The Political Paul Bruno Blumenfeld, 2003-11-01 The Political Paul presents Paul as a political thinker Many studies claiming Paul for Greek Hellenism discuss the influence upon him of various aspects of Hellenistic culture but strangely neglect Hellenistic political philosophy with its roots in Classical antiquity The Political Paul explores this dimension of Paul's thought within the general context of Hellenistic political reflection to focus on the intriguing body of literature known as the Pythagorean pseudepigrapha These researches support the highly original argument that Christianity has foundations in Hellenistic kingship theories Paul constructs a political theory for Christianity He conceives it as a polis basileia system politics proper and divine rule each with its own dikaiosyne this the study re evaluates as a political concept The

Political Paul Bruno Blumenfeld, 2003 The Political Paul presents Paul as a political thinker Many studies claiming Paul for Greek Hellenism discuss the influence upon him of various aspects of Hellenistic culture but strangely neglect Hellenistic political philosophy with its roots in Classical antiquity The Political Paul explores this dimension of Paul's thought within the general context of Hellenistic political reflection to focus on the intriguing body of literature known as the Pythagorean pseudepigrapha These researches support the highly original argument that Christianity has foundations in Hellenistic kingship theories The Politics of Inheritance in Romans Mark Forman, 2011-04-21 Mark Forman explores the extent to which Paul's concept of inheritance in Romans and its associated imagery logic and arguments served to evoke socio political expectations that were different to those which prevailed in contemporary Roman imperial discourse Forman explores how Paul deploys the idea of inheritance in Romans and analyses the sources which inform and overlap with this concept Coins literature and architecture are all examined in order to understand the purpose hopes and expectations of first century society This book contributes to recent studies covering Paul and politics by arguing that Paul's concept of inheritance subverts and challenges first century Roman ideologies Bowing before Christ - Nodding to the State? Dorothea H.

Bertschmann, 2014-07-31 Does the apostle Paul sponsor political conservatism A growing number of scholars dispute this perception arguing that Paul's political imagery and in particular the confession that Jesus Christ is Lord directly challenge the proud Roman emperor This book critically engages these proposals seeking to point out with greater precision the function of political imagery within the Pauline narrative Dorothea H Bertschmann starts by conversing with the works of John Howard Yoder and Oliver O Donovan two modern political ethicists and theologians She argues that both thinkers in all their distinctive emphases wrestle with a similar difficulty How can Christ the Lord be meaningfully related to earthly lords without betraying the otherness of Christ's Lordship But how does Paul deal with this problem In order to answer this question Bertschmann offers a close reading of two key texts Philippians 2:5-11 and Romans 13:1-7 She argues that despite the many faceted political imagery of the Christ hymn Paul does nothing in his explicit narrative to engage existing rulers positively or negatively with the message of Christ's rule Paul's focus is entirely on the church which he seeks to construct as a community under authority While there is no emperor in the Christ hymn there is no Christ in Paul's political admonition of Romans 13 Paul deliberately keeps political rule at the periphery of God's salvific actions in Christ while not totally disconnecting it from the overall divine act This strategy has its limitations but also the potential to offer fresh impulses in theological deliberations about church and state Paul and the Faithfulness of God N. T. Wright, 2013-11-01 This highly anticipated two book fourth volume in N. T. Wright's magisterial series Christian Origins and the Question of God is destined to become the standard reference point on the subject for all serious students of the Bible and theology The mature summation of a lifetime's study this landmark book pays a rich tribute to the breadth and depth of the apostle's vision and offers an unparalleled wealth of detailed insights into his life times and enduring impact Paul's Interlocutor in Romans 2 Runar Thorsteinsson, 2015-12-22 Thorsteinsson's study of Romans poses a thoroughly argued challenge to Pauline scholarship His argument has the potential of invalidating the reading of Romans 2 that has contributed to a perception of Paul as utterly negative towards his fellow Jews and first century Judaism Among matters of scholarly dispute is the function and identity of Paul's interlocutors in chapter 2 of Romans Scholars agree universally that the individual addressed in 2:17-29 is a Jew but with respect to the identity of the interlocutor of 2:1-5 there is no consensus The majority of scholars hold that the interlocutor is a Jew throughout the chapter A weighty minority argues that the individual addressed in 2:1-5 is a Gentile and that there is a shift of interlocutor in 2:17 In his investigation into the pros and cons of these positions Thorsteinsson endeavors to challenge both majority and minority Basic to his approach is to allow the larger context and framework of the letter to be of help in assessing the function and identity of Paul's partner's in dialogue Thus the epistolary structure and setting of Romans the relationship between Paul and his audience the identity of the audience and the dialogical style of the letter are used to ascertain the function and identity of Paul's interlocutors in Romans 2 By engaging an imaginary interlocutor Paul utilizes a well established epistolary technique in Greco Roman antiquity Thorsteinsson concludes that Paul wrote Romans to a particular group of people in a specific contemporaneous situation The letter's message arose out of Paul's missionary obligation to proclaim God's good news to Gentiles in Rome The minority view that Paul's interlocutor in 2:1-5 is a Gentile is combined with the majority opinion that there is but one interlocutor throughout the chapter In sum the common opinion that Romans 2 contains Paul's piercing critique of his fellow Jew should be rejected The individual censured in the chapter is not a Jew but a Gentile who claims to be a Jew Paul against the Nations Neil Elliott, 2023-11-10 In these essays some of them never published before Neil Elliott presents an understanding of Romans at odds with the traditional Protestant understanding a treatise on justification by faith or the New Perspective Paul's argument with Jewish ethnocentrism The letter that emerges here is an urgent response to a historical situation Paul engages what would quickly become the supersessionist norm in gentile Christianity shaped by the Roman construal of subject peoples Gathered here for the first time these studies rely on rhetorical criticism broad attention to Roman imperial ideology and postcolonial criticism to argue for a strikingly new perspective on Romans      Paul Within Judaism Mark D. Nanos, Magnus Zetterholm, 2015 These chapters explore a number of issues in the contemporary study of Paul raised by questing what it means to read Paul from within Judaism rather than supposing that he left the practice and promotion of living Jewishly behind after his discovery of Jesus as Christ Messiah This is a different question to those which have driven the New Perspective over the last thirty years which still operates from many traditional assumptions about Paul's motives and behavior viewing them as inconsistent with and critical of Judaism      Paul and the Rise of the Slave K. Edwin Bryant, 2016-04-18 Paul and the Rise of the Slave locates Paul's description of himself as a slave of Messiah Jesus in the epistolary prescript of Paul's Epistle to Rome within the conceptual world of those who experienced the social reality of slavery in the first century C E The Althusserian concept of interpellation and the Life of Aesop are employed throughout as theoretical frameworks to enhance how Paul offered positive ways for slaves to imagine an existence apart from Roman power An exegesis of Romans 6 12-23 seeks to reclaim the earliest reception of Romans as prophetic discourse aimed at an anti Imperial response among slaves and lower class readers      Hierarchy, Unity, and Imitation Joseph A. Marchal, 2006      Paul as a Problem in History and Culture Patrick Gray, 2016-04-19 As one of the most significant figures in the history of Western civilization the apostle Paul has influenced and inspired countless individuals and institutions But for some he holds a controversial place in Christianity This engaging book explores why many people have been wary of Paul and what their criticisms reveal about the church and the broader culture Patrick Gray brings intellectual and cultural history into conversation with study of the New Testament providing a balanced account and assessment of widespread antipathy to Paul and exploring what the controversy tells us about ourselves      Religion, Ethnicity and Xenophobia in the Bible Brian Rainey, 2018-11-21 Religion Ethnicity and Xenophobia in the Bible looks at some of the Bible's most hostile and violent anti foreigner texts and raises critical questions about how students of the Bible and ancient Near East should grapple with ethnicity and foreignness conceptually hermeneutically and theologically The author uses insights from social psychology cognitive psychology anthropology sociology and ethnic studies to develop his own perspective on ethnicity and foreignness Starting with legends about Mesopotamian kings from the third millennium BCE then navigating the Deuteronomistic and Holiness traditions of the Hebrew Bible and finally turning to Deuterocanonicals and the Apostle Paul the book assesses the diverse and often inconsistent portrayals of foreigners in these ancient texts This examination of the negative portrayal of foreigners in biblical and Mesopotamian texts also leads to a broader discussion about how to theorize ethnicity in biblical studies ancient studies and the humanities This volume will be invaluable to students of ethnicity and society in the Bible at all levels      Abingdon New Testament Commentaries: Romans Leander E. Keck, 2011-09-01 Like widely differing siblings raised by the same parents each letter produced by Paul has its own distinguishing character For the historically minded critic each letter's unique traits provide important clues for detecting the circumstances in which Paul wrote it as well as what he hoped to achieve with it Scholars assume that by examining the content of the letter the answer they can infer the readers situation that Paul is addressing the question a method sometimes called mirror reading In the case of Romans however both the particular traits and the overall content are so unusual that scholars continue to debate why Paul wrote precisely this letter and what he hoped to achieve by it in Rome So begins Leander Keck s seminal work on the New Testament book of Romans Keck asserts that because Romans is part of the New Testament we can compare it with the other letters ascribed to Paul as well as with what Acts reports about his message and mission But the first readers of Romans had only this letter they could compare it only with what they may have heard about him While this commentary does from time to time compare Romans with what Paul had said before it concentrates on Romans itself what Paul says in this text should not be conflated with nor inflated into what he thought comprehensively though it is essential to understand that as well We do not really need another major commentary on Romans that loses us in the minutiae of word studies literary parallels sociological and rhetorical hypotheses we have such in plenty The Abingdon series however by its limited size forces the contributor to focus on the primary task of the commentator to clarify the meaning intended or potential of the words of the text and to provide some basic reflection on its continuing significance And that is where Keck excels James D G Dunn Review of Biblical Literature 04 2006

The Gospel of God David R. Wallace, 2008-09-01 When Paul pens his letter to the Roman believers he writes as a missionary to strengthen a church at the center of imperial power choosing language that is familiar to his recipients Paul responds not only to the influence of Judaism but also to the wider culture by contrasting prominent Roman values David Wallace argues that Paul s gospel in Romans rejects and countervails the significant themes of Virgil s Aeneid the most well known prophetic source that both proclaimed Roman ideology and assured Roman salvation After demonstrating that a close but nonauthoritarian relationship existed between Augustus and Virgil Wallace examines relevant literary aspects symbolism and key imagery of Virgil s epic A discussion of Paul s contraliterary approach follows drawing out possible parallels and echoes in Romans against the universal message of the Aeneid

Talking God in Society Ute E. Eisen, Heidrun Elisabeth Mader, 2021-01-18 Peter Lampe s work has covered a wide range of fields the common denominator being his interest in contextualizing belief systems Mirroring his multifaceted work the authors pursue his interest from different interdisciplinary angles addressing the interdependence between religious expressions and their situations or contexts The application of theoretical models to texts examples flanks the inspiring theoretical epistemological and methodological reflections Studies in socio economic and political history adjoin archaeological epigraphic papyrological and iconographic investigations Social psychological interpretations of texts complement rhetorical analyses The hermeneutical reception of biblical materials in for example the Koran and Christian Chinese or Orthodox contexts as well as in religious education and homiletics rounds off the volumes

The Educated Elite in 1 Corinthians Robert Dutch, 2005-06-20 This book examines the educated elite in 1 Corinthians through the development and application of an ancient education model

The research reads Paul's text within the social world of early Christianity and uses social scientific criticism in reconstructing a model that is appropriate for first century Corinth. Pauline scholars have used models to reconstruct elite education but this study highlights their oversight in recognising the relevancy of the Greek Gymnasium for education. Topics are examined in 1 Corinthians to demonstrate where the model advances an understanding of Paul's interaction with the elite Corinthian Christians in the context of community conflict. This study demonstrates the important contribution that this ancient education model makes in interpreting 1 Corinthians in a Graeco-Roman context. This is Volume 271 of JSNTS.

Mark, a Pauline Theologian Mar Pérez I Díaz, 2020-07-27. Is the wide range of indications in the Gospel of Mark for the influence of Pauline theology the fruit of chance or rather of the will of the Evangelist to unify his work with the thought of the Apostle Paul? In this study Mar Pérez I Díaz argues that Mark rather than being a disciple of Peter who puts in writing what he remembers from his preaching is a theological disciple of Paul.

Doing "the Good" in Paul's Ethical Vision T. Luke Post, 2023-02-28. Despite the longstanding debate surrounding the relationship between faith and good works in the apostle Paul's writings, no one to date has undertaken a thorough examination of Paul's use of good terminology in ethical contexts. This study seeks to fill this gap by examining Paul's use of and as these terms appear in his undisputed epistles and in 2 Thessalonians. Surveying a wide terrain of exegetical territory, T. Luke Post makes a compelling case that believers doing good is a primary aim of Paul's theological, social and ethical agenda.

Our Politeuma Is in Heaven! Gennadi A. Sergienko, 2013-10-14. For many of whom I often told you and even now am writing with tears, walk as the enemies of the cross of Christ; they walk to their final destruction, their god is the belly and their glory is in shameful things; their minds are earthly bound. But our is in heaven, from where we expect the Lord Jesus Christ, who is our Savior. Philippians 3:18-20. Paul's letters to Philippians show us that this rather outspoken man had plenty of opportunity and cause to aggravate his Christian contemporaries. However, for Paul to use such hostility and to name people as enemies shows us that we should take note and try to understand the meaning behind his statement. In this work, the author asks: who were these enemies? What did they do wrong? Why did they deserve destruction? In search of these questions, the investigation looks to the early Christian communities and their formation within the socio-political realities of the urban centers of the Roman Empire. Through this, we learn a great deal about the uneven and complex dynamics of the early Christian community and a deep understanding of Paul's warning to them.

Being 'in Christ' in the Letters of Paul Teresa Morgan, 2020-11-05. In this study, Teresa Morgan offers a radically new interpretation of 'in Christ' and related expressions in the undisputed letters of Paul. Starting from a reassessment of Deissmann's Die neutestamentliche Formel in Christo, Jesu, she argues that Deissmann's philology is flawed; the Schweitzerian concept of participation in Christ, which is indebted to it, is problematic and many contemporary accounts of participation are better understood in other terms. Through close readings of each letter, Teresa Morgan shows how Paul uses en Christo language instrumentally to speak of what God has done through Christ by Christ's death and encheiristically to speak of the life the faithful now live in Christ's hands in Christ's power under his authority under his protection and in his care. This creative use of en Christo language forms part of and connects Paul's soteriology eschatology and Christology shaping his narrative of God's intervention in the world the relationship between God Christ and the faithful the lordship and work of Christ between the resurrection and the parousia and God's ultimate triumph. This narrative is closely connected with Paul's ecclesiology and ethics where life in Christ's hands is envisaged as the this worldly dimension of the new creation an aspect of eternal life already active in the present time. In Christ's hands the faithful not least Paul himself live a new life in communities with a distinctive structure and dynamic. In Christ's hands they hope to remain in right standing with God and serve God until Christ's return.
