both countries both professional and amateur are listed together with numerous photographs of their significant varieties. These illustrate the differences as well as the similarities of roses produced in Australia and New Zealand since the days of the first settlers. The Victoria State Rose Garden at Werribee outside Melbourne has been chosen to represent the large number of rose gardens in Australia with many photographs illustrating the diverse collection of roses growing there. In New Zealand the Trevor Griffiths Rose Garden in Timaru was chosen because of the comprehensive nature of roses planted in that very interesting garden. The final chapter asks where roses will be in the future. Will varieties produced in each country be similar or very different? One thing is sure: They will always be for gardeners the Queen of Flowers.
