

Religion vs Irreligion

Everything starts with "Questions" in mind, which leads us either towards religion or towards irreligion

Religion	Irreligion
Judaism, Christianity, Islam ... there are estimated 10,000 religions in our world	Deism	Agnosticism	Atheism
Superstitions + Claim of Divine Guidance: It is a superstition about the UNKNOWN, which gives birth to different religions. Every religion claims only it is based upon direct Divine Guidance, while ALL others are based upon superstitions.	Human Rationale and Logic: It is human rationale and logic about the UNKNOWN, which gives birth to Deism, Agnosticism and Atheism
"Religious System/laws" They are based only on the views of the founder of the religion. There is almost no space for reforms in the base of religion. Reforms are mostly made only in secondary issues.	"System/Laws based upon Freethinking" Non-religious freethinking does lead to non-religious systems. In ancient times, the teachings of Buddha and Confucius were the results of this free thinking. In the modern age Communism, Socialism, Secularism, and Democracy are also non-religious systems, while all of them are based upon free thinking. Even religious people limited religions to their private life only, while they followed non-religious and man-made systems/laws on the state level. These man-made non-religious systems may not be perfect, but they have the "ability" to "reform" themselves, which is mostly absent (or difficult) in the "religious systems" where only god/gods stipulate the laws.
Morals They are limited & encircled within the boundaries of religion. Actually, religions make such things permissible in name of morality like spilling of the blood of others, taking their women & children as slaves etc.	Morals Due to freethinking, for the first-time women got equal rights, slaves were freed and given equal rights, and even animals are also given rights. Buddha and Ashoka abolished markets of slaves about 1000 years before Islam.

Religion And Irreligion:

Toward a Sociology of Irreligion Colin David Campbell, Colin Campbell, 1971 Secularity and Non-Religion Elisabeth Arweck, Stephen Bullivant, Lois Lee, 2016-03-16 The present collection brings together a set of essays which shed light on recent research into non religion secularity and atheism topics which have been emerging as important areas of current research in a number of different disciplines The essays cover a wide span in terms of the various stances they discuss secular atheist non religious the settings in which these topics are relevant families wider society politics demography and the different perspectives which relate to socialisation and social relations belief acquisition discrimination Written by authors from a variety of national settings and academic disciplines the collection presents a range of methodologies combining theoretical approaches with quantitative and qualitative research findings The authors address issues related to an important academic field which had been neglected for some time but which has been made relevant by the increasing percentage of people professing a non religious stance This collection represents a major contribution to this area of academic research not only because it puts the themes of non religion and secularity firmly on the academic map but also because it offers a variety of different viewpoints and aims to bring clarity into the use of concepts and terminology The authors make important contributions to the emerging body of research in this area and point out areas where further research is needed The first essay provides a thorough introduction to this field taking stock of the work done so far highlighting the overarching issues and embedding the essays in the wider context of existing literature This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Contemporary Religion Faith No More Phil Zuckerman, 2011-11-01 During his 2009 inaugural speech President Obama described the United States as a nation of Christians and Muslims Jews and Hindus and nonbelievers It was the first time an American president had acknowledged the existence of this rapidly growing segment of the population in such a public forum And yet the reasons why more and more people are turning away from religion are still poorly understood In Faith No More Phil Zuckerman draws on in depth interviews with people who have left religion to find out what's really behind the process of losing one's faith According to a 2008 study so many Americans claim no religion 15% up from 8% in 1990 that this category now outranks every other religious group except Catholics and Baptists Exploring the deeper stories within such survey data Zuckerman shows that leaving one's faith is a highly personal complex and drawn out process And he finds that rather than the cliché of the angry nihilistic atheist apostates are life affirming courageous highly intelligent and inquisitive and deeply moral Zuckerman predicts that this trend toward nonbelief will likely continue and argues that the sooner we recognize that religion is frequently and freely rejected by all sorts of men and women the sooner our understanding of the human condition will improve The first book of its kind Faith No More will appeal to anyone interested in the New Atheism and indeed to anyone wishing to more fully understand our changing relationship to religious faith Towards Better Disagreement Paul

Freethought and Atheism in Central and Eastern Europe Tomáš Bubík,Atko Rimmel,David Václavík,2020-02-26 This book provides the first comprehensive overview of atheism secularity and non religion in Central and Eastern Europe in the twentieth and twenty first centuries In contrast to scholarship that has focused on the decline of religion and secularization theory the book builds upon recent trends to focus on the rise of non religion itself While the label of post communism might suggest a generalized perception of the region this survey reveals that the precise developments in each country before after and even during the communist era are surprisingly diverse A multinational team of contributors provide interdisciplinary case studies covering Estonia Latvia Lithuania Russia Ukraine Poland the Czech Republic Slovakia Hungary Croatia Romania and Bulgaria This approach utilises perspectives from social and intellectual history in combination with sociology of religion in order to cover the historical development of secularity and secular thought complemented with sociological data The study is framed by methodological and analytical chapters Offering an important geographical perspective to the study of freethought atheism secularity and non religion this wide ranging book will be of significant interest to scholars of twentieth century social and intellectual history sociology of religion and non religion cultural and religious studies philosophy and theology Recognizing the Non-religious Lois Lee,2015-07-30 In recent years the extent to which contemporary societies are secular has come under scrutiny At the same time many countries especially in Europe have increasingly large nonaffiliate subjectively secular populations whilst nonreligious cultural movements like the New Atheism and the Sunday Assembly have come to prominence Making sense of secularity irreligion and the relationship between them has therefore emerged as a crucial task for those seeking to understand contemporary societies and the nature of modern life Drawing on ethnographic fieldwork in southeast England Recognizing the Non religious develops a new vocabulary theory and methodology for thinking about the secular It distinguishes between separate and incommensurable aspects of so called secularity as insubstantial involving merely the absence of religion and substantial involving beliefs ritual practice and identities that are alternative to religious ones Recognizing the cultural forms that present themselves as non religious therefore opens up new more egalitarian and more theoretically coherent ways of thinking about people who are not religious It is also argued that recognizing the nonreligious allows us to reimagine the secular itself in new and productive ways This book is part of a fast growing area of research that builds upon and contributes to theoretical debates concerning secularization desecularization religious change postsecularity and postcolonial approaches to religion and secularism As well as presenting new research this book gathers insights from the wider studies of nonreligion atheism and secularism in order to consolidate a theoretical framework conceptual foundation and agenda for future research Communicating Religion and Atheism in Central and Eastern Europe Jenny Vorpahl, Dirk Schuster, 2020-06-08 This book brings together case studies dealing with historical as well as recent phenomena in former socialist nations which testify the transfer of knowledge about religion and atheism The material is connected on a semantic level by the presence of a historical watershed before and after socialism as well as on a theoretical level by the sociology of knowledge With its focus on Central and Eastern Europe this volume is an important contribution to the research on nonreligion and secularity The collected volume deals with agents and media within specific cultural and historical contexts Theoretical claims and conceptions by single agents and or institutions in which the imparting of knowledge about religion and atheism was or is a central assignment are analyzed Additionally procedures of transmitting knowledge about religion and atheism and of sustaining related institutionalized norms interpretations roles and practices are in the focus of interest The book opens the perspective for the multidimensional and negotiating character of legitimation processes being involved in the establishment or questioning of the institutionalized opposition between religion and atheism or religion and science Annual Review of the Sociology of Religion. Volume 7 (2016) Roberto Cipriani, Franco Garelli, 2016-06-27 Recent studies show that atheism is increasing The reasons for this development have not as yet been examined thoroughly Many atheists continue to be residual groups in surveys on religiosity making it difficult to examine who they are and why they have chosen to be atheists Moreover they are minority groups in most countries former Soviet bloc countries are left out of discussion many do not identify with any organized groups of atheists or agnostics Atheist groups and ideologies then represent a wide range of attitudes behaviour and ways of acting towards religion The lack of a clear definition of what being atheist or an unbeliever means today invites us to study the issue in greater depth This volume represents a first attempt at understanding and scrutinizing atheism Thanks to all contributors it provides both a global perspective and specific insights into specific cases
