Regionalism And Globalism In Southeast Asia:

Regionalism and Globalism in Southeast Asia E. Palmujoki, 2001-10-25 Eero Palmujoki examines the regionalist debate in Southeast Asia from the end of the Cold War up to the beginning of the new millennium. He focuses on the organization of the ASEAN Association of Southeast Asian Nations and covers the political, economic and security issues characterizing its development. The book compares the theoretical debate with political developments in the region from the beginning of the post Cold War period with its rapid economic growth through the Asian economic crisis of 1997 and the resulting restructuring of Southeast Asian regional systems.

Regionalism, Globalisation and International Order Jens-Uwe Wunderlich, 2016-03-23 New regionalism and globalization have been prominent themes in academic and political debates since the beginning of the 1990s. Despite the considerable amount of scholarly attention that the new regionalism has received in recent years, its full empirical and theoretical potential has yet to be fully investigated. This illuminating study provides an overview of new avenues in theorizing regionalism and proposes a consolidated framework for analysis and comparison. Offering a comparative historical perspective of European and Southeast Asian regionalism, it presents new and imaginative insights into the theory and practice of regionalism and the links between regional developments, globalization and international order.

Regionalism and Globalization in East Asia Mark Beeson, 2017-08-24 This book examines the distinctive evolution of the political and economic relationships of East Asia. It does this by placing East Asian development in the unique historical circumstances that have underpinned its rise to power over the last few decades. This detailed analysis provides the basis for an assessment of a unified East Asian region.

Environmental Politics and Governance in Southeast Asia Syed Mohammed Ad'ha Aljunied, 2025-10-02 In this book, Aljunied analyses how ASEAN and its key maritime member states of Singapore, Malaysia and Indonesia govern environmental issues through strategic engagements with social forces. In the new millennium, ASEAN states' power is enhanced and solidified through regulatory statehood, strategic renewal and moral ideology in order to subdue civil resistance while managing non-traditional security threats. Through a comparative analysis of Southeast Asia, this book highlights how state-capitalist society relations are shaped by politics of scale and social conflict in order to reinforce authoritarianism and intensify capitalism development agendas at the expense of environmental preservation. With this, the book explores how civil society challenge and are suppressed by state power at national and regional platforms A pioneering scholarly work this book represents a major contribution to the intersection between political science environmental governance and Southeast Asian Studies by offering rich theoretical and empirical insights into the dynamics of state capitalist society relations in an era of global environmental crisis

International Relations in Southeast Asia Donald E. Weatherbee, Ralf Emmers, 2005 This balanced comprehensive guide to Southeast Asian politics offers a sensible but nondogmatic realist approach to the region's international relations Donald E Weatherbee lucidly explains the dynamics of the Southeast Asian subsystem as a struggle for autonomy in pursuit of national interests He explores three important questions the answers to which will shape the future Southeast Asia Will democratic regimes transform international relations in Southeast Asia Will national leaders succeed in reinventing ASEAN as a more effective collaborative mechanism Finally how will the evolving Chinese position balancing and perhaps displacing the United States as Asia's great power affect Southeast Asia's struggle for autonomy diversity and high complexity in political regimes human rights practice and participation by regional states in the global legal human rights framework Cooperation among ASEAN members to protect and promote human rights remains limited The time honored principle of non interference and the ASEAN Way still predominate in relations within ASEAN These factors combine to explain why the ASEAN Intergovernmental Commission on Human Rights is unlikely to be strong and effective in changing and promoting regional human rights protection
