Regional Diversity Growth In The United States 1960 199:

Regional Disparities in Small Countries Daniel Felsenstein, Boris A. Portnov, 2005-12-28 1 2 Daniel Felsenstein and Boris A Portnov 1 Department of Geography Hebrew University of Jerusalem Israel 2 Department of Natural Resources and Environmental Management University of Haifa Israel During the Candiot War of 1645 1669 the Ottoman Sultan Ibrahim I ordered his chief admiral to attack Malta Fearing imminent defeat by the superior Venetian forces stationed on the island the admiral decided to trick the sultan out of the idea As the story goes he placed a candle on his naval map allowing the wax to drip on the tiny island until it was completely covered Then he exclaimed in false surprise Malta Yok There is no Malta and convinced the sultan to sail his fleet to the Island of Crete instead Although Malta is not featured in this volume most of the countries it covers are of wax drip size Intuitively it may be expected that everything in small countries is diminutive distances population economies and even regional inequalities Thus at a symposium on The Challenge of Development convened in Israel in 1957 to mark the inauguration of a new building for the Department of Economics at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem the eminent US economist Simon Kuznets stated that developed small states seem to have succeeded in spreading the fruits of economic growth more widely among their populations than the larger states at comparable levels of income per capita Public Affairs Information Service Bulletin ,1988 Geography and Earth Sciences Publications, 1968-1972 ,1978 City in Transition Frank Akpadock, 2012-03 In a climate of scarce financial resources where federal and state fiscal assistance to cities has dwindled quantitatively all civic leaders must somehow find a way to provide long term vision a good business climate and diverse economic development planning strategies to grow their cities economies Such plans should be strategically flexible and adaptable to change yet strong enough to withstand the whirlwinds and vicissitudes of the constantly changing national and global economies Youngstown Ohio achieved its success through the visionary leadership of its city mayors who partnered with local University leadership tapping into their invaluable assets of knowledge capital and technology transfer capacities while at the same time mobilizing public support from labor businesses foundations and other entrepreneurial stakeholders to provide assistance with the city s economic recovery City in Transition is a landmark testimonial assessment of tried and true economic development strategies of Youngstown mayors visionary leaderships to revive and grow the city s declining economy following its steel mill closings in the late 1970s Economic development strategies together with city size reclassification into a smaller post industrial city created a classic leadership story of foresight that transcended the city s economic regeneration per se to garner both national recognition and international attention Subject and Name Indexes to Publications of the Commission on Population Growth and the American Future United States. Commission on Population Growth and the American Future, 1975 The Asian-American Almanac Susan B. Capital Flows and the Emerging Economies Sebastian Edwards, 2008-04-15 The 1990s witnessed several acute currency crises among developing nations that invariably spread to other nearby at risk countries These episodes in Mexico Thailand South Korea Russia and Brazil were all exacerbated by speculative foreign investments and high volume movements of capital in and out of those countries Insufficient domestic controls and a sluggish international response further undermined these economies as well as the credibility of external oversight agencies like the International Monetary Fund This timely volume examines the correlation between volatile capital mobility currency instability and the threat of regional contagion focusing particular attention on the emergent economies of Latin America Southeast Asia and Eastern Europe Together these studies offer a new understanding of the empirical relationship between capital flows international trade and economic performance and also afford key insights into realms of major policy concern

Region-Building in Africa Daniel H. Levine, Dawn Nagar, 2016-05-19 This landmark book is the first of its kind to assess the challenges of African region building and regional integration across all five African sub regions and more than five decades of experience considering both political and economic aspects Leading scholars and practitioners come together to analyze a range of entwined topics including the theoretical underpinnings that have informed Africa's regional integration trajectory the political economy of integration including the sources of different waves of integration in pan Africanism and the reaction to neo liberal economic pressures the complexities of integration in a context of weak states and the informal regionalization that often occurs in borderlands the increasing salience of Africa's relationships with rising extra regional economic powers including China and India and comparative lessons from non African regional blocs including the EU ASEAN and the Southern Common Market A core argument of this book running through all chapters is that region building must be recognized as a political project as much as if not more than an economic one successful region building in Africa will need to include the complex political tasks of strengthening state capacity including states capacity as developmental states that can actively engage in economic planning resolving long standing conflicts over resources and political dominance improving democratic governance and developing trans national political structures that are legitimate and inclusive

Exploitation of Natural Resources in the 21st Century M. Fitzmaurice, Malgosia Fitzmaurice, Milena Szuniewicz, 2003-01-01 Sustainable development and the protection of the environment are concepts that have become inescapably connected At the World Summit on Sustainable Development in Johannesburg in September 2002 the challenges facing the global environment were discussed at length Air water and marine pollution continue to rob millions of a decent life loss of biodiversity continues fish stocks are being depleted desertification claims more fertile land climate changes are having devastating effects natural disasters are more frequent and developing countries are even more vulnerable Principle 13 This volume examines these important issues and adapts a practical approach It outlines the programme of sustainable development in concrete fields of economic and environmental cooperation The concept for this volume originated from the Conference on Exploitation and Management of Natural Resources in the Twenty First Century The Challenge of Sustainable Development The Conference was organised by the British Institute of International and Comparative Law and the Department of Law at Queen Mary University of London

Global Trends in Real Estate Finance Graeme Newell, Karen Sieracki, 2009-10-08 To operate effectively in today's dynamic global real estate markets it is essential to understand the complex processes that underpin them This up to date work which brings together contributions from industry and academic experts from around the world is a valuable corollary to effective investment decision making within the property sector and will be of interest to post graduate property students researchers and practising real estate investors Recent years have seen some rapid developments in the global scale and structure of real estate markets Such transformations have been paralleled by significant changes in the financial structures and processes that serve these markets including sophisticated new investment and finance structures and products Examples of these include the real estate investment trusts REIT products that have been developed in USA Europe and Asia the range of unlisted products emerging in UK and Europe and the innovative financing structures being developed in many countries Global Trends in Real Estate Finance addresses this emerging complexity and sophistication in contemporary real estate markets by discussing the history merits and implications of a range of products and processes Also examined are the changes in the practices and environment needed to ensure the success of these property products including increased disclosure corporate governance market transparency and improved skills base Chapters are written by leading international contributors both academic and practitioner The context is explicitly international with a focus on UK Europe Asia Australia and the USA The aim is to identify specific market areas to describe the key innovations rather than simply providing a description of various geographical markets

Crosscurrents Reed Ueda, 2016 This book provides an original perspective on American immigration that transcends the standard compartmentalization of American immigration into separate Atlantic European and Pacific Asian spheres and narratives that has blocked a fuller view of inter regionalism and globalism In contrast this volume reveals modern migration to the U S as a bridge connecting the multiple peoples of the Atlantic and Pacific regions It focuses on cross cultural change and mutual adaptation between European and Asian immigrants an innovative process that produced global diversity and multicultural convergence Provided by publisher
