Inclusive Education in African Contexts Nareadi Phasha,Dikeledi Mahlo,George J. Sefa Dei,2017-04-13 How do we articulate the possibilities limitations and challenges of inclusive schooling and education in African contexts This book insists that inclusive education cannot be taken for granted Inclusion is neither a natural nor a given educational practice It must be struggled for Bringing a critical perspective to inclusive schooling and education is imperative This book adds to current educational debates with an African lens It engages inclusive education from multiple lenses of curriculum content classroom pedagogy and instruction representation culture environment and the socio organization life of schools the pursuit of equity and social justice and the search for educational relevance It is opined that Africa cannot be left behind in rethinking educational inclusion in ways that evoke critical questions of power equity and social difference The question of learner s identity in terms of class gender sexuality disability language ethnicity and race are equally consequential for African schooling and education When inclusion is understood as wholeness of education then how schooling and education engage the complete learner her his body mind soul and spirit as well as the use of local community and Indigenous knowledges in teaching and learning become relevant Inclusion stands the risk of liberal educational agendas that simply tinker or toy with schooling and education and hardly embrace the challenge of educational change What we need is a fundamental structural change that ensures schooling and education embraces difference while grappling with the teaching of Indigeneity decolonization and resistance

Exclusion from and Within School Alison Kearney,2011-11-19 As societies become more diverse so too must they become more inclusive In inclusive societies all members regardless of their ethnicity religion socio economic status ability or disability are valued and free to participate and there is equity of access and reward Schools have a powerful role to play in creating inclusive societies and this begins with the notion of inclusive schools schools where all children belong where all children have a place and where difference is a natural part of what it is to be a human being Based on this understanding many countries around the world are moving towards more inclusive education systems However working against inclusive education are forces of exclusion factors that act to exclude and marginalize minority students from participation and learning at school Therefore in order to progress the principles and practices of inclusive education an examination of the construct of exclusion is critical Important questions to be interrogated if inclusive education is to be a reality are What is exclusion Why does it occur How can it be reduced and eliminated This book critically examines the construct of exclusion exploring how disabled students experience exclusion both from and within school and suggesting reasons why this occurs Finally key foci for change are proposed as platforms for interrogating reducing and eliminating the forces of exclusion
