Australian Books and Authors in the American Marketplace 1840s-1940s David Carter,Roger Osborne,2018-07-02 Australian Books and Authors in the American Marketplace 1840s 1940s explores how Australian writers and their works were present in the United States before the mid twentieth century to a much greater degree than previously acknowledged Drawing on fresh archival research and combining the approaches of literary criticism print culture studies and book history David Carter and Roger Osborne demonstrate that Australian writing was transnational long before the contemporary period In mapping Australian literature s connections to British and US markets their research challenges established understandings of national imperial and world literatures Carter and Osborne examine how Australian authors editors and publishers engaged productively with their American counterparts and how American readers and reviewers responded to Australian works They consider the role played by British publishers and agents in taking Australian writing to America and how the international circulation of new literary genres created new opportunities for novelists to move between markets Some of these writers such as Christina Stead and Patrick White remain household names others who once enjoyed international fame such as Dale Collins and Alice Grant Rosman have been largely forgotten The story of their books in America reveals how culture commerce and copyright law interacted to create both opportunities and obstacles for Australian writers

Christina Stead Hazel Rowley, 2013-03-01 This new edition of Hazel Rowley's highly acclaimed biography of Christina Stead brings to life one of the most important literary figures of her age Christina Stead left Australia in 1928 aged twenty six for Europe not to return to Australia until she was seventy two An intensely private person Stead lived a life that was stormy eccentric and brave Stead's fiction was large and passionate original and challenging as was her life Hazel Rowley's compelling biography is a vigorous penetrating and sympathetic chronicle of Stead's life and times

Enigmatic Christina Stead Teresa Petersen, 2016-10-18 This is a remarkably stimulating new approach to Stead's fiction and to her psyche In this very strong reading often against the grain the author illuminates Stead's fiction in a way that has never been done before Chris Wallace Crabbe Christina Stead is arguably Australia's greatest female novelist Born and educated in Sydney she spent the greater part of her life abroad having left in 1928 to satisfy a wandering impulse The most famous of her thirteen novels The Man Who Loved Children 1940 is an acknowledged masterpiece of twentieth century fiction Stead's concentrated emotional intensity her interest in extraordinary passion and her keen sense of fantasy and the grotesque have led to comparisons with D H Lawrence Dostoevsky and Dickens Immediately striking are her strong imaginative power and range her verbal brilliance and her acute penetration of character The enigma identified and skilfully unravelled by Teresa Petersen surprisingly has hitherto been unexamined Overtly Stead presents the heterosexual norm as the paradigm par excellence yet she portrays no happy heterosexual relationships or marriages only miserable compromises More covertly lesbian eroticism pervades her fiction Usually shrouded in silence it imperceptibly surfaces and disappears sliding in and out of the narrative Petersen argues compellingly that although Stead's texts appear on the surface to be saturated with the heterosexual norm this is a fa ade that masks both lesbian and male homosexual desire By elucidating Stead's subtextual preoccupation with homosexuality Petersen challenges conventional scholarship and shifts our view of both Stead's work and her life many others Sand In Our Souls Leone Huntsman, 2013-05-09 Images of the beach pervade Australian popular culture. However, the deeper significance of the experience of the beach and its influence on Australian culture generally have not yet been seriously explored. How, why, and when did the beach become part of the Australian way of life? In Sand in our Souls, Leone Huntsman describes the forces and pressures that encouraged or impeded Australians' enjoyment of sand and surf, from early enjoyment of bathing through nearly a century of repressive restrictions to freedom won in the face of drawn-out opposition. The ways in which artists, writers, film makers, and the advertising industry have depicted the beach are examined for the light they throw on the beach's significance. She traces the development of a distinctively Australian way of being at the beach, suggesting that the beach experience has been absorbed into our emerging culture and continues to shape it in subtle ways. Huntsman's provocative arguments will stimulate debate on the concept of national identity appropriate for a new Australian century and promote a deeper understanding of an aspect of life in Australia that is cherished by many of those who live here. A Companion to Australian Literature Since 1900 Nicholas Birns, Rebecca McNeer, 2007 A fresh twenty-first century look at Australian literature in a broad, inclusive, and multicultural sense. The Harbour Scott Bevan, 2017-11-01 The finest harbour deserves the finest book. A colourful, fascinating, and enduring account of the greatest waterway in the hemisphere. Simon Winchester: This book is a joy to read. And essential for anyone who loves Sydney Harbour. And who doesn't? Ken Done: In the bestselling tradition of Peter Ackroyd's The Thames, a celebration of one of the world's great waterways. Everyone knows Sydney Harbour. At least we think we do. Everyone can see the harbour, whether we have ever been to Sydney or not. By as little as a word or two, the harbour floats into our mind's eye: The Bridge, The Opera House, Fireworks on New Year's Eve. When we see those images, we feel a sense of belonging. No matter who we are or where we're from, we see the harbour and we feel good. In this beautiful, authoritative, and meditative journey, Scott Bevan takes us from cove to cove by kayak, yacht, and barge to gather the harbour's stories, past and present, from boat builders, ship captains, and fishermen to artists, divers, historians, and environmentalists, from signs of ancient life to the submarine invasion by the Japanese and the natural beauty that inspires people every day. This is the ultimate story of Sydney Harbour, a city's heart and a country's soul. Cartography and Art William Cartwright, Georg Gartner, Antje Lehn, 2009-02-26 This book is the fruition of work from contributors to the Art and Cartography Cartography and Art symposium held in Vienna in February 2008. This meeting brought together cartographers who were interested in the design and aesthetics elements of cartography and artists who use maps as the basis for their art or who incorporate place and space in their expressions. The outcome of bringing together these like minds culminated in a wonderful event spanning three evenings and two days in the Austrian capital. Papers, exhibitions, and installations provided a forum for appreciating the endeavors of artists and cartographers and their representations of geography. As well as indulging in an expansive and expressive occasion, attendees were able to reflect on their own work and discuss similar elements in each other's work. It also allowed cartographers and artists to discuss the potential for collaboration in future research and development To recognise the significance of this event paper authors were invited to further develop their work and contribute chapters to this book We believe that this book marks both a significant occasion in Vienna and a starting point for future collaborative efforts between artists and cartographers The editors would like to acknowledge the work of Manuela Schmidt and Felix Ortig who undertook the task of the design and layout of the chapters

Suburban Space, the Novel and Australian Modernity Brigid Rooney, 2018-11-15 Suburban Space the Novel and Australian Modernity investigates the interaction between suburbs and suburbia in a century long series of Australian novels It puts the often trenchantly anti suburban rhetoric of fiction in dialogue with its evocative and imaginative rendering of suburban place and time Suburban Space the Novel and Australian Modernity rethinks existing cultural debates about suburbia in Australia and elsewhere by putting novelistic representations of suburbs suburban interiors homes streets forms and lives over time in dialogue with the often negative idea of suburbia in fiction as an amnesic and conformist cultural wasteland Suburban space the novel and Australian modernity shows in other words how Australian novels dramatize the collision between the sensory terrain of the remembered suburb and the cultural critique of suburbia It is through such contradictions that novels create resonant mental maps of place and time Australian novels are a prism through which suburbs as sites of everyday colonization defined by successive waves of urban development are able to be glimpsed sidelong
