Political Leadership And Educational Failure:

Political Leadership and Educational Failure Seymour B. Sarason, 1998-03-06 In this work Seymour Sarason takes a penetrating look at the ways in which our political leaders no matter how well intentioned so often frustrate school improvement and what must change if they are to instead advance it Sarason calls on political leaders to ask the important questions Why has the expenditure of billions of dollars had such disappointing consequences Why do apparently successful educational innovations not spread to other schools in the same district and often not even to other classrooms in the same school Why is it that as students go from elementary to middle to high school they become increasingly bored and indifferent What do we know about the adequacy of the programs that prepare educators Asking these and other vital questions Sarason contends is the first step politicians must take toward solving the problems in our educational system Political Leadership and Educational Failure Sarason, 1998-03-01 Political Contexts of Educational Leadership Jane Lindle, 2014-02-24 Co published with UCEA this exciting new textbook is the first to tackle the ISLLC Standard 6 the political context of education This unique volume helps aspiring school leaders understand the dynamics of educational policy in multiple arenas at the local state and federal levels Leaders are responsible for promoting the success of every student by understanding responding to and influencing the political social economic legal and cultural contexts in which education and learning reside Featuring Case studies and Suggested activities this book provides an authentic illustration of the political dynamics that emanate from individual social economic and cultural issues surrounding all schools and further aspiring school leaders understanding of political issues through experiences By presenting problem posing cases theoretical grounding relevant research and implications for practice this book provides aspiring leaders with the background learning experiences and analytical tools to successfully promote student success in their contexts Companion website includes shared resources relevant to all ISLLC standards along with particular activities for ISLLC Standard 6 Educational Reform Seymour Bernard Sarason, 2002-07-25 Professor Sarason candidly confronts his errors of omission and commission mistakes and emphases in his half century involvement in educational reform No other major figure in this arena has made public such a searching self critique Sharing his thoughts about the future of education Sarason discusses his thinking on charter schools productive learning motivation high stakes testing the need for teachers to relate differently to each other and to parents the importance of working through change and the mistaken idea that we can clone reforms Although written before the September 11th World Trade Center tragedy the last chapter of this book is extraordinarily relevant to the subsequent national importance of societal values and responsible citizenship Although this is a deliberately personally revealing book Sarason's self scrutiny will be stimulating and invaluable to anyone interested in reform as concept action and values The Skeptical Visionary Seymour Bernard Sarason, 2003 Seymour Sarason in the words of Carl Glickman is one of America's seminal thinkers about public education For over four decades he has been a voice of much needed skepticism about our plans for school reform teacher training and educational psychology Now for the first time Sarason's essential writings on these and other issues are collected together offering student and researcher alike with the range depth and originality of Sarason's contributions to American thinking on schooling As we go from debate to debate on issues such as school choice charter schools inclusive education national standards and other problems that seem to drag on without solution Sarason's critical stance on the folly of many of our attempts to fix schools has always had at the center a concern for the main players in our educational institutions the students the teachers and the parents Any plans that cannot account for their well being are doomed to failure And in the face of such failure the clarity of Sarason's vision for real educational success is a much needed antidote to much of the rhetoric that currently passes for substantial debate A wide ranging and comprehensive selection of Sarason's most significant writings The Skeptical Visionary should find a prized space on any student's or teacher's bookshelf Author note Robert Friedis Associate Professor in the School of Education at Northeastern University and is the author of The Passionate Teacher A Practical Guide and The Passionate Learner How Teachers and Parents Can Help Children Reclaim the Joy of Discovery Seymour Sarason is Professor Emeritus in the Department of Psychology at Yale University He is the author of over forty books and is considered to be one of the most significant researchers in education and educational psychology in the country their communities One of the most original successful and influential of these parent led campaigns has been the Community Collaborative to Improve District 9 CC9 a consortium of six neighborhood based groups in the Bronx In Organizing for Educational Justice Michael B Fabricant tells the story of CC9 from its origins in 1995 as a small group of concerned parents to the citywide application of its reform agenda concentrating on targeted investment in the development of teacher capacity ten years later Drawing on in depth interviews with participants analysis of qualitative data and access to meetings and archives Fabricant evaluates CC9 s innovative approach to organizing and collaboration with other stakeholders including the United Federation of Teachers the NYC Department of Education neighborhood nonprofits and city colleges and universities Situating this case within a wider exploration of parent participation in educational reform Fabricant explains why CC9 succeeded and other parent led movements did not He also examines the ways in which the movement effectively empowered parents by rigorously ensuring a democratic process in making decisions and more broadly an inclusive organizational culture As urban parents across America search for ways to hold public schools accountable for their failures this book shows how the success of the CC9 experience can be replicated elsewhere around the country Educational Leadership Bruce A.
