Policy Frameworks For A Knowledge Economy:

Policy Frameworks for a Knowledge Economy Thomas J. Courchene, John Deutsch Institute for the Study of Economic Policy, 1996 Continuing the focus of earlier volumes on ways in which economic growth globalization and nationalism are being forged and reshaped by growth in the knowledge based economy this fourth volume of the Bell Canada Papers on Economic and Public Policy explores policy frameworks for a knowledge economy from a variety of perspectives

Handbook on the Knowledge Economy David Rooney, Greg Hearn, Abraham Ninan, 2005 This fascinating Handbook defines how knowledge contributes to social and economic life and vice versa It considers the five areas critical to acquiring a comprehensive understanding of the knowledge economy the nature of the knowledge economy social cooperative cultural creative ethical and intellectual capital knowledge and innovation systems policy analysis for knowledge based economies and knowledge management In presenting the outcomes of an important body of research the Handbook enables knowledge policy and management practitioners to be more systematically guided in their thinking and actions The contributors cover a wide disciplinary spectrum in an accessible way presenting concise to the point discussions of critical concepts and practices that will enable practitioners to make effective research managerial and policy decisions They also highlight important new areas of concern to knowledge economies such as wisdom ethics language and creative economies that are largely overlooked Distinguished by a combination of practical relevance and analytical rigour this Handbook provides new insights into the basic mechanisms that constitute a knowledge economy and society and will be invaluable to practitioners and academics in diverse areas of interest including knowledge management innovation management knowledge policy social epistemology and development studies

Crafting Innovative Places for Australia's Knowledge Economy Edward J. Blakely, Richard Hu, 2019-01-07 This book integrates planning policy economics and urban design into an approach to crafting innovative places Exploring new paradigms of innovative places under the framework of globalisation urbanisation and new technology it argues against state centric policies to innovation and focuses on how a globalized approach can shape innovative capacity and competitiveness It notably situates the innovative place making paradigm in a broader context of globalisation urbanisation the knowledge economy and technological advancement and employs an international perspective that includes a wide range of case studies from America Europe Asia and Australia Developing a co design and co creation paradigm that integrates governments the private sector and the community into shared understanding and collaborative action in crafting innovative places it discusses place based innovation in Australian context to inform policy making and planning and to contribute to policy debates on programs of smart cities and communities

Japan, Moving Toward a More Advanced Knowledge Economy, 1 Tsutomu Shibata, 2006-01-01 These two volumes analyze Japan from the Knowledge Economy perspective covering a wide range of sectoral issues in development including the macro economic framework education and skills training the national innovation system science and technology information and communication technology and infrastructure While Volume 1 explores the four pillars of the Knowledge for Development framework the second volume presents up to date case studies of outstanding Japanese private companies that each characterize different aspects of the Knowledge Economy By combining economics and business these volumes allow readers to grasp the full scope of today's knowledge economy

Innovation in the Asia Pacific Thomas Clarke, Keun Lee, 2017-10-20 This book promotes the creation of advanced knowledge based economies driven by innovation networks and the continuous development of human capital and capability It provides valuable insights into the growing emergence of knowledge based industries of the Asia Pacific and highlights research on modes of creativity and innovation intellectual property the components of national innovation systems such as firms education and training knowledge and technical infrastructure and public policy The Asia Pacific region is currently in the process of transforming from being the manufacturing centre of the global economy to a centre of innovation for the knowledge economy with the successful IPO of Alibaba in 2014 being a prime example of this shift From a neo Schumpeterian perspective the region is increasingly engaged in shortening and intensifying cycles of innovation The historic agreement at the Beijing APEC meeting between China and the US to radically reduce carbon emissions indicates that one imperative of this innovation is to contribute to sustainability The fact that the US Government is moving away from this historic commitment while the Chinese Government is endorsing the commitment indicates an emerging opportunity for Asia to lead the world technologically in a vital industrial sector of the future

The Knowledge Economy and Lifelong Learning D.W. Livingstone, David Guile, 2012-09-07 This book presents some of the most trenchant critical analyses of the widespread claims for the recent emergence of a knowledge economy and the attendant need for greater lifelong learning The book contains two sections first general critiques of the limits of current notions of a knowledge economy and required adult learning in terms of historical comparisons socio political construction and current empirical evidence secondly specific challenges to presumed relations between work requirements and learning through case studies in diverse current workplaces that document richer learning processes than knowledge economy advocates intimate Many of the leading authors in the field are represented There are no other books to date that both critically assess the limits of the notion of the knowledge economy and examine closely the relation of workplace restructuring to lifelong learning beyond the confines of formal higher education and related educational policies This reader provides a distinctive overview for future studies of relations between work and learning in contemporary societies beyond caricatures of the knowledge economy The book should be of interest to students following undergraduate or postgraduate courses in most social sciences and education business and labour studies departments as well as to policy makers and the general public concerned about economic change and lifelong learning issues D W Livingstone is Canada Research Chair in Lifelong Learning and Work and Professor Emeritus at the Ontario Institute for Studies in Education University of Toronto David Guile is Professor of Education and Work at the Institute of Education University of London

The Routledge Research Companion to Energy

Geographies Stefan Bouzarovski, Martin J Pasqualetti, Vanesa Castán Broto, 2017-07-06 Energy has become a central concern of many strands of geographical inquiry from global climate change to the effects of energy decisions on our lives. However, many aspects of the black box of relationships at the energy society interface remain unopened, especially in terms of the spatial underpinnings of energy production and consumption within nations, cities and regions. Debates focusing on the location and nature of energy flows frequently fail to consider the multiple geographical networks that illustrate and explain the distribution of fuels and services around the world. Providing an integrated perspective on the complex interdependencies between energy and geography, The Routledge Research Companion to Energy Geographies offers a timely conceptual framework to study the multiple facets of energy geography including security, space and place, planning, environmental science, economics and political science. Illustrating how a geographic approach towards energy can aid decision making pathways in the domains of social justice and environment, this book provides insights that will help move the international community toward greater cooperation, stability and sustainability.

Routledge Handbook of the Economics of Knowledge Cristiano Antonelli, Albert Link, 2014-12-05 The Routledge Handbook of the Economics of Knowledge provides a comprehensive framework to integrate the advancements over the last 20 years in the analysis of technological knowledge as an economic good and in the static and dynamic characteristics of its generation process. There is a growing consensus in the field of economics that technological knowledge in particular is one of the most relevant resources of wealth, yet it is one of the most difficult and complex activities to understand or even to conceptualize. The economics of knowledge is an emerging field that explores the generation, exploitation and dissemination of technological knowledge. Technological knowledge cannot any longer be regarded as a homogenous good that stems from standardized generation processes. Quite the opposite, technological knowledge appears more and more to be a basket of heterogeneous items, resources and even experiences. All of these sources, which are both internal and external to the firm, are complementary, as is the interplay between a bottom up and top down generation processes. In this context, the interactions between the public research system, private research laboratories and various networks of learning processes within and among firms play a major role in the creation of technological knowledge. In this Handbook, special attention is given to the relationship among technological knowledge and both upstream scientific knowledge and related downstream resources. By addressing the antecedents and consequences of technological knowledge from both an upstream and downstream perspective, this Handbook will become an indispensable tool for scholars and practitioners aiming to master the generation and the use of technological knowledge.

Hub Cities in the Knowledge Economy Ben Derudder, Frank Witlox, 2016-05-13 The overarching research topic addressed in this book is the complex and multifaceted interaction between infrastructural accessibility, connectivity of city regions on the one hand and knowledge generation in these city regions on the other hand. To this end, the book brings together chapters analysing how infrastructural accessibility is related to changing patterns of business location of knowledge intensive industries in city regions The chapters in this book specifically dwell on recent manifestations of and developments in the accessibility knowledge nexus with a particular metageographical focus on how this materializes in major city regions In the different chapters this shifting relation is broached from different perspectives seaports airports brainports at different scales ranging from global scale analyses to case studies and by adopting a variety of methodologies straddling the wide variety of methodological approaches currently adopted in human geography research Researchers contributing to this edited volume come from different scholarly backgrounds sociology human geography regional planning which allows for a varied treatise of this research topic EAdoption and the Knowledge Economy Paul Cunningham,Miriam

Cunningham,2004 This book brings together a comprehensive collection on commercial government or societal exploitation of the Internet and ICT representing cutting edge research from over 30 countries The issues applications and case studies presented facilitate knowledge sharing which is key to addressing global eAdoption issues and the Digital Divide It can be used to benchmark regional and national developments avoid previous mistakes and identify potential partners and exploitation opportunities Preface Knowledge Production and Contradictory Functions in African Higher

The Role of Universities in the Europe 2020 Strategy Alessandra Ricciardelli, 2017-10-31 This book provides a unique study of the role of universities as organisation systems in the pursuit of the Europe 2020 strategy While Europe 2020 focuses on creating the basis for the advancement and cohesion of the EU's member states it also has an important role in influencing the development strategies for potential candidate states In this regard the book examines two new member states Slovenia and Croatia and two potential EU candidate states Serbia and Kosovo in the Western Balkans Based on these cases the author argues that the operationalization of the Europe 2020 strategy depends to a great extent of the role and contribution of tertiary organisations such as educational institutions i.e public and private universities and therefore requires the formulation of an economic development strategy at the national level that is capable of duly allocating the available financial resources The study suggests that the paradigm shift represented by Europe 2020 has helped to forge a new academic identity adding to the relevance of university organisations as fundamental agents for the promotion of economic development in addition it shows that an intensive learning process involving major structural changes is underway in the four countries discussed as well as many other EU member states
