Religion And Power In Morocco:

Religion and Power in Morocco Henry Munson, 1993-01-01 In this book a well known anthropologist traces the evolution of the political role of Islam in Morocco from the seventeenth century to present times Integrating history and anthropology in a way very different from Clifford Geertz's famous study of 1968 Henry Munson organizes his book around a series of conflicts that have exemplified the myth of the righteous man of God who dares to defy an unjust sultan Grounding his book in the relevant indigenous texts and on two years of ethnographic fieldwork Munson suggests a more solidly substantiated alternative to the social history of the imagination advocated by Geertz and he illustrates the consequences of neglecting the historical and symbolic contexts of events by examining Geertz's interpretation of the conflict between the seventeenth century scholar cum saint al Yusi and the sultan Mulay Ismail Munson argues that the religious facets of power cannot be understood without reference to factors like force and fear and he suggests that anthropological analyses of sacred kingship in Morocco have often been distorted by their neglect of such matters and by their failure to distinguish between the religious rhetoric of rulers and the religious beliefs of those they rule Munson examines the social historical roots of the fundamentalist opposition to the regime of King Hassan II who has reigned since 1961 and the reasons for its relative weakness when compared with its counterparts in Iran and Algeria He shows to what extent Moroccan fundamentalism is rooted in classical Islamic notions of just rule and to what extent it represents an invented tradition similar to recent forms of politicized revivalism in other religions

Sufism in Morocco's Religious Politics John C. Thibdeau, 2023-07-25 This book outlines the role of Sufism in Moroccan politics in the twenty first century through a comparative study of contemporary Sufi organizations The author begins his analysis by highlighting the strategies employed by the Moroccan state over the past twenty years aimed at regulating and producing an authorized Moroccan Islam in the kingdom Despite these policies of spiritual security and spiritual diplomacy including the state sponsorship of Sufi organizations the author argues that this has not decreased diversity nor produced a banal interpretation of Islam but rather given rise to diverse articulations and performances of this religiosity Through a comparative analysis of three Sufi organizations based on eighteen months of fieldwork two of which have never before been studied the author brings into relief the spaces of creative enactment of Sufism as an ethical tradition Ultimately it is argued that each Sufi organization reflects a different refraction of Islam a concept emphasising the cultivation of public piety which underpins the Moroccan state's formulation of Islam Focused on both theoretical contributions to Islamic studies and topical treatments of geopolitical issues like spiritual diplomacy the Western Sahara and Morocco Algeria the book spans multiple disciplines including anthropology religious studies sociology and political science

Islamist Radicalisation in North Africa George Joffe, 2012-06-12 In the current climate of political extremism and violence much attention has been directed towards radicalisation as the reasons behind such courses of action along with a conviction that those who are radicalised represent an irrational deviation from the conventionally accepted norms of social and political behaviour This book focuses on the current issues and analytical approaches to the phenomenon of radicalisation in North Africa Taking a comprehensive approach to the subject it looks at the processes that lead to radicalisation rather than the often violent outcomes At the same time chapters expand the discussion historically and conceptually beyond the preoccupations of recent years in order to develop a more holistic understanding of a complex individual and collective process that has represented a permanent challenge to dominant political social and on occasion economic norms With contributions from academics and policy makers within and outside the region the book is a comprehensive investigation of Islamist Radicalisation As such it will be of great interest to academics and students investigating North Africa and terrorism as well as specialists in radicalism and extremism

The Government and Politics of the Middle East and North Africa Mark Gasiorowski, 2016-08-02 A comprehensive country by country examination of the history domestic politics and foreign policies of the Middle East and North Africa

Structuring Conflict in the Arab World Ellen Lust-Okar, 2005-01-10 This book examines how ruling elites manage and manipulate their political opposition in the Middle East In contrast to discussions of government opposition relations that focus on how rulers either punish or co opt opponents this book focuses on the effect of institutional rules governing the opposition It argues rules determining who is and is not allowed to participate in the formal political arena affect not only the relationships between opponents and the state but also between various opposition groups This affects the dynamics of opposition during prolonged economic crises It also shapes the informal strategies that ruling elites use toward opponents The argument is presented using a formal model of government opposition relations It is demonstrated in the cases of Egypt under Presidents Nasir Sadat and Mubarek Jordan under King Husayn and Morocco under King Hasan II

Government and Politics of the Middle East and North Africa Sean Yom, 2019-10-30 The latest edition of this renowned textbook explores the states and regimes of the Middle East and North Africa Presenting heavily revised fully updated chapters contributed by the world s leading experts it analyzes the historical trajectory political institutions economic development and foreign policies of the region s nearly two dozen countries The volume can be used in conjunction with its sister volume The Societies of the Middle East and North Africa for a comprehensive overview of the region Chapters are organized and structured identically giving insightful windows into the nuances of each country s domestic politics and foreign relations Data tables and extensive annotated bibliographies orient readers towards further research Whether used in conjunction with its sister volume or on its own this book provides the most comprehensive and detailed overview of the region s varied politics Five new experts cover the critical country cases of Turkey Lebanon Jordan Saudi Arabia and Iran All chapters cover the latest events including trends that have remarkably changed in just a few years like the gradual end of the Syrian civil war As such this textbook is invaluable to students of Middle Eastern politics The ninth edition brings substantial changes All chapters also have a uniform streamlined structure that explores the historical context social and economic environment political institutions regime dynamics and foreign policy of each country Fact boxes and political maps are now far more extensive and photographs and images also help illustrate key points Annotated bibliographies are vastly expanded providing nothing short of the best list of research references for each country The Princeton Encyclopedia of Islamic Political Thought Gerhard Bowering, Patricia Crone, Mahan Mirza, 2013 In 1433 of the Muslim calendar the Islamic population throughout the world was estimated at approximately a billion and a half representing about one fifth of humanity In geographical terms Islam occupies the center of the world stretching like a big belt across the globe from east to west P vii Guardians of Women's Career Experiences in Moroccan Businesses Mouna Izelmaden, 2024-06-27 Existing literature on women career development focuses on western industrialized countries and gives little attention to regions where patriarchy is prevailing like in North African countries The limited available research in the region takes a business oriented perspective to investigate the topic and focuses on business process optimization for an increased profitability In an attempt to close this gap the present book takes a sociological lens to investigate meanings and interpretations that skilled women in Moroccan organizations give to their experiences This project sought to understand how Moroccan professional women take decisions about their career path while taking a multi level approach to examine contextual factors In this book Bourdieu's theory of practice was used as a theoretical framework to examine the interplay of the different factors impacting the development of women career paths Using a qualitative research approach under the interpretivist paradigm and drawing on in depth interviews with 10 participants this research investigated female and male conceptualization of career and work objectives

Revolutionaries and Reformers Barry Rubin, 2012-02-01 Islamist movements seeking power today are faced with difficult choices regarding strategy ranging from armed struggle to electoral efforts An emerging alternative consists of a rethinking of Islamist politics where the goal of a totally Islamic polity would be abandoned in favor of some form of Islamic oriented society In this reformulation Islamist politics would function as a pressure group to make society more Islamic reinforcing the walls of semi separate internal communities and reinterpreting Islam in more liberal ways The September 11 2001 terror attack on the United States however demonstrates that the radical approach remains attractive to many Islamists Addressing these issues the contributors look at the countries where Islamist movements have been most important Case studies of revolutionary and reformist groups are followed by chapters discussing future alternatives for Islamist politics presenting arguments both advocating and critical of a potential liberal reformist interest group Islamism Women in Sufism Marta Dominguez Diaz, 2014-10-24 Exploring the diverse myriad of female religious identities that exist within the various branches of the Moroccan Sufi Order Q diriyya B dsh shiyya today this book evidences a wide array of religious identities from those more typical of Berber culture to those characterised by a sober approach to Sufism as well as those that denote New Age eclecticism The book researches the ways in which religious discourses are corporeally endorsed After providing an overview of the Order historically and today enunciating the processes by which this local tar qa from North eastern Morocco has become the international organization that it is now the book explores the religious body in movement in performance and in relation to the social order It analyses pilgrimage by assessing the annual visit that followers of Hamza B dsh sh make to the central lodge of the Order in Mad gh it explores bodily religious enactments in ritual performance by discussing the central practices of Sufi ritual as manifested in the B dsh shiyya and delves attention into diverse understandings of faith healing and health issues Women and Sufism provides a detailed insight into religious healing sufi rituals and sufi pilgrimage and is essential reading for those seeking to understand Islam in Morocco or those with an interest in Anthropology and Middle East studies more generally

Religion and Contemporary Politics Timothy J. Demy, Jeffrey M. Shaw Ph.D., 2019-09-19 With respect to the countries of the world this work addresses two basic questions How does religion affect politics in this country and How does politics affect religion in this country Although there are many books on the topics of religion and politics reference works that consider the two together are few with those that do exist primarily addressing theory rather than trends The present work does the latter contextualizing them within regional and national boundaries In so doing it recognizes the power of political and religious ideas and movements on individuals communities and nations making the work a valuable resource for several disciplines among them political science international relations religion and sociology The work focuses on the interplay of religion and politics in countries around the world with an emphasis on the post 2000s It is organized by global geographic regions including Africa Central and South America and the Middle East and presents countries alphabetically within those sections Each region has a brief overview of the political religious dynamics of the area so readers can compare and contrast the dynamics between and among countries in a region The work also includes an introduction sidebars and a bibliography

Key Issues in African Diplomacy Sven Botha, Jo-Ansie van Wyk, 2024-06-28 Africa s unique position as an international diplomatic actor has not always been given the attention it deserves This volume bridges this gap by offering a fresh comprehensive and realistic overview of African diplomacy The book examines African diplomatic practice Chapters explore how different types of diplomacy have developed over time including energy diplomacy economic diplomacy and quiet diplomacy Crucially the book assesses how certain events have allowed Africa to use certain types of diplomacy to yield better outcomes for itself Including contributions from an international team of scholars policy makers and experts from the diplomatic world the book provides a comprehensive guide to African diplomacy and challenges the current dominant usage of Northern perspectives on diplomacy studies

The Power of Islam in Morocco Mohamed El Mansour, Taylor & Francis Group, 2021-09-30 The study of Muslim societies has been for a long time the appanage of western Orientalists and European ethnographers whose view from the outside rarely accounted for the complex reality of these societies This Variorum volume by an eminent North African historian follows the development of Islam in Morocco as a social phenomenon over the last five centuries During this period the nature of North African societies and political systems was profoundly changed and shaped by the emergence of a new form of Islamic religiosity based on the glorification of Prophet Muhammad and the veneration of popularly acclaimed saints From being a purely religious phenomenon the devotion shown to the Prophet and his lineage turned into a major principle of legitimacy in both the religious and political fields In fact as legitimacy tended to center around the prophetic lineage Moroccan society witnessed an intense rivalry between saints and sultans or spiritual and temporal leaders with the latter trying to keep the saints and the sufis within a strictly religious sphere This rivalry between the two parties is crucial to the understanding of modern Maghribi history as well as the present Moroccan political system CS1082 Schooling Islam

Robert W. Hefner, Muhammad Qasim Zaman, 2010-12-16 Since the Taliban seized Kabul in 1996 the public has grappled with the relationship between Islamic education and radical Islam Media reports tend to paint madrasas religious schools dedicated to Islamic learning as medieval institutions opposed to all that is Western and as breeding grounds for terrorists Others have claimed that without reforms Islam and the West are doomed to a clash of civilizations Robert Hefner and Muhammad Qasim Zaman bring together eleven internationally renowned scholars to examine the varieties of modern Muslim education and their implications for national and global politics The contributors provide new insights into Muslim culture and politics in countries as different as Morocco Egypt Pakistan India Indonesia Iran and Saudi Arabia They demonstrate that Islamic education is neither timelessly traditional nor medieval but rather complex evolving and diverse in its institutions and practices They reveal that a struggle for hearts and minds in Muslim lands started long before the Western media discovered madrasas and that Islamic schools remain on its front line Schooling Islam is the most comprehensive work available in any language on madrasas and Islamic education Between Humanitarianism and

Evangelism in Faith-based Organisations May Ngo, 2018-04-27 Religion has always played an important if often contested role in the public domain This book focuses on how faith based organisations FBOs interact with the public sphere showing how faith based actors are themselves shaped by wider processes and global forces such as globalisation migration foreign policy and neoliberal markets Focusing on a case study of an FBO in Morocco which gives aid to sub Saharan African irregular migrants the book reveals some of the challenges the organisation faces as it tries to negotiate at once local national and international contexts through their particular Christian values This book contends that the contradictions tensions and ambiguities that arise are primarily a result of the organisation having to negotiate a normative global secular liberalism which requires a strict demarcation between religion and politics and religion and the secular Faith based actors particularly within humanitarianism have to constantly navigate this divide and in examining the question of how religious values translate into humanitarian and development practices categories such as religion the secular and politics and the boundaries between them will need to be interrogated This book explores the diversity and complexity of the work of FBOs and will be of great interest to students and researchers working at the intersections of humanitarianism and development studies politics and religion
