My Year Of Meats:

My Year of Meats Ruth Ozeki, 1999-03-01 A cross cultural tale of two women brought together by the intersections of television and industrial agriculture fertility and motherhood life and love the breakout hit by the celebrated author of A Tale for the Time Being and The Book of Form and Emptiness Ruth Ozeki's mesmerizing debut novel has captivated readers and reviewers worldwide When documentarian Jane Takagi Little finally lands a job producing a Japanese television show that just happens to be sponsored by an American meat exporting business she uncovers some unsavory truths about love fertility and a dangerous hormone called DES Soon she will also cross paths with Akiko Ueno a beleaguered Japanese housewife struggling to escape her overbearing husband Hailed by USA Today as rare and provocative and awarded the Kiriyama Prize for Literature of the Pacific Rim My Year of Meats is a modern day take on Upton Sinclair's The Jungle for fans of Michael Pollan Margaret Atwood and Barbara Kingsolver

My Year of Meats Ruth Ozeki, 2011-11-04 I had started my year as a documentarian I wanted to tell the truth to effect change to make a difference And up to a point I had succeeded I am haunted by all the things big things and little things that threaten to slip through the cracks untold out of history In a single eye opening year two women worlds apart experience parallel awakenings As Jane Takagi Little researches the consumption of meat in the American home for Japanese docu soap My American Wife she begins to realise that her ruthless search for a story is deeply compromising her morals Meanwhile in Tokyo housewife Akiko Ueno is diligently preparing the recipes from Jane's programme struggling to please her husband and increasingly doubting her commitment to the life she has fallen into And as Jane and Akiko battle dangerously to assert their individuality My American Wife draws them together in a startling story of strength courage love and meat

My Year of Meats Ruth Ozeki, 2003-05-01 My Year of Meats Ruth L. Ozeki, 2007 When documentarian Jane Takagi Little finally lands a job producing My American Wife a Japanese television show sponsored by an American meat exporting business she discovers some unsavory truths about love fertility and a hormone called DES Meanwhile on the other side of the globe Akiko Ueno a beleaguered Japanese housewife struggles to escape from her child craving husband When Jane's and Akiko's lives intersect the deepest concerns of our time are illuminated how the past informs the present and how we live and love in an ever shrinking world

Pacific Rim My Year of Meats is a modern day take on Upton Sinclair's The Jungle for fans of Michael Pollan Margaret Atwood and Barbara Kingsolver Literary Contexts in Novels, 2012 Beyond Hostile Islands Daniel McKay, 2024-04-02 WINNER JAVIER COY BIENNIAL RESEARCH AWARD BEST MONOGRAPH Offers a fascinating window into how the fraught politics of apology in the East Asian region have been figured in anglophone literary fiction The Pacific War 1941-1945 was fought across the world's largest ocean and left a lasting imprint on anglophone literary history However studies of that imprint or of individual authors have focused on American literature without drawing connections to parallel traditions elsewhere Beyond Hostile Islands contributes to ongoing efforts by Australasian scholars to place their national cultures in conversation with those of the United States particularly regarding studies of the ideologies that legitimize warfare Consecutively the book examines five of the most significant historical and thematic areas associated with the war island combat economic competition internment imprisonment and the atomic bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki Throughout the central issue pivots around the question of how or whether at all New Zealand fiction writing differs from that of the United States Can a sense of islandness the tyranny of distance Mōri cultural heritage or the political legacies of the nuclear free movement provide grounds for distinctive authorial insights As an opening gambit Beyond Hostile Islands puts forward the term ideological coproduction to describe how a territorially and demographically more minor national culture may accede to the essentials of a given ideology while differing in aspects that reflect historical and provincial dimensions that are important to it Appropriately the literary texts under examination are set in various locales including Japan the Solomon Islands New Zealand New Mexico Ontario and the Marshall Islands The book concludes in a deliberately open ended pose with the full expectation that literary writing on the Pacific War will grow in range and richness aided by the growth of Pacific Studies as a research area Fiction Across Borders Shameem Black, 2010 Theorists of Orientalism and postcolonialism argue that novelists betray political and cultural anxieties when characterizing the Other Shameem Black takes a different stance Turning a fresh eye toward several key contemporary novelists she reveals how border crossing fiction represents socially diverse groups without resorting to stereotype idealization or other forms of imaginative constraint Focusing on the work of J. M. Coetzee Amitav Ghosh Jeffrey Eugenides Ruth Ozeki Charles Johnson Gish Jen and Rupa Bajwa Black introduces an interpretative lens that captures the ways in which these authors envision an ethics of representing social difference They not only offer sympathetic portrayals of the lives of others but also detail the processes of imagining social difference Whether depicting the multilingual worlds of South and Southeast Asia the exportation of American culture abroad or the racial tension of postapartheid South Africa these transcultural representations explore social and political hierarchies in constructive ways Boldly confronting the orthodoxies of recent literary criticism Fiction Across Borders builds upon such seminal works as Edward Said's Orientalism and offers a provocative new study of the late twentieth century novel Ends of Empire Jodi Kim, 2004 Ends of Empire examines Asian American cultural production and its challenge to the dominant understanding of American imperialism Cold War dynamics and race and gender formation Jodi Kim demonstrates the degree to which Asian American literature and film critique the record of U S imperial violence in Asia and provides a glimpse into the imperial and gendered racial logic of the Cold War She unfolds this particularly entangled and enduring episode in the history of U S global hegemony one that contrary to leading interpretations of the Cold War as a simple bipolar rivalry was significantly triangulated in Asia The Asian American works analyzed here constitute a crucial body of what Kim reveals as transnational Cold War compositions which are at once a geopolitical structuring an ideological writing and a cultural imagining Arguing that these works reframe the U S Cold War as a project of gendered racial formation and imperialism as well as a production of knowledge Ends of Empire offers an interdisciplinary investigation into the transnational dimensions of Asian America and its critical relationship to Cold War history Filthy Fictions Monica Chiu, 2004-01-20 Filthy Fictions addresses Asian American literature by women to explore and explode the sedimented and solidified meanings we have created about Asian Americans and dirt through dialogues that not only cross disciplinary and institutional formations and borders but also question the very borders and territories upon which these arguments may be founded Expertly questioning the construction of the ethnic body the book discusses critical discourses in ethnic and feminist studies around the topic of identity re production and transnational representation
