Cinema in the Cold War Cyril Buffet, 2017-10-02 The film industry was an important propaganda element during the Cold War As with other conflicts the Cold War was fought not just with weapons but with words and images Throughout the conflict cinema was a reflection of the societies the ideologies and the political climates in which the films were produced On both sides great stars major companies famous scriptwriters and filmmakers were enlisted to help the propaganda effort It was not only propaganda that was created by the cinema of the Cold War it also articulated criticism and the movie industries were centres of the fabrication of modern myths The cinema was undoubtedly a place of Cold War confrontation and rivalry and yet there were aesthetic technical narrative exchanges between West and East All genres of film contributed to the Cold War thrillers westerns comedies musicals espionage films documentaries cartoons science fiction historical dramas war films and many more These films shaped popular culture and national identities creating vivid characters like James Bond Alec Leamas Harry Palmer and Rambo While the United States and the Soviet Union were the two main protagonists in this on screen duel other countries such as Britain Germany Poland

Britain and Poland 1939-1943 Anita Prazmowska, 1995-03-23 Poland was a problematic issue for the Big Powers throughout the Second World War For Britain Poland was a major stumbling block in British Soviet relations as Polish Soviet territorial disputes clashed with the needs of the British Soviet United States alliance As the Polish government in exile attempted to obtain a guarantee of British support and many thousands of Polish troops fought for the British cause the perception grew that the Churchill government had a debt to pay Ultimately however it was a debt which Britain could not discharge because of its dependence on Soviet participation in the war In this book Anita Prazmowska looks at British policies from the point of view of wartime strategy relating this to Polish government expectations and policies She describes a tragic situation where Polish soldiers were trapped between the grandiose and unrealistic plans of their government and the harsh realities of a war which they fought with no prospect of a satisfactory outcome for them or their country

The Demise of the Soviet Communist Party Atsushi Ogushi, 2007-11-02 This book based on extensive original research in previously unexplored sources including the party archives provides a great deal of new information on the disintegration of the Soviet communist party in 1991 and the preceding years It argues that contrary to prevailing views the party was reformable in late Soviet times but that attempts to reform it failed reforms succeeded in preventing the party interfering in the state body and thereby abolished the party's traditional administrative functions but without creating an alternative power centre and without transforming the party from a vanguard party into a parliamentary party It demonstrates that the party having ceased to offer career paths for aspiring party members thereby lost its reason for existence that an exodus of party members then followed which in turn caused a financial crisis and that this financial crisis and the resulting engagement in commercial activity fragmented and dispersed party property It shows how the failed coup of 1991 was led by the military rather than the party and how having lost its reason for existence and its property the party had no choice but to accept the reality that it was de facto dead
