Gonzalez,1996-05-01 From the Homeboy to the Latin Lover America cherishes a host of images about Latino men yet all are based on the belief in macho men virile and brash full of violence and testosterone With the gender correctness of the 90s challenging all men to embrace a new masculinity how do Latino men of today grounded in the macho tradition define this new identity From today s best known as well as emerging Latino writers poet and editor Ray Gonzalez has gathered personal essays written especially for Muy Macho on machismo and masculinity The result is a rich and exciting collection of men talking about themselves about other men about their wives and lovers about their fathers and their sons In Me Macho You Jane Dagoberto Gilb contrasts how he perceives himself with how others particularly women interpret his behavior while in Whores Luis Alberto Urrea chronicles a rite of passage for many Latino men Most insightful and moving are essays like The Puerto Rican Dummy and the Merciful Son by poet Martin Espada which portray the fragile love between fathers and sons and the process by which men learn from and teach each other how to be men Muy Macho contains photographs of all contributors while Gonzalez illuminates the cultural context of Latino masculinity in his introduction Emotionally honest and powerfully written the voices of Muy Macho break the cult of silence between Latino men which prevents our culture from understanding the true nature of machismo

Animals Best Friends is the most comprehensive exploration I've read of the complex relationship between the human and nonhuman full of great insights and practical information Jeff VanderMeer New York Times Book Review By the Book Finalist for the 2021 Siskiyou Prize for New Environmental Literature As people come to understand more about animals inner lives the intricacies of their thoughts and the emotions that are expressed every day by whales and cows octopus and mice even bees we feel a growing compassion a desire to better their lives But how do we translate this compassion into helping other creatures both those that are and are not our pets Bringing together the latest science with heartfelt storytelling Animals Best Friends reveals the opportunities we have in everyday life to help animals in our homes in the wild in zoos and in science labs as well as those considered to be food Barbara J King an expert on animal cognition and emotion guides us on a journey both animal and deeply human We meet cows living relaxed lives in an animal sanctuary and cows with plastic portals in their sides at a university research station We observe bison free roaming at Yellowstone National Park and chimpanzees confined to zoos We learn with King how to negotiate vegetarian preferences in omnivore restaurants We experience the touch of a giant Pacific octopus tasting King's skin with one of his long neuron rich arms We reflect on animal testing as King shares her own experience as the survivor of a particularly nasty cancer And in a moment all too familiar to many of us we recover from a close encounter with two spiders in the home This is a book not of shaming and limitation but of uplift and expansion Throughout this journey King makes no claims of personal perfection Though an animal expert she is just like the rest of us on a journey still learning each day how to be better and do better for animals But as Animals Best Friends makes clear challenging choices can bring deep rewards By turning compassion into action on behalf of animals we not only improve animals lives we also immeasurably enrich our own Camino del Sol Rigoberto González, 2022-09-20
