Na`nitin Robert S. McPherson, 2018-08-20 A knowledgeable and sensitive description of some of the basic aspects of traditional Navajo teachings thought and language Utah Historical Quarterly Traditional teachings derived from stories and practices passed through generations lie at the core of a well balanced Navajo life These teachings are based on a very different perspective of the physical and spiritual world than that found in general American culture Din j Na nitin is an introduction to traditional Navajo teachings and history for a non Navajo audience providing a glimpse into this unfamiliar domain and illuminating the power and experience of the Navajo worldview Historian Robert McPherson discusses basic Navajo concepts such as divination good and evil prophecy and metaphorical thought as well as these topics relevance in daily life making these far ranging ideas accessible to the contemporary reader He also considers the toll of cultural loss on modern Navajo culture as many traditional values and institutions are confronted by those of dominant society Using both historical and modern examples he shows how cultural change has shifted established views and practices and illustrates the challenge younger generations face in maintaining the beliefs and customs their parents and grandparents have shared over generations This intimate look at Navajo values and customs will appeal not only to students and scholars of Native American studies ethnic studies and anthropology but to any reader interested in Navajo culture or changing traditional lifeways

The Past Is a Foreign Country - Revisited David Lowenthal, 2015-10-01 The past remains essential and inescapable A quarter century after the publication of his classic account of man's attitudes to his past David Lowenthal revisits how we celebrate expunge contest and domesticate the past to serve present needs He shows how nostalgia and heritage now pervade every facet of public and popular culture History embraces nature and the cosmos as well as humanity The past is seen and touched and tasted and smelt as well as heard and read about Empathy re enactment memory and commemoration overwhelm traditional history A unified past once certified by experts and reliant on written texts has become a fragmented contested history forged by us all New insights into history and memory bias and objectivity artefacts and monuments identity and authenticity and remorse and contrition make this book once again the essential guide to the past that we inherit reshape and bequeath to the future

Protestant Relics in Early America Jamie L. Brummitt, 2025-05-30 In this book Jamie L Brummitt upends long held assumptions about religion and material culture in the early United States by recovering the forgotten history and presence of Protestant relics This book will be an essential resource for scholars and students of early American history religion politics art and popular culture

China Exchange News, 1990 Archaeological Research on the Societies of Late Prehistoric Xinjiang, Vol 2 Guo Wu, 2022-11-23 This book presents cutting edge archaeological materials from Xinjiang from the Bronze Age to the early Iron Age Through a systematic topological study of major archaeological cemeteries and sites it establishes chronologies and cultural sequences for three main regions in Xinjiang namely the circum Eastern Tianshan region the circum Dzungarian Basin region and the circum Tarim Basin region It also discusses the origins and local variants of prehistoric archaeological cultures in these regions and the mutual relationships between them and neighboring cultures By doing so the book offers a panoramic view of the socio cultural changes that took place in prehistoric Xinjiang from pastoral agricultural societies to the mobile nomadic pastoralist states in the steppe regions and the agricultural states of the oasis making it a must read for researchers and general readers who are interested in the archaeology of Xinjiang Revisiting Museums of Influence Mark O'Neill, Jette Sandahl, Marlen Mouliou, 2020-12-29 Revisiting Museums of Influence presents 50 portraits of a range of European museums that have made striking innovations in public quality over the past 40 years. In so doing, the book demonstrates that excellence can be found in museums no matter their subject matter, scale, or source of funding. Written by leading professionals in the field of museology who have acted as judges for the European Museum of the Year Award, the portraits describe museums that had or should have had an influence on other museums around the world. The portraits aim to capture the moment when this potential was identified and the introduction will locate the institutions in the wider history of museums in Europe over the period as well as drawing out common themes of change and innovation that unite the portraits. Providing many very diverse portraits, Revisiting Museums of Influence captures the immense capacity of the museum to respond to changing societal needs. As a result, the book will be essential reading for students of museology and museum professionals around the world in shaping the museums they wish to create. Scholars and students of art history, archaeology, ethnography, anthropology, cultural and visual studies, architecture, memory studies, and history will also find much to interest them. Performance in Popular Culture Sharon Mazer, 2023-08-31 Performance in Popular Culture reveals the intricate relationship between performance and popular culture by exploring how theatrical conventions and dramaturgical tropes have informed the way the social is constructed for popular consumption. Staged as a series of case studies, this book considers the diverse ways the social is imagined and produced in live and mediated performances in images and texts in interactive experiences and in cultural institutions. By looking at performance in popular culture, the world we live in becomes more visible, open to investigation, and perhaps to change. Performance in Popular Culture engages a wide range of disciplines and theoretical frameworks: performance theatre and cultural studies, comparative literature and media studies, gender and sexuality, critical race and post-colonial theories. Designed for accessibility at an undergraduate level, the case studies make use of visual materials, moving images, and texts that are readily available to lecturers and students, to scholars, and to the general public.

Revisiting Vietnam Julia Bleakney, 2006. First Published in 2007. Routledge is an imprint of Taylor & Francis, an informal company. China, Cultural Heritage, and International Law Hui Zhong, 2017-11-27. China is a country that is rich in antiquities, but it is also a victim of looting that occurred during the period from the First Opium War to the end of the Japanese Occupation, 1840-1945, when innumerable cultural objects were lost overseas. The Chinese Government insists on asserting its interest over its wrongfully removed cultural heritage and has sought for the return of lost cultural heritage by all means in accordance with relevant international conventions and Chinese laws. However, securing the return has been and continues to be problematic. Little research has been done regarding the question as to whether China has a legal basis for recovery, which is the first legal hurdle that China needs to get over. In addition, China does not have a legal basis for all cultural heritage taken during the period of 1840-1945. Claims for return without a legal basis are usually silenced or at best discussed only but very rarely facilitated This book provides an answer for the return of Chinese cultural heritage It examines the law contemporaneous to the removal of Chinese cultural heritage and its application For this lack of a legal basis this book argues that a new customary international law is emerging according to which the interests of the states of origin in their wrongfully removed heritage should be prioritised This proposed customary rule supports the return of wrongfully removed heritage Once this proposed customary rule is accepted it will provide a stronger argument not only for China but also for other states of origin with a similar dilemma including South Korea Egypt Greece Cambodia Turkey Peru and Italy to recover their wrongfully removed heritage While dealing with a large pool of return cases this book is valuable to museums and art collectors in the event of buying and accepting art objects and settling recovery disputes with states of origin It will also be of interest to researchers academics policymakers and students in the fields of cultural heritage law international law international trade and human rights law

Defining Memory Amy K. Levin, 2007-03-01 Defining Memory uses case studies of exhibits from around the country to examine how local museums defined as museums whose collections are local in scope or whose audiences are primarily local have both shaped and been shaped by evolving community values and sense of history Levin and her contributors argue that these small institutions play a key role in defining America's self identity and should be studied as seriously as more national institutions like the Smithsonian and the Metropolitan Museum of Art

The Making of Public Historical Culture in the American West, 1880-1910 Amanda Laugesen, 2006 This book is a study of the establishment and development of historical societies in the late nineteenth and early twentieth century American West It concentrates on the people who created the historical societies of Kansas Oregon and Wisconsin from the first charter generation through to the first generation of professional historical society workers This study fills an important gap in our knowledge of the role those outside of the academy have held in the process of history making namely the role of state historical societies
