Qui Nest Pas Tourna Vers Nous:

Searching for Presence Robert W. Greene, 2022-04-11 Yves Bonnefoy's writings have won him praise not only from readers and critics of French poetry but also thanks to translations into many other languages from readers and critics of poetry far beyond the francophone world. Indeed, Bonnefoy may be the most admired poet to have emerged in France since World War II. Yet his art criticism, dazzling in its scope, possibly as original as his poetry, is yet to receive the attention it deserves. Searching for Presence: Yves Bonnefoy's Writings on Art undertakes to fill that lacuna. Elusive, skirting the ineffable, the notion of presence has haunted Bonnefoy for decades. Central to the notion for the poet is the fleeting experience of mutuality between self and other, of lightning transaction in a transient world of a shared mortal destiny; hence a plenitude within finitude. In an age when so many of his contemporaries seem to view any form of art as wallpaper spanning a void, Bonnefoy's faith in presence is all the more welcome. Focusing on his art criticism, the aspect of the poet's oeuvre in which the notion of presence is the most salient, this study tries to do justice to that fidelity. Six French Poets of Our Time Robert W. Greene, 2015-03-08 During the last sixty to seventy years, avant-garde poetry in France has evolved in two directions: one toward poetry conceived as a means to an end, the other toward poetry as an end in itself. Focusing on Pierre Reverdy, Francis Ponge, René Char, André du Bouchet, Jacques Dupin, and Marcelin Pleynet as the modern French poets who most faithfully reflect these directions, Robert Greene's chronological study allows us to follow the two-pronged evolution of French poetry since 1910. Situating his argument in a detailed historical context and basing it on comparisons with artistic movements and the poets' own writings on art and on extended analyses of selected representative poems, the author is able to establish a new intellectual-historical perspective on contemporary poetry. Professor Greene finds that whereas Reverdy, Char, du Bouchet, and Dupin all embrace a conception of poetry as quest, as a search for the absolute, as the Way of beauty or truth, Ponge and Pleynet hold to a view of poetry as j'ête, as a celebration of the relative, as the play and display of language in action. What knits them together, he concludes, is the way in which each poet sums up his era as a stage in the development of twentieth-century French poetry. Originally published in 1979, The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print-on-demand technology to again make available previously out-of-print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press. These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions. The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905. Postwar Figures of L'ephemere James Petterson, 2000-09 The question of the relationship between aesthetics and history is reconsidered in this study of these postwar poets. Petterson argues that postwar French poetry is a critical poetry encompassing a vast poetic tradition from poets such as Baudelaire and Rimbaud to Francis Ponge and Paul Celan. The author also shows how the critical writings of Hegel, Heidegger, and Ricoeur, among others, suggest that what he calls postwar poetry's will to meaning and its attempt to develop a post Romantic poetics necessarily questions poetry's ties to philosophical historical and political narratives

Provisionality and the Poem Emma Wagstaff, 2006 Much poetic writing in France in the post 1945 period is set in an elemental landscape and expressed through an impersonal poetic voice It is therefore often seen as primarily spatial and cut off from human concerns This study of three poets André du Bouchet Philippe Jaccottet and Bernard Noël who have not been compared before argues that space is inseparable from time in their work which is always in transition The different ways in which the provisional operates in their writing show the wide range of forms that modern poetry can take an insistence on the figure of the interval hesitant movement or exuberant impulse As well as examining the imaginative universes of the poets through close attention to the texts this book considers the important contribution they have made in their prose writing to our understanding of the visual arts and poetry translation in themselves transitional activities It argues that these writers have in different ways succeeded in creating poetic worlds that attest to close and constantly changing contact with the real Emma Wagstaff teaches French literature at Trinity College Cambridge

André du Bouchet Emma Wagstaff, 2020-08-03 In André du Bouchet Poetic Forms of Attention Emma Wagstaff provides the first book length study in English of this major poet of the second half of the twentieth century She shows how Du Bouchet's rigorous and innovative creative and critical writing advances our understanding of attention Du Bouchet is known as a post war poet of the natural world and the space of the page Far from just a solitary writer however he engaged with others through his work as editor critic and translator and his involvement in the protests of May 1968 Emma Wagstaff shows how his writing demonstrates nuanced attention to language time nature and art and incites a slow response on the part of the reader

A First Scientific French Reader Benjamin Lester Bowen, 1902

André du Bouchet Victor Martinez, 2013 L'œuvre du poète français André du Bouchet Paris 1924 Truinas 2001 constitue un apport inédit pour les recherches en linguistique et poétique contemporaine L'attention au dehors qui caractérise une telle poésie ne débouche pas sur une poésie descriptive objective ou réflexentielle mais sur l'idée que le rapport langagier est invisible et global Les herméneutiques phénoménologiques rationnelles ou critiques de Ricœur Meschonnic ou Bollack ne sont pas parvenues à créer une œuvre qui placerait le sens non dans la langue mais c'est d'elle L'œuvre d'André du Bouchet fonde non sur une poétique de la présence mais de sa rupture non sur une poétique du lieu mais de son emportement non sur une poétique du sens mais de sa dissolution parviendrait au résultat paradoxal de replacer le langage au cœur du langage y compris dans ses manifestations les plus violentes Eminemment

historique cette poésie fonderait le langage comme verbe mais ce verbe ne serait pas assignable en tant que fait positif il serait un phénomène global la fois sans signe paradoxalement observable et ouvertement efficient L'œuvre d'André Bouchet résout des questions initialement poétiques au centre de ce qui constitue le projet global des sciences humaines d'écrire fonder interpréter
