Roots Of Gospel Part 1:

Canada's Residential Schools: The History, Part 1, Origins to 1939 Commission de vérité et réconciliation du Canada, 2016-01-01 Between 1867 and 2000 the Canadian government sent over 150 000 Aboriginal children to residential schools across the country Government officials and missionaries agreed that in order to civilize and Christianize Aboriginal children it was necessary to separate them from their parents and their home communities For children life in these schools was lonely and alien Discipline was harsh and daily life was highly regimented Aboriginal languages and cultures were denigrated and suppressed Education and technical training too often gave way to the drudgery of doing the chores necessary to make the schools self sustaining Child neglect was institutionalized and the lack of supervision created situations where students were prey to sexual and physical abusers Legal action by the schools former students led to the creation of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission of Canada in 2008 The product of over six years of research the Commission s final report outlines the history and legacy of the schools and charts a pathway towards reconciliation Canada s Residential Schools The History Part 1 Origins to 1939 places Canada s residential school system in the historical context of European campaigns to colonize and convert Indigenous people throughout the world In post Confederation Canada the government adopted what amounted to a policy of cultural genocide suppressing spiritual practices disrupting traditional economies and imposing new forms of government Residential schooling quickly became a central element in this policy The destructive intent of the schools was compounded by chronic underfunding and ongoing conflict between the federal government and the church missionary societies that had been given responsibility for their day to day operation A failure of leadership and resources meant that the schools failed to control the tuberculosis crisis that gripped the schools for much of this period Alarmed by high death rates Aboriginal parents often refused to send their children to the schools leading the government adopt ever more coercive attendance regulations While parents became subject to ever more punitive regulations the government did little to regulate discipline diet fire safety or sanitation at the schools By the period s end the government was presiding over a nation wide series of firetraps that had no clear educational goals and were economically dependent on the unpaid labour of underfed and often sickly children

Natural Religion Davis Baird,2025-06-19 Davis Baird s grandfather Earl Clement Davis 1876 1953 was a Unitarian minister from 1905 to 1953 Baird was born a year after his grandfather died and never knew him But he inherited a trunk of his manuscripts He grew up without any religion today he would be called a none one with no religious affiliation or church membership This book shares his discovery of his grandfather s approach to religion His grandfather denied any supernatural sources for or elements of religion he was an enthusiastic advocate for science He vigorously argued against all authoritarian forms of governance religious and civil He believed in human divinity the power of humans to develop and pursue ideals of truth beauty and goodness to make the world better The living God for his grandfather was a God that lives in humans has lived in humans for millennia striving to create a reality of truth beauty and goodness of justice for all of a heaven on earth This is what Baird calls natural religion An Illustration of the Hypothesis proposed in the Dissertation on the origin and composition of our three first Canonical Gospels. Marsh Herbert MARSH (successively Bishop of Llandaff and of Peterborough.),1803 The Church School Journal ,1889 World Christian Trends Ad30-ad2200 (hb) ,2001 A Dissertation on the Origin and Composition of Our Three First Canonical Gospels, by Herbert Marsh Herbert Marsh,1801 The Visions of Hung-Siu-Tshuen, and Origin of the Kwang-Si Insurrection Theodore Hamberg,1854 Christian Origins and the Ancient Economy David A. Fiensy,2014-07-22 What does economics have to do with Christian origins Why study such a connection First of all the New Testament makes many direct references to economic issues But second the economy affects every other aspect of life family religion community work health and politics To understand what it was like to live in a society one must understand what the economy was doing The study of the economy includes not only the goods and services of a society but also human labor and its control For one it entails the size of the pie of goods How prosperous was first century Galilee But the study of economy also takes account of the slice of the pie that each family obtained How fair was the economy to each family Those involved in the quest for the historical Jesus have discovered that the ancient economy is a major point of dispute among various interpreters Was the early Jesus movement a socioeconomic protest Or was it primarily a religious reform These two approaches understand Jesus in remarkably different ways This volume seeks to guide readers through some of the most controversial issues raised in the last twenty years on this important topic A Prophet like Moses (Deut 18:15, 18): The Origin, History, and Influence of the Mosaic Prophetic Succession David DeJong,2022-09-12 In this book DeJong explores Deuteronomy s redefinition of prophecy in Mosaic terms He traces the history of Deuteronomy s concept of the prophet like Moses from the seventh century BCE to the first century CE and demonstrates the ways in which Jewish and Christian texts were influenced by and responded to Deuteronomy s creation of a Mosaic norm for prophetic claims This wide ranging discussion illuminates the development of normative discourses in Judaism and Christianity and illustrates the far reaching impact of Deuteronomy s thought Origin, Doctrine, Constitution and Discipline of the United Brethren in Christ Church of the United Brethren in Christ (New constitution),1905
