courses in Comparative Criminal Justice Police Studies Policing and Society and Terrorism in departments of criminal justice criminology sociology and government      Policing Northern Ireland Aogan Mulcahy, 2013-06-17 This book provides an account and analysis of policing in Northern Ireland following the RUC Royal Ulster Constabulary from the start of the troubles in the 1960s up to 1999 It focuses on three key aspects of the police legitimization process reform measures which are implemented to redress a legitimacy crisis representational strategies which are invoked to offer positive images of policing and public responses to these various strategies The book also makes a powerful contribution to wider current debates about police legitimacy police community relations community resistance and conflict resolution      Policing in Hong Kong Kam C. Wong, 2015-10-12 This comprehensive book examines the state of research on policing in Hong Kong It surveys the history and development of the field of police studies in Hong Kong and examines the various methods problems and prospects in the field      Race, Ethnicity, and Policing Stephen K Rice, Michael D White, 2010-03-01 From Rodney King and driving while black to claims of targeting of undocumented Latino immigrants relationships surrounding race ethnicity and the police have faced great challenge Race Ethnicity and Policing

includes both classic pieces and original essays that provide the reader with a comprehensive even handed sense of the theoretical underpinnings methodological challenges and existing research necessary to understand the problems associated with racial and ethnic profiling and police bias This path breaking volume affords a holistic approach to the topic guiding readers through the complexity of these issues making clear the ecological and political contexts that surround them and laying the groundwork for future discussions The seminal and forward thinking twenty two essays clearly illustrate that equitable treatment of citizens across racial and ethnic groups by police is one of the most critical components of a successful democracy and that it is only when agents of social control are viewed as efficient effective and legitimate that citizens will comply with the laws that govern their society The book includes an introduction by Robin S Engel and contributions from leading scholars including Jeffrey A Fagan James J Fyfe Bernard E Harcourt Delores Jones Brown Ramiro Martinez Jr Karen F Parker Alex R Piquero Tom R Tyler Jerome H Skolnick Ronald Weitzer and many others The Crowned Harp Graham Ellison, Jim Smyth, 2000-05-20 This book is a detailed analysis of policing in Northern Ireland Tracing its history from 1922 Ellison and Smyth portray the Royal Ulster Constabulary RUC as an organisation burdened by its past as a colonial police force They analyse its perceived close relationship with unionism and why for many nationalists the RUC embodied the problem of the legitimacy of Northern Ireland arguing that decisions made on the organisation composition and ideology of policing in the early years of the state had consequences which went beyond the everyday practice of policing Examining the reorganisations of the RUC in the 1970s and 1980s Ellison and Smyth focus on the various structural legal and ideological components the professionalisation of the force and the development of a coherent if contradictory ideology

Globalization, Police Reform and Development G. Ellison, N. Pino, 2012-09-28 This volume presents a unique examination of Western led police reform efforts by theoretically linking neoliberal globalization police reform and development The authors present seven country case studies based on this theoretical and conceptual approach and assess the prospects for successful police reform in a global context Handbook on Gender and Public Sector Employment Hazel Conley, Paula Koskinen Sandberg, 2023-05-09 This incisive Handbook offers a timely and critical analysis of the gendered nature of public sector employment Bringing together key theoretical conceptual and empirical research from around the world Hazel Conley and Paula Koskinen Sandberg examine the ways in which female public sector workers experience intersectional discrimination in the workplace Inside an African Police Force Jude Kagoro, 2022-10-18 The book discusses police practices in Uganda which are understood as fluid and reflective of the socio political cognitive and discursive contexts within which the Uganda Police Force UPF exist The author was immersed in the UPF both as an ethnographer and a consultant The book demonstrates how police officers navigate clashes between personal interests and those of the UPF shedding more light on the divergences and convergences between policies in theory and policies in practice It contributes to the literature on police research especially to our understanding of policing and the anthropology of the state in Africa It highlights that the Ugandan police engages in political policing and its role is stretched beyond its legal mandate The target audience is twofold first academics interested in police studies and the undercurrents of interface bureaucracies in Africa Second practitioners focused on improving state and police services in African contexts

Police Use of Excessive Force against African Americans Ray Von Robertson, Cassandra D. Chaney, 2019-08-27 Robertson and Chaney examine how the early antecedents of police brutality like plantation overseers the lynching of African American males early race riots the Rodney King incident and the Los Angeles Rampart Scandal have directly impacted the current relationship between communities of color and police Using a phenomenological framework they analyze how African American college students perceive police to determine how race gender and education create different realities among a demographic Based on their qualitative and quantitative findings Robertson and Chaney offer recommended policies and strategies for police and communities to improve relationships and perceptions between the two

Contemporary Issues in American Policing Richard K. Moule Jr., Bryanna Fox, 2021-03-31 American law enforcement and the public's perception of police is a topic of growing interest among academics practitioners and policymakers From the 2014 events in Ferguson MO and the alleged Ferguson Effect to the debate over the impact of body worn cameras BWCs police militarization use of force and other practices that may alter the public's view of police legitimacy and procedural justice there is an increasing need for research addressing these contemporary issues in American policing This book presents the latest research on these topics as well as related topics noted in the Presidential Task Force on 21st Century Policing such as police use of technology transparency oversight and building trust with the community The studies contained in this book examine these issues by leveraging empirical data on policing public perceptions crime and diverse research methods to present high quality analysis of these timely and relevant topics in today's world The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Crime and Justice
