Scotland in Early Christian Times Joseph Anderson, 1881 George Mackay Brown Maggie Fergusson, 2012-06-21 George Mackay Brown was one of Scotland's greatest twentieth century writers but in person a bundle of paradoxes He had a wide international reputation but hardly left his native Orkney A prolific poet admired by such fellow poets as Seamus Heaney Ted Hughes and Charles Causley and hailed by the composer Peter Maxwell Davies as the most positive and benign influence ever on my own efforts at creation he was also an accomplished novelist shortlisted for the 1994 Booker Prize for Beside the Ocean of Time and a master of the short story When he died in 1996 he left behind an autobiography as deft as it is ultimately uninformative The lives of artists are as boring and also as uniquely fascinating as any or every other life he claimed Never a recluse he appeared open to his friends but probably revealed more of himself in his voluminous correspondence with strangers He never married indeed he once wrote I have never been in love in my life But some of his most poignant letters and poems were written to Stella Cartwright the Muse of Rose Street the gifted but tragic figure to whom he was once engaged and with whom he kept in touch until the end of her short life Maggie Fergusson interviewed George Mackay Brown several times and is the only biographer to whom he a reluctant subject gave his blessing Through his letters and through conversations with his wide acquaintance she discovers that this particular artist's life was not only fascinating but vivid courageous and surprising
