Historical Memory in Greece, 1821-1930

Christina Koulouri, 2022-08-19 This book presents a social and cultural history of collective memory in modern Greece during the first century of state independence contributing to the debate over the relationship between memory and identity. It discusses how modern Greek society commemorated its distant and recent pasts both real and imagined namely antiquity Byzantium the Greek Revolution and the Asia Minor Catastrophe how cultural memory was shaped by the various war experiences victory defeat mass death and mourning refugeedom and how memory politics became arenas of social and political strife. Historical painting monuments historical pageantry tableaux vivants national anniversaries performances of ancient drama and revivals of ancient games are analyzed as instances where the past was visualized represented performed and consumed. An explosion in public history has taken place over the last decades around the world with a veritable flood of commemorations anniversaries and memory wars. As more and more social groups claim the right to remember public discourse and polemics have arisen at the same time that traumatic memory has become a field of international academic research. In the arena of public history historical memory is being constructed through the sentimental irrational reception of mythological narratives told through images.

Stations of the Sun Ronald Hutton, 2001-02-15 Comprehensive and engaging this colourful study covers the whole sweep of ritual history from the earliest written records to the present day. From May Day revels and Midsummer fires to Harvest Home and Halloween to the twelve days of Christmas Ronald Hutton takes us on a fascinating journey through the ritual year in Britain. He challenges many common assumptions about the customs of the past and debunks many myths surrounding festivals of the present to illuminate the history of the calendar year we live by today.

The Lancet, 1847 Prayer, providence and empire Joseph Hardwick, 2021-08-10

European settlers in Canada Australia and South Africa said they were building better Britains overseas. But their new societies were frequently threatened by devastating wars rebellions epidemics and natural disasters. It is striking that settlers turned to old traditions of collective prayer and worship to make sense of these calamities. At times of trauma colonial governments set aside whole days for prayer so that entire populations could join together to implore God's intervention assistance or guidance. And at moments of celebration such as the coming of peace everyone in the empire might participate in synchronized acts of thanksgiving. Prayer providence and empire asks why occasions with origins in the sixteenth century became numerous in the democratic pluralistic and secularised conditions of the British world. Canadian Almanac and Legal and Court Directory, 1910 The Canadian Almanac and Miscellaneous Directory, 1919 The Diplomat's Annual, 1971 Canadian Almanac and Miscellaneous Directory, 1920 Handbook for Service Attaches Accredited to the Department of the Air Force, 1982
