Political Thought and Political History Moshe Gammer, 2004-08-02 This volume is limited to contributions by Professor Kedourie's previous students. It reveals the far reaching range of his interests and the immense expanse of his horizons. The first part deals with philosophy, political thought and ideology and the second with history and politics. Elie Kedourie's Approaches to History and Political Theory Sylvia Kedourie, 2013-10-18 Elie Kedourie was one of the twentieth century's most important and controversial historians of the Middle East. He redefined the landscape of the field by challenging the notion that the West's imperial domination of the region spawned nationalism in Arab countries. In a long career lecturing in politics at the London School of Economics, Kedourie inspired a generation of political scientists and politicians. A dedicated scholar and meticulous teacher, he founded Middle Eastern Studies, a journal which forty years after its launch remains one of the leading publications in the field and a monument to his work. Bringing together some of the most distinguished figures in Middle Eastern studies, this collection evaluates Kedourie's contribution to Middle Eastern history and political thought and assesses the impact of his scholarly legacy. The volume contains a complete bibliography of his writing and was previously published as a special issue of Middle Eastern Studies. Democracy and Pluralism in Muslim Eurasia Yaacov Ro'i, 2004-11-23 This book is devoted to the study and analysis of the prospects for democracy among the Muslim ethnicities of the Commonwealth of Independent States (CIS), both those that have acquired full independence and those remaining within the Russian Federation. The nineteen Western academics and scholars from the Muslim countries and regions of the CIS who contribute to this volume view the establishment of democratic institutions in this region in the context of a wide and complex range of influences: above all, the Russian/Soviet political legacy, native ethnic political culture and tradition, the Islamic faith, and the growing polarity between Western civilization and the Muslim world. Teachers as State-Builders Hilary Falb Kalisman, 2022-09-20 The little known history of public school teachers across the Arab world and how they wielded an unlikely influence over the modern Middle East. Today it is hard to imagine a time and place when public school teachers were considered among the elite strata of society. But in the lands controlled by the Ottomans and then by the British in the early and mid twentieth century, teachers were key players in government and leading formulators of ideologies. Drawing on archival research and oral histories, Teachers as State Builders brings to light educators outsize role in shaping the politics of the modern Middle East Hilary Falb Kalisman tells the story of the few young Arab men and fewer young Arab women who were lucky enough to teach public school in the territories that became Iraq Jordan and Palestine Israel Crossing Ottoman provincial and later Mandate and national borders for work and study these educators were advantageously positioned to assume mid and even high level administrative positions in multiple government bureaucracies All told over one third of the prime ministers who served in Iraq from the 1950s through the 1960s and in Jordan from the 1940s through the early 1970s were former public school teachers a trend that changed only when independence occupation and mass education degraded the status of teaching The first history of education across Britain s Middle Eastern Mandates this transnational study reframes our understanding of the profession of teaching the connections between public education and nationalism and the fluid politics of the interwar Middle East

Community, Identity and the State Moshe Gammer, 2004-08-27 The studies in this volume originated from an international conference on Community Identity and the State held at Tel Aviv University in 2001 The first two chapters examine whether modernisation Westernisation and democratisation are identical and whether democracy is connected to a certain specific type of social structure The third examines similarities in the political economic and social development of Second World and Third World countries while the fourth discusses the relationship between criminal and normal structures in Russian society Subsequent chapters focus on nationalism using case studies from Argentina Syria and Morocco on the Ulama and national movements in the Middle East on Islamic nationalism in Iran and on the discourse between pan Africanism and Islam The final two chapters examine the effects on tribal politics of the exploitation of oil in Abu Dhabi and the problems of the Kurds in northern Iraq

The Caspian Region, Volume 1 Moshe Gammer, 2004-06-25 Following the dissolution of the Soviet Union in the 1990s new states most of them muslim emerged in central Asia and the Caucasus These new states proved to be both oil rich and central in the strip of conflict and instability that stretches from central Europe to the Far East This volume draws attention to previously neglected issues which could result in conflict the water problem and negotiation in central Asia the issues of Southern Azerbaijan Ajaria and Javakheti the many problems of multi ethnic Daghestan two attempts at unity in the Northern Caucasus The book also re examines some of the established truths regarding the states around the Caspian Sea and re evaluates the validity of the term Caspian region and the question of who should be included in this new region the general belief that the Caspian region will be a geopolitical centre of the 21st century the axiom that the dissolution of the USSR has reopened the Great Game Moreover The Caspian Region thoughtfully re examines the questions of democracy of fundamentalist Islam and of the complex ambivalent relationship between Islam and nationalism in the region

Ethno-Nationalism, Islam and the State in the Caucasus Moshe Gammer, 2007-10-22 The region of the Caucasus with its ongoing and even deteriorating crises and instability and its critical strategic and economic importance is increasingly at the focus of the world s attention This book discusses the complexities and interplay among important forces at work in the region including different brands of Islam nationalisms ethnic identities local bureaucracies Moscow's policies and influences from the outside

Educating Palestine Yoni Furas, Jonathan Haim Furas, 2020 This study reframes our understanding of the Palestinian and Zionist national movements arguing that Palestinian and Hebrew pedagogy could only be truly understood through an analysis of the conscious or unconscious dialogue between them by examining the way Arabs and Zionists thought taught and wrote about their past

Arab Intellectuals and American Power M.D.

Walhout, 2020-10-01 Edward Said the famous Palestinian American scholar and activist was one of the twentieth century's most iconic public intellectuals whose pioneering and to some controversial work on Orientalism shaped Middle Eastern and postcolonial studies and beyond But how exactly did he arrive at his famous maxim to speak truth to power This dual biographical study examines the lives of Edward Said and the eminent Lebanese philosopher and diplomat Charles Malik a distant relative 30 years his senior whom Said knew from childhood as Uncle Charles To Said Malik was no ordinary relative in his memoir he called Malik the great negative intellectual lesson of my life and was to describe him as an ideal as I was growing up only to later claim Malik went through an ugly transformation that I could never come to terms with M D Walhout charts the development of these two remarkable figures reconstructing in the process the way in which American power in the Middle East came to have a defining effect on Arab intellectuals in the twentieth century Exploring issues of religion and nationalism Walhout shows how Said came to reject much of what Malik stood for Christian faith hardline anti Communism and the benign nature of American power He argues that the example of Malik was instrumental in the development of Said's later belief that the true vocation of the intellectual was not to compromise with power but to resist it

History

Education in Lebanon and the Borders of the Nation Bouchra Saab, 2025-09-01 This study shows that widely used history textbooks in Lebanon are more standardized and censored than in most liberal democratic countries and relatively similar in form and content to textbooks from Syria and Iraq A diversity of historical narratives has progressively converged into one dominant narrative which entails a standard definition of the self In contrast the other is defined through the exclusion of religious groups considered exogenous and ethnicities considered inferior In addition women are marginalized Surprisingly the textbooks affiliated with Hezbollah a Shiite militia financed by the Iranian regime depart to a certain extent from this definition While most previous research on Lebanese history textbooks has focused on the diverging narratives of religious communities this study views these textbooks as the outcome of a tension between two major forces educational traditions on the one hand and contemporary politics on the other

The Caspian Region, Volume 2 Moshe

Gammer, 2004-06-25 The Caspian Region Volume 2 together with Volume 1 offers new issues and approaches to give readers a fuller understanding of this part of the world as well as correcting some erroneous notions

Is Non-western Democracy Possible?: A Russian Perspective Alexei D Voskressenski, 2017-05-19 This book with theoretical and practical analyses of comparative political systems of Eastern countries Asia and Africa their political process and political cultures describes and analyses the influence of political culture on political process in the Eastern world It gives readers an opportunity to make a comparative appraisal of maturity of civil society in these countries as well as their specifics in political interactions and internal political competition seen through the eyes of a group of distinguished Russian researchers The book concentrates also on specifics of political economic and political modernization in the East and assesses the prospects of an emergence of a Western as well as a non Western democracy in the framework of Eastern political transformations It also explains why the one dimensional spread of democracy completely negating or neglecting regional political cultural specifics may lead to war among civilizations instead of the formation of a more just and fair system of democratic governance

The Muslim World Book Review ,2003 Journal of South Asian and Middle Eastern Studies ,2003 Bulletin of the School of Oriental and African Studies, University of London University of London. School of Oriental and African Studies,2004 Jewish Year Book 2004 Emanuela Trevisan Semi,2004 The Jewish Year Book 2004 provides an impressive comprehensive and up to date record of the organizations people and events in the contemporary Jewish world Updated yearly and meticulously edited to provide the latest up to date information it includes contact details for Jewish institutions local and international organizations details on leading Jewish personalities obituaries and major events as well as principal festivals and fasts There is also a detailed calendar including the Jewish calendar for thirty years and evening twilight regional variations

The Lone Wolf and the Bear M. Gammer,2006 The two Russo Chechen wars 1994 6 and 1999 onwards have brought the country and its people to the centre of world attention most recently when separatists stormed a Moscow theatre taking hundreds of people hostage This book takes a different approach from most studies published on Chechnya arguing that fully to grasp the significance and meaning of recent events one has to study them from a long historical perspective Since Chechen nationalists regard the wars of the 1990s onwards as part of a three hundred year long war between them and Russia The Lone Wolf and the Bear takes the Russo Chechen confrontation back to Moscow s first attempts to expand into the Caucasus in the sixteenth century While concentrating on the Chechen struggle its evolution and many causes the book also tracks change within Chechen society following contact with Russia the various and unexpected forms of modernisation Russification and Sovietisation the way these moulded Chechen self perceptions and the nature of their struggle and its contribution to Chechen defiance of Russian power Dr Moshe Gammer is Senior Lecturer at the Department of Middle Eastern and African History Tel Aviv University He is the author of Muslim Resistance to the Tsar Shamil and the Conquest of Chechnya and Daghestan London 1994 and of many articles on the history and current events of the Caucasus Central Asia and the Middle East

Sites of Jewish Memory Glenda Abramson,2018-10-24 This book brings together a collection of 16 essays first published in the Journal of Modern Jewish Studies that explore Jewish communities in North Africa Turkey and Iraq The discussions are located primarily in the 20th century but essays also examine the Jewish community in 16th century Istanbul and in early modern Morocco Topics include traumatic departures of communities from countries of centuries old

Jewish residence and relocations pilgrimages to holy sites by Mizrahi Jews in Israel resonances of Shabbetai Zevi in Turkey and Morocco otherness and the nature of homeland the Sephardi culinary heritage as realised in the cookbooks of Claudia Roden sites of memory such as Kuzguncuk in Turkey and a controversial view of the exclusions and erasures that Arabized Jews have undergone In this unique collection a major but not exclusive theme is that of the instability of memory and the attempt to understand the interactions between memory and history as Jews recount their experiences of living in and often leaving their past homelands This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Modern Jewish Studies
