Original The Hemingway Patrols Terry Mort, 2009-08-18 From the summer of 1942 until the end of 1943 Ernest Hemingway spent much of his time patrolling the Gulf Stream and the waters off Cuba's north shore in his fishing boat Pilar He was looking for German submarines These patrols were sanctioned and managed by the US Navy and were a small but useful part of anti submarine warfare at a time when U boat attacks against merchant shipping in the Gulf and the Caribbean were taking horrific tolls While almost no attention has been paid to these patrols other than casual mention in biographies they were a useful military contribution as well as a central event to Hemingway around which important historical literary and biographical themes revolve Showdown in the Sonoran Desert Ananda Rose, 2012-06-01 This book offers reflections on a daunting and controversial ethical question How should we treat the strangers who enter this country illegally To understand the experience of those directly confronted by this problem Ananda Rose traveled to the Sonoran desert at the border between the U S and Mexico There she gathered opinions from Minutemen Border Patrol agents Catholic nuns humanitarian air workers left wing protestors ranchers and other ordinary citizens in southern Arizona She depicts the results of these interviews as two starkly opposed ideological perspectives that of religious activists who embrace a biblically inspired model of hospitality that stresses love of strangers and a borderless compassion and that of law enforcement which is concerned with safety security and strict respect for international borders
