Department of Education, 1902     The Development of Higher Education in Ontario George Gibbon McNab, 1925     The Law Reports. Queen's Bench Division, 1901     Queen's University, Volume III, 1961-2004 Duncan McDowall, 2016-04-01 Founded in 1841 by a royal charter

Queen's University evolved into a national institution steeped in tradition and an abiding sense of public service. Propelled initially by its Presbyterian instincts and an attachment to Gaelic culture, Queen's has prospered and adapted over the years to match Canada's ever-changing dynamics. In this third volume of Queen's University's official history, Duncan McDowall demonstrates that the late twentieth century was a contest between expediency and tradition, waged through crisis and careful evolution. Testing Tradition calibrates the durability of Queen's vaunted traditions in the face of shifts in the broader Canadian society. During this time of massive postsecondary expansion, Queen's grew sevenfold from a small collegial campus of 3100 students to a sprawling cosmopolitan place of more than 20000 students from over 120 countries engaged in undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs. Measuring Queen's University's responses to concerns over social diversity, human rights, and gender equity through the eyes of its trustees, administrators, students, faculty, and the Kingston community, this volume pays particular attention to the experiences of women and visible minorities at the university. Copiously illustrated with photographs of important people, events, and aspects of campus life, this volume shows how Queen's, in having its traditions tested, has worked to retain the best of its past while accepting the inevitability of change.

A Cyclopedia of Education Paul Monroe, 1913      The Journal of Education for Upper Canada, 1871      Documentary History of Education in Upper Canada: 1843-1846 Ontario. Department of Education, 1897      Decolonizing Educational Assessment Ardavan Eizadirad, 2019-09-06 This book examines the history of standardized testing in Ontario leading to the current context and its impact on racialized identities, particularly on Grade 3 students, parents, and educators. Using a theoretical argument supplemented with statistical trends, the author illuminates how EQAO tests are culturally and racially biased and promote a Eurocentric curriculum and way of life privileging white students and those from higher socioeconomic status. This book spurs readers to further question the use of EQAO standardized testing and challenges us to consider alternative models which serve the needs of all students.      Education Outlook, 1913      Virtue Ethics for Women 1250-1500 Karen Green, Constant Mews, 2011-04-05 This book locates Christine de Pizan's argument that women are virtuous members of the political community within the context of earlier discussions of the relative virtues of men and women. It is the first to explore how women were represented and addressed within medieval discussions of the virtues. It introduces readers to the little studied Speculum Dominarum (Mirror of Ladies), a mirror for a princess compiled for Jeanne of Navarre, which circulated in the courtly milieu that nurtured Christine. Throwing new light on the way in which Medieval women understood the virtues and were represented by others as virtuous subjects, it positions the ethical ideas of Anne of France, Laura Cereta, Marguerite of Navarre, and the Dames de la Roche within an evolving discourse on the virtues that is marked by the transition from Medieval to Renaissance thought. Virtue Ethics for Women 1250-1500 will be of interest to those studying virtue ethics, the history of women's ideas, and Medieval and Renaissance thought in general.      Documentary History of Education in Upper Canada, from the Passing of the Constitutional Act of 1791 to the Close of Dr. Ryerson's
