Political Socialization In The Arab States:

Political Socialization in the Arab States Tawfic Farah, Yasumasa Kuroda, 1987-01

Political Culture and Conflict Resolution in the Arab World Benjamin MacQueen, 2009-06-15 Benjamin MacQueen presents an innovative and in depth look at contemporary conflict resolution in the Arab Middle East developing a unique theory of political culture through his analysis of peace processes in Lebanon and Algeria Moving beyond conventional perspectives Political Culture and Conflict Resolution in the Arab World highlights that while culture can serve as a key to resolving and transforming conflict if neglected it can act to worsen the conditions that lead to conflict This book represents a critical advance in the study of conflict and its resolution in the Arab World Islamic Studies Series Volume 3

Political Behavior In The Arab States Tawfic E Farah, 2019-07-09 This vivid portrayal of political and social behavior in the Arab states offers new perspectives to the student and scholar of the Middle East It also illustrates the effectiveness of survey research as an analytical tool for investigating political social and economic problems in Arab societies The only book of its kind dealing in a comprehensive and interdisciplinary fashion with the political and social behavior of individuals in the Arab world it fills a gap in the materials available for courses on the Middle East

News Media in the Arab World Barrie Gunter, Roger Dickinson, 2013-06-06 News Media in the Arab World A Study of 10 Arab and Muslim Countries is based on ongoing research at the Department of Media and Communication University of Leicester and has investigated the rapidly changing nature of the news media in Arab countries They have investigated the role of newspapers and television in news provision and the impact of new media developments most especially the emergence of the internet as a platform for news distribution and of international satellite television channels such as Al Jazeera Examining the constantly developing nature of news the collection contains separately authored chapters produced by the researchers responsible for each original analysis covering Bahrain Egypt Iraq Kuwait Libya Oman Qatar Palestine Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates Based on original primary and secondary research this will be the first empirical based collection to blend perspectives from both the Western and Arab nations

Political Liberalization and Democratization in the Arab World Rex Brynen, Bahgat Korany, Paul Noble, 1995 The Arab world is experiencing a variety of factors internal and external that are leading to change This work examines such factors that are shaping political liberalisation and democratisation in the Arab context as well as the role played by particular social groups

Arab Education in Transition Byron G. Massialas, Samir Ahmad Jarrar, 2016-03-22 The operation of schools in the Arab world is a topic about which very little is known in the West This volume first published in 1991 provides information about the Arab school and thus contributes to an understanding of what is taught by whom and under what conditions It seeks to define the interaction between traditional elements and innovative forces impinging on the Arab school as well as reviewing policies that concern the education of Arab children It is maintained that Arab schools are in a state of transition reproducing society and its norms on one hand while on the other operating as agents seeking to transform society This work examines this claim in detail providing a unique discussion about education in the Arab world

Political Transformation of Gulf Tribal States Shaul Yanai, 2014-09-01 The reform movements and attempts to establish parliamentary institutions in the Persian Gulf states of Kuwait Bahrain and Dubai between the First World War and the independent era of the 1970s were not inspired by western example or by any tradition of civil representation The move to a parliamentary system not only represented a milestone in the history of the region creating a legacy for future generations but was a unique transition in the Arab world The transformation of these states from loose chiefdoms of minimal coherence and centralization into centralizing and institutionalized monarchies involved the setting up of primary institutions of government the demarcation of borders and establishment of a monarchical order As this new political and social order evolved ideas of national struggle and national rights penetrated Gulf societies Gulf citizens who had spent time in Arab states mostly in Egypt and Iraq took part in the genesis of a public Arab Gulf national discourse enabling the Gulf population to become acquainted with national struggles for independence As a result merchants of notable families newly educated elements and even workers began to oppose the dominance of the rulers Both the rulers and the commercial elites including members of the ruling families tried to formulate a new and different social contract with the rulers seeking to entrench their political power by using new administrative means and financial power Opposition against this current crystallized in 1938 among the ranks of the commercial oligarchy as well as within the ruling families In spite of its failure to create its own political institutions the oligarchy remained the foremost social and economic class But the ruling families could no longer treat national oil revenues as their private income and they began to channel part of these funds to public needs The most important consequence of the 1938 movement was the formation of a new social contract between the two traditional power centers the governing structures were fitted into the political and economic reality brought about by the oil wealth but remained essentially tribal and committed to the power division between the major Gulf families

Bureaucracy and Development in the Arab World Jabbra, 2022-04-25 The Search for Arab Democracy Larbi Sadiki, 2004 How to be a democrat and a Muslim at the same time is the subject of ongoing contests This book maps out the variety of voices contesting Islam and democracy in the Arab world insisting that neither category can be taken as unitary or fixed In the Arab Middle East the contest is over which whose and how much democracy takes place within an existing contest over which whose and how much Islam must be given pre eminence in the political and cultural sphere There is a Democracy and there are democracies There is an Islam and there are islams Larbi Sadiki deploys the conceptual tools of contemporary Western political philosophy and theory to articulate and defend some provocative theses The book challenges Eurocentric conceptions of democracy that all too frequently display a lack of concern for specificity and context analyzes and interrogates Orientalist and Occidental discourses on democracy and considers some of the justifications for democracy in the global arena giving space for self representation by women and Islamists among others Using interviews with Muslims from every social and economic stratum the book shows how Arabs themselves understand imagine and view democracy Confidence Building Measures In The Middle East Gabriel Ben-dor,2019-03-11 Confidence Building Measures CBMs were pioneered in Europe at the height of the Cold War The immediate goal of such measures is to create enough trust between parties in international conflicts to avoid mutually unfavourable sometimes dangerous outcomes due to misunderstandings The long term goal of CBMs is to move the contending parties closer The Silent Revolution Khawla Mattar,May Seikaly,2014-12-31 How immune is the Gulf region to the changes that have engulfed the Arab world since 2011 This volume responds to this question by examining the impact of the Arab Spring on Gulf regimes and societies and contributing to debates on political participation and citizenship sectarianism gender and identity formation as well as the role of the media in exposing the paradoxes of the Gulf system and its relationship to international political actors

Nasser's Egypt, Arab Nationalism, and the United Arab Republic James P. Jankowski,2002 During the crucial decade of the 1950s in Egypt both Gamal Abdel Nasser and the idea of Arab nationalism were assuming more and more influence in Egypt and the greater Arab world Exploring this phenomenon James Jankowski also offers important insights into the political context in which Nasser maneuvered Jankowski focuses on the period from the 1952 Revolution in Egypt to the dissolution of the short lived union of Egypt and Syria in 1961 and on the outlook and actions of Nasser the dominant figure in Egypt s new revolutionary regime Concisely and convincingly he identifies the unique blend of ideological and practical considerations that led Egypt to a progressively deeper involvement in Arab nationalism He draws on newly available materials from the U S and British archives and on the memoir literature now available in Arabic to present a detailed reconstruction of this formative period in Egyptian political history Jankowski traces Egypt s and Nasser s movement from a peripheral to a central position in Arab nationalist politics The Politics of Arab Integration Giacomo Luciani,Ghassan Salamé,2015-07-16 This volume first published in 1988 is the result of a major research project the most important inquiry into the fundamental political structure of the Arab world It is often argued that Arab states are arbitrary political creations that lack historical or present legitimacy and are unable to relate to each other in a productive way It is further suggested that the demise of pan Arabism merely underlines the inability of individual Arab states to integrate either domestically or internationally This book Volume Four in the Nation State and Integration in the Arab World research project carried out by the Istituto Affari Internazionali sets out to answer the questions of Arab integration with articles from a wide range of contributors from around the world The Middle East ,1989 Islamic Political Movements and Authority in the Arab World The Rise and Fall Prof. Jamal Sanad Al-Suwaidi,2014 Islamic Political Movements and Power in the Arab World The Rise and Fall represents a comprehensive study of contemporary Islamic political movements and their prospects Undertaken by the Emirates Center for Strategic Studies and Research and employing a scholarly methodological approach it addresses the prominent transformations that have occurred within certain Islamic political organizations as a result of what the media have dubbed the Arab Spring namely those Islamic parties and movements which came to power in Egypt Tunisia and Morocco In addition new Islamic parties and organizations have emerged thus re shaping the political environments of several Arab countries This volume provides an examination of the political rise of Islamists in the wake of the so called Arab Spring and deconstructs the experience of Islamic political parties and movements in government It discusses the negative effects and implications of Islamists efforts to inject religion into the practice of politics and to politicize religion which have led to increased religious and political polarization in a number of Arab countries and undermined efforts to build the national consensus needed to achieve peace economic development social justice and democratic transformation The authors of the papers presented herein raise pertinent questions concerning the future of Islamic political movements in the Arab World particularly in light of certain movements negative experiences of governance the internal developments being witnessed in various Arab countries and the regional and international transformations affecting the Arab world as a whole

Women, Men and News Paula Poindexter, Sharon Meraz, Amy Schmitz Weiss, 2010-12-22 This multi authored scholarly volume explores the divide between men and women in their consumption of news media looking at how the sexes read and use news historically and currently how they use technology to access their news and how today s news pertains to and is used by women The volume also addresses diversity issues among women s use of news considering racial ethnic international and feminist perspectives The volume is intended to help readers understand adult news use behavior a critical and timely issue considering the state of newspapers and television news in today s multi media news environment The Middle East: From Transition to Development Hajjar, 2022-05-20 Arab Family Studies Suad Joseph, 2018-07-10 Family remains the most powerful social idiom and one of the most powerful social structures throughout the Arab world To engender love of nation among its citizens national movements portray the nation as a family To motivate loyalty political leaders frame themselves as fathers mothers brothers or sisters to their clients parties or the citizenry To stimulate production economic actors evoke the sense of duty and mutual commitment of family obligation To sanctify their edicts clerics wrap religion in the moralities of family and family in the moralities of religion Social and political movements from the most secular to the most religious pull on the tender strings of family love to recruit and bind their members to each other To call someone family is to offer them almost the highest possible intimacy loyalty rights reciprocities and dignity In recognizing the significance of the concept of family this state of the art literature review captures the major theories methods and case studies carried out on Arab families over the past century The book offers a country by country critical assessment of the available scholarship on Arab families Sixteen chapters focus on specific countries or groups of countries seven chapters offer examinations of the literature on key topical issues Joseph s volume provides an indispensable resource to researchers and students and advances Arab family studies as a critical independent field of scholarship Political Culture in Libya Amal S M Obeidi, Amal Obeidi, 2013-09-05 Few empirical studies of Arab countries have dealt with political culture and political socialisation or focused on people's beliefs, values and attitudes towards the government or political leaders mainly because the regimes have been reluctant to allow opinion to be tested. The significance of this book is that it assesses the influence of state ideology on the new generation of Libyans and examines their political culture. Rethinking Arab Democratization Larbi Sadiki, 2009-02-12. Rethinking Arab Democratization unpacks and historicizes the rise of Arab electoralism, narrating the story of stalled democratic transition in the Arab Middle East. It provides a balance sheet of the state of Arab democratization from the mid 1970s into the 21st century. In seeking to answer the question of how Arab countries democratize and whether they are democratizing at all, the book pays attention to specificity, highlighting the peculiarities of democratic transitions in the Arab Middle East. To this end, it situates the discussion of such transitions firmly within their local contexts but without losing sight of the global picture, namely the US drive to control and democratize the Arab World. The book rejects exceptionalism, foundationalism and Orientalism by showing that the Arab World is not immured from the global trend towards political liberalization. But by identifying new trends in Arab democratic transitions, highlighting their peculiarities and drawing on Arab neglected discourses and voices, the book pinpoints the contingency of some of the arguments underlying Western theories of democratic transition when applied to the Arab setting. Oxford Studies in Democratization is a series for scholars and students of comparative politics and related disciplines. Volumes concentrate on the comparative study of the democratization process that accompanied the decline and termination of the cold war. The geographical focus of the series is primarily Latin America, the Caribbean, Southern and Eastern Europe and relevant experiences in Africa and Asia. The series editor is Laurence Whitehead, Official Fellow, Nuffield College, University of Oxford.

Adopting the Melody of Phrase: An Psychological Symphony within Political Socialization In The Arab States

In some sort of taken by displays and the ceaseless chatter of immediate transmission, the melodic elegance and psychological symphony developed by the written term often fade in to the back ground, eclipsed by the relentless sound and interruptions that permeate our lives. Nevertheless, situated within the pages of Political Socialization In The Arab States a wonderful fictional prize filled with fresh thoughts, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced. Constructed by an elegant composer of language, that charming masterpiece conducts viewers on a psychological journey, skillfully unraveling the hidden melodies and profound impact resonating within each carefully constructed phrase. Within the depths with this poignant examination, we will investigate the book is central harmonies, analyze its enthralling writing model, and surrender ourselves to the profound resonance that echoes in the depths of readers souls.
