Political Collapse Of Europe:

The Political Collapse of Europe Hajo Holborn, 1968 Negative Aesthetics and Political Collapse in Eastern European and Balkan Cinema Zoran Samardzija, 2025-07-18

Negative Aesthetics and Political Collapse in Eastern European and Balkan Cinema examines the theme of political collapse in select contemporary Eastern European and Balkan art cinema and documentaries from the late eighties to the present. Engaging with debates in Marxism and contemporary film theory about political aesthetics, the book centers around the question of whether we can imagine possible futures through negative aesthetics which are skeptical of cinema's ability to reproduce reality in a comprehensive and unmediated manner. In particular, it analyzes examples of ambiguous art cinema and related hybrid documentary modes in order to invite spectators to rethink how we understand and represent the unique experiences of living through the collapse of authoritarian communism and the transition to neoliberal capitalism. Negative Aesthetics and Political Collapse ultimately argues that the skepticism about political change and representing history found in these films forms an original mode of utopian thinking. In other words, their negativity about their own artistic autonomy is the very thing that allows them to hint at possible futures that are unrepresentable because they exist outside of the frameworks of contemporary geopolitics and our dominant understandings of cinematic aesthetics. Redefining how we understand the intersections between geopolitics, art cinema aesthetics, and film theory, the book presents a unique synthesis of film and political theory that attempts a new understanding of cinematic aesthetics. As such, it will interest scholars of film theory, global art cinema aesthetics, regional studies of Eastern Europe and the Balkans, and political science.

Political Catholicism in Europe 1918-1945 Wolfram Kaiser, Helmut Wohnout, 2004. This book examines the role of Catholic parties in interwar Europe from a systematically pan-European comparative perspective. Specific country chapters address key questions about the parties' membership and social organization, their economic and social policies, and their European and international policies at a time of increasing national and ethnic conflict. The book includes two survey chapters explaining the origins of political Catholicism in 19th-century Europe and comparing the parties' interwar development, and two chapters on transnational party contacts. Along with its companion volume, Christian Democracy in Europe Since 1945, also published in 2004, students will have an abundance of information to guide them through their studies on this fascinating subject.

Human Rights and Political Dissent in Central Europe Jakub Tyszkiewicz, 2021-12-06. This volume examines to what extent the positive atmosphere created by the Helsinki Accords contributed to the change in political circumstances seen in the countries of Central Europe under Soviet domination. It focuses in particular on firstly, a consequent new impetus to bolster human rights in international politics as Western democracies, especially the US, integrated human rights concerns into its foreign policy relations with Soviet Bloc countries, and secondly, how this Western embrace of human rights seemed to create new incentives for increased dissident activity in Central and Eastern Europe, and from 1976 onward. Finally, the book reminds us of the significant role of the Helsinki Accords.

contemporary issues such as the impact of events in Yugoslavia the changing relationship with the US and British membership of the single currency The Political Economy and Media Coverage of the European Economic Crisis Julien Mercille, 2014-08-27 The European economic crisis has been ongoing since 2008 and while austerity has spread over the continent it has failed to revive economies The media have played an important ideological role in presenting the policies of economic and political elites in a favourable light even if the latter's aim has been to shift the burden of adjustment onto citizens This book explains how and why using a critical political economic perspective and focusing on the case of Ireland Throughout Ireland is compared with contemporary and historical examples to contextualise the arguments made The book covers the housing bubble that led to the crash the rescue of financial institutions by the state the role of the European institutions and the International Monetary Fund austerity and the possibility of leaving the eurozone for Europe's peripheral countries Through a systematic analysis of Ireland's main newspapers it is argued that the media reflect elite views and interests and downplay alternative policies that could lead to more progressive responses to the crisis The European Court's Political Power Karen Alter, 2010-06-17 Karen Alter's work on the European Court of Justice heralded a new level of sophistication in the political analysis of the controversial institution through its combination of legal understanding and active engagement with theoretical questions The European Court's Political Power assembles the most important of Alter's articles written over a fourteen year span adding an original new introduction and conclusion taking an overview of the Court's development and current concerns Together the articles provide insight into the historical and political contours of the ECJ's influence on European politics explaining how and why the same institution can have such a varying impact across time and issue area The book starts with the European Coal and Steel Community where the ECJ was largely unable to facilitate greater member state respect for ECSC rules Alter then shows how legal actors orchestrated an activist transformation of the European legal system with the critical aid of jurist advocacy movements and via the co-optation national courts The transformation of the European legal system wrested from member states control over the meaning of European law but the ECJ continues to have differential influence across issue area Alter explains that different influence of the ECJ comes from the varied extent to which sub and supra national actors turn to the ECJ to achieve political objectives Looking beyond the European experience the book includes four chapters that put the ECJ into a comparative perspective examining the extent to which the ECJ experience is unique or a harbinger of the future role international courts may play in international and comparative politics The Impact of Illness on World Leaders Bert E. Park, M.D., 2016-11-11 In The Impact of Illness on World Leaders Bert E Park explores the relationship between leadership and neurologic illness Basing his study on a rigorous examination of primary and secondary source material from medicine history and political science Park diagnoses illnesses which affected the thinking and actions of Anthony Eden and Adolf Hitler among others He discusses the historical situations in which these political leaders functioned and the effects their illnesses might have had on the decisions they made Park argues that the impact of aging and disease on leadership abilities is an important potentially devastating problem which has been ignored by the people in a position to deal with it Physicians who attend men in power supported by government officials and politicians often disguise their patients infirmities and keep them in office long after they are able to function effectively In those few instances when the problem has been addressed it has often been done by journalists or other persons not qualified to make a medical judgment about a leader's health and they have relayed erroneous information e.g. the myth of Hitler's syphilis Part of the goal of The Impact of Illness on World Leaders is to correct such popular misconceptions Park concludes his study of leadership and illness with suggestions for monitoring the health of leaders and deposing them if their health compromises their ability to lead Western Europe 2003 Europa Publications, 2002-11-30 This edition brings together analyses statistics and directory data on the countries and territories of Western Europe

Political Violence in Twentieth-Century Europe Donald Bloxham, Robert Gerwarth, 2011-03-10 This is a comprehensive history of political violence during Europe's incredibly violent twentieth century Leading scholars examine the causes and dynamics of war revolution counterrevolution genocide ethnic cleansing terrorism and state repression They locate these manifestations of political violence within their full transnational and comparative contexts and within broader trends in European history from the beginning of the dissolution of the Ottoman Empire in the late nineteenth century through the two world wars to the Yugoslav Wars and the rise of fundamentalist terrorism The book spans a greater Europe stretching from Ireland and Iberia to the Baltic the Caucasus Turkey and the southern shores of the Mediterranean It sheds new light on the extent to which political violence in twentieth century Europe was inseparable from the generation of new forms of state power and their projection into other societies be they distant territories of imperial conquest or ones much closer to home

The History of the European Union Giuliano Amato, Enzo Moavero-Milanesi, Gianfranco Pasquino, Lucrezia Reichlin, 2019-02-07 The European Union celebrated its 60th anniversary in 2017 but celebrations were muted by Brexit and the growing sense of a crisis of identity However as this seminal work shows the history and ambition of the European Union are considerable Written by key stakeholders who between them acted as architects adjudicators and arbitrators of the project it presents the definitive history of the first two generations of the European Union This book revisits the birth and consolidation of the great project of a united Europe and the political institutional judicial and economical frameworks of the European Union from the process towards integration to the advancements and the impasses in building a political union

Desolation and Enlightenment Ira Katznelson, 2003 During and especially after the Second World War a group of leading scholars who had been perilously close to the war's devastation joined others fortunate enough to have been protected by distance in an effort to redefine and reinvigorate Western liberal ideals for a radically new age Treating evil as an analytical category they sought to discover the sources of twentieth century horror and the potentialities of the modern state in the wake of western desolation In the process they devised strikingly new ways to understand politics sociology and history that reverberate still In this major intellectual history Ira Katznelson examines the works of Hannah Arendt Robert Dahl Richard Hofstadter Harold Lasswell Charles Lindblom Karl Polanyi and David Truman detailing their engagement with the larger project of reclaiming the West's moral bearing In light of their epoch's calamities these intellectuals insisted that the tradition of Enlightenment thought required a new realism a good deal of renovation and much recommitment This array of historians political philosophers and social scientists understood that a simple reassertion of liberal modernism had been made radically insufficient by the enormities and moral catastrophes of war totalitarianism and holocaust Confronting their period's dashed hopes for reason and knowledge they asked not just whether the Enlightenment should define modernity but which Enlightenment we should wish to have Decades later in the midst of a new type of war and reanimated discussions of the concept of evil we share no small stake in assessing their successes and limitations
