International Dictionary of Library Histories David H. Stam, 2001-11 Following the format of Fitzroy Dearborn's highly successful International Dictionary of Historic Places and International Dictionary of University Histories the International Dictionary of Library Histories provides basic information for each institution location and holdings followed by an extensive 1 000 5 000 word essay on its history as well as a Further Reading list In addition the dictionary includes introductory articles on the history of various types of libraries and a library history in various regions of the world The dictionary profiles more than 200 institutions from around the world including the world's most important research libraries and other libraries with globally or regionally notable collections innovative traditions and significant and interesting histories The essays take advantage of the growing scholarship of library history to provide insightful overviews of each institution including not only the traditional values of these libraries but their innovations as well such as developments in automated systems and electronic delivery The profiles will emphasize the unique materials of research in these institutions archives manuscripts personal and institutional papers The introductory articles on types of libraries include topics ranging from theological libraries to prison libraries from the ancient to the digital An international team of more than 200 leading scholars in the field have contributed essays to the project

The Artist's Garden Jackie Bennett, 2019-10-29 The Artist's Garden will feature up to 20 gardens that have inspired and been home to some of the greatest painters of history These gardens not only supplied the inspiration for creative works but also illuminate the professional motivation and private life of the artists themselves from Cezanne's house in the south of France to Childe Hassam at Celia Thaxter's garden off the coast of Maine Flowers and gardens have often been the first choice for artists looking for a subject A garden close to the artist's studio is not only convenient for daily material and ideas but also has the advantage of changing through the seasons and over time Claude Monet's Giverny was the catalyst for hundreds of great paintings by Monet and other artists each one different from the one before Sometimes a whole village becomes the focus for a colony of artists as at Gerberoy in Picardy and Skagen on the northernmost tip of Denmark This book is about the real homes and gardens that inspired these great artists gardens that can still be visited today The relationship between artist and garden is a complex one A few artists including Pierre Bonnard and his neighbour Monet were keen gardeners as much in love with their plants as their work while for others like Sorolla in Madrid his courtyard home was both a sanctuary and a source of ideas

The Science of Leonardo Fritjof Capra, 2008-12-02 Leonardo da Vinci's scientific explorations were virtually unknown during his lifetime despite their extraordinarily wide range He studied the flight patterns of birds to create some of the first human flying machines designed military weapons and defenses studied optics hydraulics and the workings of the human circulatory system and created designs for rebuilding Milan employing principles still used by city planners today Perhaps most importantly Leonardo pioneered an empirical systematic approach to the observation of nature what is known today as the scientific method Drawing on over 6 000 pages of Leonardo's surviving notebooks acclaimed scientist and bestselling author Fritjof Capra reveals Leonardo's artistic approach to scientific knowledge and his organic and ecological worldview In this fascinating portrait of a thinker centuries ahead of his time Leonardo singularly emerges as the unacknowledged father of modern science From the Trade Paperback edition

Artistic Practices and Cultural Transfer in Early Modern Italy Allison Sherman, 2017-07-05 For too long the centre of the Renaissance has been considered to be Rome and the art produced in or inspired by it This collection of essays dedicated to Deborah Howard brings together an impressive group of internationally recognised scholars of art and architecture to showcase both the diversity within and the porosity between the centre and periphery in Renaissance art Without abandoning Rome but together with other centres of art production the essays both shift their focus away from conventional categories and bring together recent trends in Renaissance studies notably a focus on cultural contact material culture and historiography They explore the material mechanisms for the transmission and evolution of ideas artistic training and networks as well as the dynamics of collaboration and exchange between artists theorists and patrons The chapters each with a wealth of groundbreaking research and previously unpublished documentary evidence as well as innovative methodologies reinterpret Italian art relating to canonical sites and artists such as Michelangelo Titian Tintoretto Veronese and Sebastiano del Piombo in addition to showcasing the work of several hitherto neglected architects painters and an inimitable engineer inventor

Painting in Renaissance Venice

Peter Humfrey, 1995-01-01 The Renaissance was a golden age in the long history of Venetian painting and the art that came from Venice during that era includes some of the most visually exciting works in the whole of western art This attractive book a comprehensive account of painting in Venice from Bellini to Titian to Tintoretto is an accessible introduction to the paintings of this period Peter Humfrey surveys the development of a distinctly Venetian artistic tradition from the middle years of the fifteenth century to the end of the sixteenth century He discusses the work of Jacopo and Giovanni Bellini Giorgione Titian Veronese and Tintoretto as well as the paintings of those less well known such as the three Vivarini Cima Carpaccio Palma Vecchio Lorenzo Lotto and Jacopo Bassano Humfrey analyses these painters works in terms of their pictorial style technique subject matter patronage and function He also sets the art against the background of the political social and religious conditions of Renaissance Venice as outlined in his Introduction The book includes an appendix that provides brief biographies of thirty six of the most important painters active in Renaissance Venice The Century

Child Fred R Kline, 2016-05-10 Fred Kline is a well known art historian dealer connoisseur and explorer who has made a career of scouring antique stores estate sales and auctions looking for unusual and often misidentified works of art Many of the gems he has found are now in major museum collections like the Frick the Getty and the Metropolitan Museum of Art But this book is about the discovery of one piece in particular About ten years ago when Kline was routinely combing through a Christie's catalog a beautiful little drawing caught his eye Attributed to Carracci it came with a very low estimate but Kline's every instinct told him that the attribution was wrong He placed a bid and the low asking price and bought the drawing outright And that was the beginning of how Kline discovered Leonardo da Vinci's model drawing for the Infant Jesus and the Infant St John It is the first work by da Vinci to have surfaced in over a century LEONARDO'S HOLY CHILD chronicles not only the story of this amazing discovery from Kline's research all over the world to how exactly attributions work with regards to the old masters most of their works are unsigned Kline also sheds light on the idea of connoisseurship an often overlooked facet of art history that's almost Holmesian in its intricacy and specificity Italian Architectural Drawings
