The Royal Northumberland Fusiliers (the 5th Regiment of Foot). Basil Peacock, 1970 Krigskortet lille skitse Introduktion til bogen ved Brian Horrocks The History of the Royal Northumberland Fusiliers in the Second World War Cyril Nelson Barclay, 1952 The History of the Royal Northumberland Fusiliers in the Second World War C. N. Barclay, 2002-03 The Royal Northumberland Fusiliers RNF became Royal in 1935 on the occasion of the Silver Jubilee of George V In 1937 in a reorganisation of the army the RNF was one of four regiments to be converted to a Machine gun regiment the other three were the Cheshire Middlesex and Manchester Regiments When war broke out the regiment consisted of the two Regular battalions and eight Territorial Army battalions in varying roles the 4th to 9th and two tank battalions 43rd and 49th Royal Tank Regiment formed from the 6th Battalion two more battalions 10th and 70th described as non Field Force were formed in October 1939 and September 1940 In contrast in the Great War there were 51 battalions The Roll of Honour lists 895 dead 16 000 in WWI two VCs were awarded and 29 Battle Honours 5 and 67 in the previous war Between them the battalions served in France 1939 40 N Africa Singapore Italy Egypt Syria Palestine NW Europe 1944 45 India and Greece Although officially a machine gun regiment during the period 1937 to 1945 some battalions of the RNF were given other roles in some cases permanently in others temporarily e g the 5th became a Search Light regiment RA the 8th Battalion a Reconnaissance battalion All these changes are made clear as the narrative proceeds Despite the title the book takes the history from the end of the Great War and describes the period between wars In general it is set out in chronological order although there is some departure from this in detail This is due partly to campaigns and other events overlapping and partly to the need to give some degree of continuity to the story of each battalion In addition to the list of the dead of WWII and a summary of Honours and Awards in tabular form there are also in a separate appendix details of the 1st Battalion casualties in Korea 69 dead 319 wounded missing and PoW and the list of awards Another appendix gives the names of all battalion commanding officers throughout the war This is a very business like well written and well laid out history easy to follow The Royal Northumberland Fusiliers Great Britain. Walker,1919 The Newcastle Commercial Ian S. Johnson,2021-12-08 The planning for the raising of what was to become 16th Service Battalion Northumberland Fusiliers started within two days of the outbreak of the war The initial efforts took on a more professional look within a month when the Newcastle Chambers of Commerce set about raising money and aiming to raise several battalions in response to Lord Kitchener s call for men The outcome was a Pals battalion the 1st Newcastle Commercial Arriving in France at the end of 1915 the battalion like so many others of its type had its first experience of a major action on the Somme on 1st July 1916 in its case in the forlorn attempt to capture the German front line village of Thiepval The outcome is well known a disaster that ravaged the battalion s ranks However the battalion was reinforced reorganized and took its part in actions at Ovillers and along the Ancre as the battle grinder on over the next four and a half months In 1917 it was involved in the advance on the Hindenburg Line and was then transferred to the North Sea coast with the intention of taking part in the daring plan to launch a major amphibious landing behind the German lines in the summer This was thwarted by a masterly pre emptive German counter stroke By the end of the year the battalion was engaged in operations in the northern part of the Salient after the Battle of Third Ypres Passchendaele had formally ended In early February 1918 the battalion was disbanded as part of a general reorganization of the BEF which saw divisions losing three of their twelve infantry battalions In outline it is a common story but as for all the Pals battalions its unusual origins and its very close connection to a local area in this case Newcastle provides an enduring fascination for today s generation Ian Johnson has worked extraordinarily hard to gather documents from members of the battalion letters diaries and recollections as well as numerous photographs He has prepared extensive appendices on its membership and its casualties The outcome is a fitting tribute to these young men from Newcastle men of a century ago who for whatever motive answered their country s call all too many of whom paid for it with their lives or their health Historical Record of the Fifth
