The New Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature: Volume 4, 1900-1950 George Watson,I. R. Willison,1972-12-07 More than fifty specialists have contributed to this new edition of volume 4 of The Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature The design of the original work has established itself so firmly as a workable solution to the immense problems of analysis articulation and coordination that it has been retained in all its essentials for the new edition The task of the new contributors has been to revise and integrate the lists of 1940 and 1957 to add materials of the following decade to correct and refine the bibliographical details already available and to re shape the whole according to a new series of conventions devised to give greater clarity and consistency to the entries

The Law of the Looking Glass Sheila Skaff,2008 The Law of the Looking Glass Cinema in Poland 1896 1939 reveals the complex relationship between nationhood national language and national cinema in Europe before World War II Author Sheila Skaff describes how the major issues facing the region before World War I from the relatively slow pace of modernization to the desire for national sovereignty shaped local practices in film production exhibition and criticism She goes on to analyze local film production practices of spectatorship in large cities and small towns clashes over language choice in intertitles and controversy surrounding the first synchronized sound experiments before World War I Skaff depicts the creation of a national film industry in the newly independent country the golden years of the silent cinema the transition from silent to sound film and debates in the press over this transition as well as the first Polish and Yiddish talkies She places particular importance on conflicts in majority minority relations in the region and the types of collaboration that led to important films such as The Dybbuk and The Ghosts The Law of the Looking Glass Cinema in Poland 1896 1939 is the first comprehensive history of the country's film industry before World War II This history is characterized by alternating periods of multilingual multiethnic production on the one hand and rejection of such inclusiveness on the other Through it all however runs a single unifying thread an appreciation for visual imagery Zabalbeascoa, 2024-12-30 This accessible textbook introduces the core concepts and issues of translation relevant for the training of audiovisual translators. Structured around different characteristics and problem areas in audiovisual translation (AVT), this text provides the scaffolding for shaping informed critical thinkers and astute translators. Adopting a theory-driven approach with short theoretical introductions and clear definitions, the author incorporates challenging issues to encourage readers to find their own answers and opinions. Translation technology is explored where relevant, and current online resources will be introduced but discussed in a timeless fashion without focusing on specific software so that the thinking can be applied to and reconciled with evolving and future platforms as well as other modes of translation. Each chapter includes an introduction to concepts and issues, explanations and debate, a wide range of examples and exercises, and questions throughout. Written by a leading researcher and practising teacher with experience freelancing in the AVT field, this is the ideal core textbook for students on postgraduate courses in AVT and of interest to both practising translators and students in translation studies, multimodal analysis, languages and film studies.
