Bibliography of Economics British Library of Political and Economic Science, 1993 IBSS is the essential tool for librarians university departments research institutions and any public or private institution whose work requires access to up to date and comprehensive knowledge of the social sciences South Asia Trade and Energy Security Narottam P.

Banskota, 2012 Today policy makers in both developed and developing countries are pursuing regionalization as a means to achieve easier market access economies of scale and welfare gains South Asia Trade and Energy Security explains how regional economic cooperation in trade and energy security could help facilitate the economic transformation of the region reducing poverty and expanding production Currently intra regional trade in South Asia is constrained by tariff and non tariff barriers A fully functional free trade area as envisaged in the South Asian Free Trade Area agreement has yet to be realized This book explains the current patterns and limitations of energy trade between countries in South Asia and how the growing demand for energy could be met by working closely with energy rich Iran Burma and Central Asian countries Cross border cooperation between India and China Chinese investment in Tibet and Xinxiang and water relations are also discussed Policymakers geopolitical strategists and academics working in Asian Studies will appreciate this detailed analysis of how globalization and regional cooperation in trade and energy are playing a transformative role in South Asia s economic development South Asian Economic Development Moazzem Hossain, Rajat Kathuria, Iyanatul Islam, 2010 South Asia s developing nations have been enjoying moderate to high growth over the past decade before the global recession began This new edition provides an up to date guide to the growing markets in South Asia It offers an analysis of the changes and consequences of high sustainable growth investigating what has been achieved in the region during the last ten years from a macroeconomic viewpoint identifying new challenges and clearly defining what has driven the boom The first part of the textbook presents an analysis of how South Asia is rated against Southeast and East Asia in recent decades in economic and social terms The second part of the text focuses on South Asia s economic development over 1990s and mid 2000s and the third and final part identifies those major governance issues which were responsible for South Asia s underperformance both socially and economically It is widely recognised that globalisation enhanced global trade and that trade further increased the region s prosperity Embracing the view that economists can no longer regard themselves as technocratic guardians of neutral policy advice the book advocates for a shift in focus from policy reform per se to the more challenging task of implementing institutional reform that will invigorate the capability of the political leadership to bring about rapid sustained and poverty reducing growth in South Asia The central task would be to re direct the focus of governments in South Asia in order to ensure that the core functions of the state stable non distortionary policy climate a secure foundation of law investment in basic education health and infrastructure protection of the vulnerable and adapting with the climate change are efficiently provided At the same time the reform agenda must be sensitive to the goal of ensuring that durable democratic institutions traditions and values are preserved This is a fundamental challenge but one that must be met in order to secure the emergence of a prosperous South Asia in the early part of the twenty first century This textbook will be useful for students and researchers in Development Economics Business Economics Development Studies and Asian Studies

Re-imagining Border Studies in South Asia Dhananjay Tripathi, 2020-12-23 This book presents a radical rethinking of Border Studies Framing the discipline beyond conventional topics of spatiality and territoriality it presents a distinctly South Asian perspective a post colonial and post partition region where most borders were drawn with political motives ignoring the socio cultural realities of the region and economic necessities of the people The authors argue that while securing borders is an essential function of the state in this interconnected world crossing borders and border cooperation is also necessary The book examines contemporaneous and topical themes like disputes of identity and nationhood the impact of social media on Border Studies trans border cooperation water sharing between countries and resolution of border problems in the age of liberalisation and globalisation It also suggests ways of enhancing cross border economic cooperation and connectivity and reviews security issues from a new perspective Well supplemented with case studies the book will serve as an indispensable text for scholars and researchers of Border Studies military and strategic studies international relations geopolitics and South Asian studies It will also be of great interest to think tanks and government agencies especially those dealing with foreign relations

Cross-Border Integration of Renewable Energy Systems Venkatachalam Anbumozhi, Bhupendra Kumar Singh, 2023-09-19 Cross border energy trade and integration of renewable energy have become significant for countries and regions to meet demands minimize costs and foster socio economic and climate stability in the dynamic and unstable energy market This book explores different models of global energy trade between regions and their benefits and challenges with a special focus on India's Northeast region Countries in South and Southeast Asia are endowed with abundant renewable energy resources. This book examines the energy mix of the countries such as India, Myanmar, Thailand, Bangladesh, and Bhutan among others and their efforts to achieve more integrated markets and renewable energy integration in the region. It highlights the potential of Northeast India given its rich natural resources and strategic location to harness the potential cross-border energy trade with ASEAN countries. The volume provides analytical perspectives on drivers, constraints, opportunities, and barriers, as well as measures that countries could take to address institutional, financial, policy, and governance issues to minimize the total costs of energy security and maximize the social economic benefits for people in these regions. It identifies the necessary conditions, grid flexibility, policy, market, and regulatory solutions for clean energy trade and contributes to growth of low carbon development as well as policy making by focusing on renewable energy integration across borders. This volume will be of interest to students and researchers of energy and climate studies, environmental politics, trade, and economics, and international relations. This book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at www.taylorfrancis.com under a Creative Commons CC BY-NC-ND 4.0 license.

The Future of South-South Economic Relations Adil Najam, Rachel Thrasher, 2012-12-13. In recent years it has become apparent that South-South economic relations are increasing and will continue to do so. There will be more trade agreements and more trade, more economic alliances, and more political alliances with economic goals, more investment flows, and an increasing acknowledgement that the Global South has more to offer than it has in the past. These new economic relations have great potential both for harm and for good. In the absence of directed policies and intentional actors, imbalances of power and growing gaps in development will persist. With the right policies in place, however, these relationships could forge a new global order with greater economic and political equality. Covering a wide range of topics including regional trade integration in Africa, the environmental impact of increased South-South trade, the changing patterns of South-South investment, and the effect of conflict on trade in South Asia, this ground-breaking volume presents an analysis of South-South economic relations and how they might impact and be impacted by the rest of the world.

The South Asian Energy Corridor Amritanshu Shukla, Atul Shama, Saurabh Mishra, 2024-08-23. This new volume offers up-to-date coverage of the energy scenario in South Asia, showcasing the major challenges being faced in the South Asian Energy Corridor in the context of energy security versus clean energy. The volume explores the role of diversifying supplies for the future to gain energy security that can lead to mapping joint ventures among conventional rival countries, especially due to the rapidly emerging economies of this region. India, China, Japan, and Pakistan, by their location and demography, occupy a major role in this corridor. The book examines the role of major technologies vis-à-vis dominant energy players in South Asia to put checks and balances on energy security along with clean energy resources hand in hand. The economics along with the geopolitics of various pipelines, ports, and regional strategic relations strongly favor developing an energy bond among nations with both technologies as well as markets available within the same region. The book strongly suggests increasing strategic energy cooperation between the major energy players to maximize mutual interest and reduce carbon emission for larger interests The volume first provides an overview of the South Asia Energy Corridor It then goes on to look at the energy scenarios in the countries of the region considering India s need for energy security and for clean energy initiatives The topics include advances in renewable energy in the region new fossil fuel reserves exploration in South Asia advances in wind and solar energy in the region and so much more
