Sharing Our Stories of Survival Sarah Deer, Bonnie Clairmont, Carrie A. Martell, 2008 A general introduction to the social and legal issues involved in acts of violence against Native women this book s contributors are lawyers social workers social scientists writers poets and victims In the U S Native women are more likely than women from any other group to suffer violence from rape and battery to more subtle forms of abuse and Sharing Our Stories of Survival explores the causes and consequences of such behavior The stories and case studies presented here are often painful and raw and the statistics are overwhelmingly grim but a countervailing theme also runs through this extremely informative volume Many of the women who appear in these pages are survivors often strengthened by their travails and the violence examined here is human violence meaning that it can be changed if only with much effort and education The first step is to lay out the truth for all to see and that is the purpose accomplished by this book

Sharing Our Success George Taylor Fulford, 2007 Reducing the persistent achievement gap between Aboriginal students and their peers is recognized as a national priority This report springs from a study of schools that despite extraordinary challenges are producing tangible progress for Aboriginal learners The research conducted in 2006 was designed to identify practices that appear to contribute to their success

Sharing the Legacy and Narrative Leadership Experiences of Black Women in Education Storman, Ashley N., Reddick, Destiny, 2024-08-28 The intersection of black feminism and gendered racism has formed a complex narrative that impacts black women's leadership specifically in predominantly white workspaces As society wrestles with persistent gender and racial disparities the stories of black women stand out as both bold and brilliant but stifle their professional opportunities and experiences in academia and education Despite standing as the most educated demographic nationally and displaying unmatched levels of labor market participation black women are alarmingly scarce in leadership roles across sectors also facing significant challenges as educational leaders Their ascent to higher positions is often impacted by barriers stemming from damaging stereotypes such as the angry black woman or the dangerous transition from being perceived as a work pet to a work threat Against this backdrop Sharing the Legacy and Narrative Leadership Experiences of Black Women in Education explores black women's challenges unraveling the narratives that need attention understanding and urgent action Sharing the Legacy and Narrative Leadership Experiences of Black Women in Education invites readers to step into the shoes of black women as leaders in academia and education providing an authentic and raw glimpse into their experiences The book challenges societal workplace expectations and attempts to reshape conversations around how intersectionality cross connects with diversity equity and inclusion By intertwining powerful storytelling with compelling research it seeks to dismantle the barriers that have hindered the progress of black women with a focus on offering relevant theoretical frameworks and the latest academic research The book empowers leaders educators and organizations to become allies in the fight for a more equitable workplace for black women in leadership It envisions a future where black women can feel empowered to be authentic while thriving and leading with unapologetic determination

Sharing Our Intellectual Traces Tracy Bridgeford, Karla Saari Kitalong, Bill Williamson, 2016-11-03 Administrators of academic professional and technical communication PTSC programs have long relied upon lore stories of what works to understand and communicate about the work of program administration Stories are interesting telling engaging and necessary But a discipline focused primarily on stories especially the ephemeral stories narrated at conferences and deliberated at department meetings usually suffice primarily to solve immediate problems and address day to day concerns and activities This edited collection captures some of those stories and layers them with theoretical perspectives and reflection to enhance their usefulness to the PTSC program administration community at large. Like the ephemeral stories, PTSC program administrators are accustomed to the stories told in this volume are set within specific institutional contexts that reflect specific institutional challenges. They emphasize the intellectual traces the debts the authors owe to those who have informed and transformed their administrative work. In so doing, this collection creates another conversation, albeit a robust, diverse, and theoretically informed one, around which program leaders might define or redefine their roles and re-envision their administrative work as the rich, complex intellectual engagement that we find it to be. This volume asks authors to move beyond a notion of administration as an activity based solely in institutional details and processes. In so doing, they emphasize theory as they share their reflections on core administrative processes and significant moments in the histories of their associated programs, thereby affording opportunities for critical examination in conjunction with practical advice.

Spiritual Direction: A Guide for Sharing the Father's Love Fr. Boniface Hicks, Fr. Thomas

Acklin, 2017. The need for spiritual direction or the accompaniment of a spiritual guide is becoming more prominent in a world where so many are suffering from so many wounds. With a harmonious integration of both timeless spiritual wisdom from the Catholic Church's tradition of prayer and direction and the insight of the psychological sciences, Fathers Thomas Acklin and Boniface Hicks offer a comprehensive guide for all who provide or seek spiritual direction. Spiritual Direction: A Guide for Sharing the Father's Love fortifies priests, religious, and lay faithful who embrace the ministry of spiritual direction and accompany the wounded, assist men and women in hearing the voice of God, and model the love and mercy of the Father for the many who are seeking Him but do not know Him or have false images of Him. This book also shows how various aspects of the spiritual life can emerge from and be fostered by a one-on-one relationship with a spiritual director. Together with concrete guidelines and numerous examples from personal experience, this book refers extensively to Sacred Scripture as the foundation for spiritual direction. Furthermore, since the practice of spiritual direction goes back to the first centuries of the Church, the authors turn for guidance to the Doctors of the Church, the writings of the saints, and the papal magisterium in developing and supporting their insights. Spiritual Direction will call spiritual directors to deeper holiness even as they assist others in growing closer to the Father through His loving gaze of mercy.

Sharing the Journey Robert

Wuthnow, 1996-07-01. A look at how support groups have affected American society argues that although support groups provide a warmth and security that holds society together, they can lead to an unhealthy self-absorption and a trivialized sense of what is sacred.

Sharing the Fire Luce Irigaray, 2019-12-13. Whilst he broaches the theme of the difference between the sexes, Hegel does not go deep enough into the question of their mutual desire as a crucial stage in our becoming truly human. He ignores the dialectical process regarding sensitivity and sensuousness. And yet this is needed to make spiritual the relation between two human subjectivities differently determined by nature and to ensure the connection between body and spirit, nature and culture, private life and public life. This leads Hegel to fragment human subjectivity into yearnings for art religion and philosophy thereby losing the unity attained through the cultivation of a longing for the absolute born of a desire for one another as different Furthermore our epoch of history is different from the Hegelian one and demands that we consider additional aspects of human subjectivity This is essential if we are to overcome the nihilism inherent in our traditional metaphysics without falling into a worse nihilism due to a lack of rigorous thinking common today The increasing power of technique and technologies as well as the task of building a world culture are two other challenges we face Our sexual belonging provides us with a universal living determination of our subjectivity now a dual subjectivity and also with a natural energy potential which allows us to use technical resources without becoming dependent on them
