 SERENGETI Those vast African grasslands where God poured out herds of wildlife to trek across the savannahs after the thunderous rains He turned the full brilliance of the sun on the land for warmth He then put people there and gave them cattle for their wealth and music for their joy Hear the call of the birds and smile as the children play Somewhere a lion roars as the sun sinks below the horizon Warm winds carry the smell of rain and the heady odor of human toil as a stew cooks over a charcoal fire Human tragedy unfolds in slavery and disease Strangers from other lands come some to love and care some to destroy most without regard to the fragile Serengeti Come with me and meet the many both native and transplant who live love and die in this magnificently brutal land The White Spaces of Kenyan Settler Writing Terrence L. Craig, 2017-03-27
 The White Spaces of Kenyan Settler Writing provides an overview of Kenyan literature by white writers in the half century before Independence in 1964 Such literature has been overshadowed by that of black writers to the point of critical ostracism It deserves attention for its own sake as the expression of a community that hoped for permanence but suffered both disappointment and dispossession It deserves attention for its articulation of an increasingly desperate colonial and Imperial situation at a time when both were being attacked and abandoned in Africa as in other colonies elsewhere and when a counter discourse was being constructed by writers in Britain as well as in Africa Kenya was likely the best known twentieth century colony for it attracted publicity for its iconic safaris and its Happy Valley scandals Yet behind such scenes were settlers who had taken over lands from the native peoples and who were trying to make a future for themselves based on the labour willing or forced of those people This situation can be seen as a microcosm of one colonial exercise and can illuminate the historical tensions of such times The bibliography is an attempt to collect the literary resources of white Kenya in this historically significant period African Dress II, 1985 Folktales and Fairy Tales Anne E.
