curriculum management and the role of teacher researchers Heinemann Senior English for Queensland Georgina Rigby, Margaret Veerman, 1999-01 This book has been developed in response to the new Queensland Senior English syllabus. It aims to assist students and teachers working through the transition from the old to the new priorities and requirements. Heinemann Senior English for Queensland offers a fresh, exciting and timely resource for students of all abilities. Key features:

- material presented and organised around the social cultural model of English teaching that underpins the new syllabus
- a focus on continuity from Year 11 Semester 1 to Year 12 Semester 2 with increasing complexity and flexibility
- each part of the book comprises a series of chapters linked by a theme and each represents the basis for one semester's work
- a schematic overview discussing the themes and the choices of novels, plays, poetry and multimedia
- expository and informative texts presented in the four parts of the book
- a very wide range of texts including paintings, cartoons, multimedia and photographs
- with an appropriate increase in difficulty across the book
- units organised around creative and searching exercises grouped under Language, Cultural Context and Critical Concerns
- headings a balance of exercises across the three purposes: expressing identity, expressing opinion and being entertaining
- further reading and viewing lists which combine a blend of known and new texts
- at the end of each chapter, margin boxes offer hints, make cross references and suggest connected print and visual texts or websites
- activities developed for a range of abilities and explicitly linked to the General Objectives and Exit Criteria of the new syllabus.

This book is based on a comparative study from 2018 of four different approaches to education according to 2,500 Australians' experiences of them on a range of topics. It shows that whilst the critical approach has strong research-based support across the board, sometimes a liberal, conservative or post-modern approach may have some merit for certain outcomes. This is a book about challenging our biases and calling on ourselves to aim higher for education than what our own pre-conceived ideas might allow. What and who is valued in education and the social roles and identity messages learned differ wildly from school to school. Education is most impacted by the orientation of education dominant in that context: whether conservative, liberal, critical or post-modern. These terms are often used with little practical data on the real-life schooling they entail. Who learns what in which approach? Who learns best with which approach on which topic and why? This book provides this previously missing information. It offers holistic, detailed descriptions of conservative, liberal, critical and post-modern approaches to education broadly. It provides statistics and stories from real students on how the four approaches work practically in schools in relation to age, gender, sexuality, social class, race, news, media, popular culture and technology.

Chapters offer background information to the four perspectives data from student participants tutorial questions and activities and suggestions for further reading English in Practice 1 Workbook Julie Arnold, Lynda Wall, 2013-09-05 The first of a flexible two workbook series developed by Queensland teachers for the English Communication course Each workbook provides an entire course of study for one year and focuses on developing practical skills through real world scenarios and texts English in Practice supports both teacher led and self paced independent learning for a diverse group of students The scenarios and activities reflect the ways we communicate in the contexts of work leisure and community

Australian national bibliography ,1961 The Enchantment of English Dale, Leigh, 2012-11-28 The Enchantment of English is a study of the teaching of English in Australian universities from its beginnings in the second half of the 19th century through to the 1960s and 1970s a period in which universities proliferated and diversified Written from the belief that every discipline is enhanced by understanding the arguments made for its existence and the conditions in which it was established the author aims to help students and colleagues to think critically about the impact of institutional location in forming our habits of mind Amidst these stories of politics critical debates scrambling for appointments in specific areas and disputes about the need to satisfy the demands of students and the public for usefulness this history reveals something intangible but durable the power of the literary text over the imagination and the power of the idea of England and its writers as a basis and motive for reading and study hence The Enchantment of English Australian National Bibliography: 1992 National Library of Australia, 1988 Rurality and Education Barbara Pini, Robyn Mayes, Laura Rodriguez Castro, 2020-04-30 This book broadens the scope of the subject of rural education and enlivens the ways in which the subject may be studied Through textual and visual analysis of a range of sources including young adult novels the farming simulation game Hay Day and reality television programs the contributors investigate how the lives of young people in rural spaces are mediated by a range of social locations including class ethnicity and sexuality Additionally through rich and detailed ethnographic work the book explores the complicated and multifaceted meanings of rural places and examines how these meanings shape experiences of schooling for teachers and students In doing so the book embeds the study of rural education in explorations of patrilineal inheritance on family farms international migration globalisation and economic restructuring It aims to start a conversation about the robust and complex ways in which the confluence between rural and education may be imagined experienced and researched This book was originally published as a special issue of Discourse Studies in the Cultural Politics of Education The Routledge International Handbook of Creative Learning Julian Sefton-Green, Pat Thomson, Ken Jones, Liora Bresler, 2011-07-15 The concept of creative learning extends far beyond Arts based learning or the development of individual creativity It covers a range of processes and initiatives throughout the world that share common values systems and practices aimed at making learning more creative This applies at individual classroom or whole school level always with the aim of fully realising young people s potential Until now there has been no single text bringing together the significant literature that explores the dimensions of creative learning despite the work of artists in schools and the development of a cadre of creative teaching and learning specialists Containing a mixture of newly commissioned chapters reprints and updated versions of previous publications this book brings together major theorists and current research Comprising of key readings in creative education it will stand as a uniquely authoritative text that will appeal to those involved in initial and continuing teacher education as well as research academics and policy specialists Sections include a general introduction to the field of creative learning arts learning traditions with sub sections on discrete art forms such as drama and visual art accounts of practice from artist teacher partnerships whole school change and reforms curriculum change assessment evaluative case studies of impact and effect global studies of policy change around creative learning

Critical Literacy in the Classroom Wendy Morgan, 2002-01-04 Critical literacy investigates how forms of knowledge and the power they bring are created in language and taken up by those who use texts It asks how language might be put to different more equitable uses and how texts might be recreated in a way that would tell a different story This book is a carefully documented and critically analysed example of the growing emphasis on critical literacy in syllabuses government reports and the like It bridges the gap between academics theorizing and teachers work describes how secondary teachers have planned and implemented critical literacy curricula on a range of topics from Shakespeare to the workplace listens to teachers reflecting on their teaching and analyses classroom talk extrapolates from present practice to a future critical literacy in a digitised hypermedia world Teachers and students of education critical literacy advocates and theorists of literacy and schooling can learn much more from this book which shows how critical literacy teachers and their students are contributing to the ongoing reinvention of English education as critical literacy

Testing English Bethan Marshall, 2011-01-13 This book considers why summative assessment in English is difficult and explores viewing it as an arts subject rather than one which is quantifiable and assessable objectively

Pragmatics in English as a Lingua Franca Ian Walkinshaw, 2022-01-19 This volume addresses two current gaps in pragmatics research in English as a lingua franca ELF Firstly the contexts approaches and theories of pragmatics generally that remain under explored in studies of ELF speakers secondly the paucity of ELF pragmatics studies investigating Asia despite its economic and geo political importance and the role of English as a region wide lingua franca The volume draws together a range of pragmatics related chapters contributed by leading experts in pragmatics both in English as a lingua franca and more broadly These either present new research that extends the current state of the field or introduce approaches and theories from other areas of pragmatics that translate readily to analysis of ELF interaction Five of the chapters are Asia focused examining pragmatic aspects of communication among Asian ELF users The volume therefore offers scope for ELF pragmatics researchers to further broaden the field s theoretical and analytical horizons and adds to the quantity of knowledge about pragmatics in ELF communication in Asia Its publication raises the visibility of this research area within the broader field of pragmatics

Educational Assessment Christine Harrison, Constant

Leung, David Pepper, 2023-10-19 This book explores and builds on the extraordinary work of Professor Paul Black across assessment and pedagogy across the curriculum including STEM humanities and social science subjects This book explores the influence that Black has had within educational settings focusing on interpretations of the work and scholarship he has achieved across a range of settings and on the ways scholars who have worked with him or been influenced by his ideas have developed their research and teaching The contributions are presented under three thematic sections each of which reflects a set of shared educational concerns and values drawing on the natural and social sciences and developments in public policy These concerns and values with their emphasis on teacher assessment provide a basis for a strategic informed and coherent response to challenges in education such as the cancellation of public examinations in the face of the Covid 19 pandemic

Literacy in the Arts Georgina Barton, 2014-04-01 This book explores the many dialogues that exist between the arts and literacy It shows how the arts are inherently multimodal and therefore interface regularly with literate practice in learning and teaching contexts It asks the questions What does literacy look like in the arts And what does it mean to be arts literate It explores what is important to know and do in the arts and also what literacies are engaged in through the journey to becoming an artist The arts for the purpose of this volume include five art forms Dance Drama Media Arts Music and Visual Arts The book provides a more productive exploration of the arts literacy relationship It acknowledges that both the arts and literacy are open textured concepts and notes how they accommodate each other learn about and from each other and can potentially make education better It is when the two stretch each other that we see an educationally productive dialogic relationship emerge

Australian Autobiographical Narratives: 1850-1900 Kay Walsh, Joy W. Hooton, 1993 Australian Autobiographical Narratives Volume 2 and its partner Volume 1 provide researchers with detailed annotations of published Australian autobiographical writing Both volumes are a rich resource of the European settlement of Australia The selection concentrates on the post gold rush period providing portraits of 533 individuals from amateur explorers to politicians from pioneer settlers to sportsmen Like Volume 1 it offers an intimate and absorbing insight into nineteenth century Australia
