

What Causes Delinquency?

- What propels youths to commit delinquency?
- Complex interplay of a variety of biological, genetic, and environmental factors
- Further complicated by various reactions to environmental factors
 - Why do only a few individuals who experience the same environments as many others actually commit crime?
- Criminological theories provide a scientific way to approach and understand why people commit crime

Crouter, Alan Booth, 2003-04-02 This volume addresses how children s personal qualities make their mark on families in ways that may in turn influence children s subsequent development What Can Parents Do? Margaret Kerr, Håkan Stattin, Rutger C. M. E. Engels, 2008-04-15 In recent years research on parenting has changed stance from one where parents shape child outcomes to an interactive perspective However this shift is only now transferring to adolescents with research exploring how the roles that adolescents and parents play in their interactions can lead to problem behaviour Part of the Hot Topics in Developmental Research series this book presents the new perspective Parental Monitoring of Adolescents Vincent Guilamo-Ramos, James Jaccard, Patricia Dittus, 2010-10-11 The close supervision of adolescents dramatically reduces the incidence of risky sexual behavior drug and alcohol use and other activities that could negatively affect one s health and well being Because of the strong correlation between parental monitoring and a child s welfare social workers psychologists child development specialists and other professionals who work with children now incorporate monitoring into their programs and practice A definitive resource providing the best research and techniques for productive supervision within the home this volume defines and develops the conceptual methodological and practical areas of parental monitoring and monitoring research locating the right balance of closeness and supervision while also remaining sensitive to ethnic and socioeconomic backgrounds Assembled by leading experts on childrearing and healthy parent child communication Parental Monitoring of Adolescents identifies the conditions that best facilitate parental knowledge ideal interventions for high risk youth and the factors that either help or hinder the monitoring of an adolescent s world The volume also sets a course for future research establishing a new framework that evaluates the nature and approach of monitoring within the parent adolescent relationship and the particular social realities of everyday life Encyclopedia of Community Analysis Report United States. War Relocation Authority, Coercion and Punishment in Long-Term Perspectives Joan McCord,1998-09-28 Children must learn to act appropriately in ways that differ from society to society and from context to context The question of how best to socialize children so that they can function successfully has fascinated educators and psychologists for centuries In a world in which children exhibit levels of violence that are strikingly un childlike the question of how to bring children up takes on an immediacy for parents and psychologists Does physical punishment prevent further outbreaks of violent behaviour Are there ways of influencing children so that punishment will not be necessary Drawing upon rich longitudinal data the contributors to this volume examine the benefits and costs of coercion and punishment considering such issues as mental health antisocial and criminal behaviour substance abuse and issues related to measurement and prediction They look at coercion among peers aggressive behavior in boys and girls different parenting styles and effects of home context The volume draws together evidence about coercion and punishment that have appeared in disparate literatures and it raises questions about easy assumptions regarding them It will be a useful tool for psychologists criminologists social workers child care workers and educators The Psychoanalytic Study of the Child ,1972
