The Serpent's Plumes Adam W. Coon, 2024-05-01 Draws on Nahua concepts to explore Nahua literary production and contributions to cultural activism from the 1980s to the present The Serpent's Plumes analyzes contemporary Nahua cultural production principally bilingual Nahuatl Spanish xochitlajtoli or poetry written from the 1980s to the present Adam W Coon draws on Nahua perspectives as a decolonizing theoretical framework to argue that Nahua writers deploy unique worldviews namely ixtlamatlistli knowledge with the face which highlights the value of personal experiences yoltlajlamikistli knowledge with the heart which underscores the importance of affective intelligence and tlaixpan that which is in front which presents the past as lying ahead of a subject rather than behind The views of ixtlamatlistli yoltlajlamikistli and tlaixpan are key in Nahua struggles and effectively challenge those who attempt to marginalize Native knowledge production

Tales of the Taíno Gods/Cuentos de los dioses taínos Osvaldo García-Goyco, 2010-12-15 Cuentos de los dioses taínos como se cre el Mar Caribe es una divertida fantasía profusamente ilustrada basada en el misterioso mundo mitológico de los indios taínos de Puerto Rico y las Antillas Mayores La trama es inspirada en la obra de Fray Ramón Pan de Relación Acerca de las Antigüedades de los indios 1494-98 que form parte del diario de Cristóbal Colón Las ilustraciones del cuento por el fenecido joven pintor puertorriqueño Juan Negrón fueron elaboradas mediante un guion visual del autor Incluye además el autor un educativo glosario ilustrado

Tales of the Taíno Gods How The Caribbean Sea Was Born is an entertaining fantasy based on the mysterious mythological world of the Taíno Indians of Puerto Rico and the Greater Antilles The plot is inspired by the writings of Friar Ramón Pan de Relación's An Account of the Antiquities of the Indians 1494-98 which was part of Christopher Columbus' diary The illustrations of the tale were painted using a visual script by the author who directed the skillful brush of the late young puertorrican painter Juan Negrón The author also includes an illustrated educational glossary

National Narratives in Mexico Enrique Florescano, 2006 If history is written by the victors then as the rulers of a nation change so too does the history Mexico has had many distinct periods of history demonstrating clearly that the tale changes with the writer In National Narratives in Mexico Enrique Florescano examines each historical vision of Mexico as it was interpreted in its own time revealing the influences of national or ethnic identity culture and evolving concepts of history and national memory Florescano shows how the image of Mexico today is deeply rooted in ideas of past Mexicos ancient Mexico colonial Mexico revolutionary Mexico and how these ideas can be more fully understood by examining Mexico's past historians An awareness of the historians' cultural perspective helps us to understand which types of evidence would be considered valid in constructing a national narrative These considerations are important in modern Mexican historiography as historians begin to question the validity of Mexico's collective memory Enhanced by more than two hundred drawings photographs and maps National Narratives in Mexico offers a new vision of Mexico's turbulent history Christ and the Maya Calendar Kevin Dann, 2009-03 Cosmic Christianity describes the relationship between the earthly and supra earthly cosmic worlds by showing the relationship between the cosmos as expressed in the movements of the stars and the activities of Christ during his three years of ministry on Earth. The gesture of each astrological planet during those years is worked out and correlated with specific acts of the Christ as recorded in the Gospels. The apparent looping movements of Mercury for example are connected with the seven signs of St John's gospel. The author goes on to explore the many ways in which these healing acts which have been inscribed in the heavens continue to work in evolution through the events of history and through our individual human lives. By studying this we begin to understand our responsibility for developing the new Christian mysteries and consequently renewing the starry cosmos. Sucher presents a real foundation for modern star wisdom. Topics include the evolution of cosmology, the origins of the planetary symbols, our new relationship to the stars as revealed in human lives and historical events, and the role of the Archangel Michael in our individual relationship to the stars. This is an excellent place to begin one's study of the stars and their meaning for both our individual lives and for the world.

The Boom Femenino in Mexico Nuala Finnegan, Jane E. Lavery, 2010-04-16 The Boom Femenino in Mexico: Reading Contemporary Women's Writing is a collection of essays that focuses on literary production by women in Mexico over the last three decades. In its exploration of the boom femenino phenomenon, the book traces the history of the earlier boom in Latin American culture and investigates the implications of the use of the same term in the context of contemporary women's writing from Mexico. In this way it engages critically with the cultural, historical, and literary significance of the term, illuminating the concept for a wide range of readers. It is clear that the entry of so many women writers into an arena traditionally reserved for men has prompted discussion around concepts such as women's writing and the very definition of literature itself. Many of the contributors grapple with the theoretical tensions that such debates provoke, offering an important opportunity to think critically about the texts produced during this period and the ways in which they have impacted on the Mexican and international cultural spheres. The project is comprehensive in its scope and for the first time brings together scholars from Mexico, the U.S., and Europe in a transnational forum. The book posits that despite certain aesthetic and thematic commonalities, the increased output by women writers in Mexico cannot be appraised as a unified literary movement. Instead, it embraces a wide range of different generic forms and the subjects under study. In the essays in the book include the best-selling work of Angeles Mastretta, Elena Poniatowska, and Laura Esquivel, as well as the social and political preoccupations of journalists Rosanna Reguillo and Cristina Pacheco. Contributors offer readings of the aesthetic visions of writers as diverse as Carmen Boullosa, Ana Garc a Bergua, and Eve Gil, while other essays examine the nuances of contemporary gender identity in the work of Ana Clavel, Sabina Berman, Brianda Domecq, and Mar a Luisa Puga. There are essays devoted to poetry by indigenous Mayan women and an analysis of the complex place of poetry within the broader framework of literary production. The problems that emerge as a result of literary cataloguing based on gender politics are also considered at length in a number of essays that take a panoramic view of literary production over the period. Various critical approaches are employed throughout and the collection as a whole demonstrates that academic interest in Mexican women's writing of the boom femenio is thriving. Above all, the essays here provide a space in which the location of women within prevailing cultural paradigms in Mexico and their role in the mapping of power in evolving textual canons may be interrogated. It is clear from the collection that interest in such issues is still alive and that the debate is far from over.

Mr. G's Battle Cry! La Causa De La Raza Wants You Javier Gomez, 2018-07-17 A wave of revolution swept across the United States in the sixties and the seventies. And across California, Cesar Chavez sparked the Chicano civil rights movement in the barrio, giving prominence to new leaders, new voices, and new demands for freedom from injustice and oppression. For young Javier Gomez, this battle cry would be the beginning of a fight to stand up to injustice in his home of East LA. In Mr. G's Battle Cry, author and civil rights activist Javier Gomez chronicles his march into the streets of East LA and beyond as he and his Chicano and Chicana brothers and sisters take up the cause of the civil rights movement and create hope for a better future against great odds. Gomez also explores the history of his people, showing how their culture and their spirit was renewed during this historic era of equality and justice. Javier Gomez was inspired by the Chicano civil rights movement, and today his battle cry endures. Mr. G's Battle Cry gives voice to the enlightened individuals who fought side by side at protests and in the streets against the institutions of injustice that sought to keep the people silent. And today, this cultural revolution has left a living legacy of change, progress, and hope.

Serpents clearly demonstrates El Tajín's numerous iconographic connections with other areas of Mesoamerica while also exploring its roots in an indigenous Gulf lowlands culture whose outlines are only now emerging. At the same time it begins to uncover a largely ignored regional artistic culture of which Tajín is the crowning achievement. Images of Mithra Philippa Adrych, Robert Bracey (Writer on coins), Dominic Dalglish, Stefanie Lenk, Rachel Wood, 2017 This work presents six case studies of objects from different periods and regions of antiquity that are labelled by variations of the name Mithra including the Roman Mithras, Persian Mihr and Bactrian Mihr. Each chapter places each object in its original context before questioning its role in religious ritual tradition and belief. Using Spanish Vocabulary R. E. Batchelor, Miguel Ángel San José, 2003-08-07 This book first published in 2003 provides a comprehensive and structured vocabulary for all levels of undergraduate Spanish courses. It offers a broad coverage of the concrete and abstract vocabulary relating to the physical, cultural, social, commercial and political environment as well as exposure to commonly encountered technical vocabulary. The accompanying exercises for private study and classroom use are designed to promote precision and awareness of nuance and register, develop good dictionary use and encourage effective learning. The book includes both Iberian and Latin American vocabulary and clearly identifies differences between the two varieties. Consists of twenty units each treating a different area of human experience. Units are divided into three levels which allows core vocabulary in each area to be learned first and more specialised or complex terms to be added at later stages. Vocabulary is presented in alphabetical order for ease of location. Illustrated London News, 1920 The Road to Aztlan Virginia M.

Fields, Victor Zamudio-Taylor, 2001 Published in conjunction with the major exhibition The Road to Aztlan: Art from a Mythic Homeland, explores the art derived from and created about the legendary area that encompasses the American Southwest and portions of Mexico long before they were separated by an international border. The book and accompanying exhibition view Aztlan as a metaphoric centre and allegorical place of origin for the various peoples of the Southwest and Mexico. Cultural interactions between the two areas span two millennia beginning with maize cultivation which spread north from Mexico around BC 1200. The book also investigates the relationship between myth and history as expressed in art and material culture of the region's inhabitants over time and the relationship and continuities of cultural practices over the course of the pre-Columbian colonial and contemporary eras. Crucial to these changing relationships are aspects of tradition and innovation within cultures as people sought to negotiate, maintain and redefine their identities in the face of social disruption Nueva Atenea ,1929 Pintura rupestre del estado de Hidalgo Otilio Arturo Acevedo Sandoval, Manuel Alberto Morales Damián, Silvana Berenice Valencia Pulido, 2002 The Messiah in Ancient America Bruce W. Warren, 1987 Art, Ideology, and the City of Teotihuacan Janet Catherine Berlo, 1992 ¿Cómo se hace un dios? Enrique Florescano, 2016-05-13 Enrique Florescano narra la formación de los dioses en Mesoamérica desde las cosmogonías más antiguas hasta los relatos ritos y cantos de los pueblos indígenas de la actualidad. Cómo se hace un dios es una búsqueda por comprender cómo fueron creados los dioses y cómo a pesar de sus transformaciones constantes las deidades principales conservaron sus identidades y funciones originales así como sus cultos y ritos a través de los siglos. Tras la creación del cosmos surgen dioses más cercanos a los seres humanos como el dios del maíz y el del viento. Este libro sigue las transformaciones de ambos quienes se asemejan a los seres humanos en sus representaciones y llevan una vida cercana a la de ellos: nacen, se desarrollan, realizan hazañas memorables y a veces mueren. Solo el dios del maíz resucita en cada cosecha y se vuelve inmortal. Al morir se transforma en semilla que viaja al inframundo donde es sembrada y luego renace como planta portentosa que derrama los granos que alegran la vida de los seres humanos. El relato de los dioses del maíz y del viento es una página indeleble en la historia de Mesoamérica. Los dioses cambian, se multiplican, los antiguos cultos se conjugan con los nuevos y adquieren formas distintas en cada región. Sin embargo, las historias más antiguas y los relatos de los sobrevivientes actuales de Mesoamérica tienen como actor principal a la planta del maíz transformada en dios, la planta que significa la recreación imperecedera de la vida.
