Whitbourne,2012-12-06 For the last 5 years I have been living with 94 adults These 94 adults made up the sample of people in a study on adult development that Dale Dannefer and I began in 1980 This book represents my efforts to condense the almost 200 hours of tape recorded material from the 94 adults into a form that captures at least some of the diversity and also some of the commonalities in their answers to the ques tion Who am I My version of their answers is based on their reflections about themselves as family members workers and people with a goal in life In arriv ing at the conclusion that adults attempt to see themselves as loved competent and good human beings I believe that I have done justice to these people and their answers to my interview questions Arriving at the point of being able to write about these 94 people s identities has not been an easy process Countless attempts at numerically based rating systems were tried and discarded progressively until finally I decided to read all the trans cripts in sequence person by person rather than question by question What I found when I approached them as total individuals was surprising to me I found a vibrant theme of certainty and self assuredness in their identities that flew in the face of my previous ideas about developmental change in adulthood The
