Peter Kivy

My World Of Opera:

Osmin's Rage Peter Kivy, 2018-09-05 In his new concluding chapter Peter Kivy advances his argument on behalf of a distinctive intellectual and musical character of opera before Mozart. He proposes that happy endings were a musical as opposed to a dramatic necessity for opera during this period and that Mozart's Idomeneo is properly enjoyed and judged only when listeners are attuned to its seventeenth and eighteenth century forebears. Musical Worlds Philip A.

Alpers, 2010-11-01 This volume reproducing a special issue of The Journal of Aesthetics and Art Criticism on The Philosophy of Music Winter 1994 with a revised introduction and two new articles is distinguished by its breadth of content, diversity of approaches and clarity of argument which should make it useful for classroom teaching. The topics covered include musical representation, the expression of feeling in music, the metaphysics of operatic speech and song, musical understanding, musical composition, feminist music theory, music and politics, music and racial identity, music in non-Western cultures and the ontological implications of recording technology for rock music. The approaches used are philosophical, historical, social and political, feminist and ethnomusicological. The book includes discussions of a great many styles and historical periods of music from ancient Greek music and music theory to instrumental and operatic music in the Western classical tradition, Persian music, music of the Blackfoot Indians, rock and the blues and the avant-garde compositions and performances of John Cage. The contributors are all eminent scholars in the field: Philip Alpers, Noelle Carroll, Stephen Davies, Claire Detels, John Andrew Fisher, Lydia Goehr, Peter Kivy, Jerrold Levinson, James Manns, Bruno Nettl, Jenefer Robinson, Joel Rudinow, Grant S. Scharrott and Kendall Walton. A Poetics of Handel's Operas Nathan Link, 2023 A Poetics of Handel's Operas explores the concurrence between the narratives of Handel's operas and how these stories are represented through actions, words and music. Nathan Link offers a new approach for interpreting and constructing the stories of Handel's operas while highlighting the representational fabric by which they are conveyed to the viewer.

Educational Change and the Secondary School Music Curriculum in Aotearoa New Zealand Graham McPhail, Vicki Thorpe, Stuart Wise, 2018-02-13 Educational Change and the Secondary School Music Curriculum in Aotearoa New Zealand provides a fascinating case study in educational change. The music curriculum has been greatly affected by deep cultural and economic forces such as the growth of popular music's importance in young people's lives, by demands for inclusive and multicultural education and not least by advances in technology that promise to invigorate all aspects of teaching and learning. This book brings together the work of a number of leading music education scholars and teachers from Aotearoa New Zealand to both explore these issues and to share case studies of practice, both the positive changes and the unintended consequences. Each chapter focuses on a current issue in music education and the final chapter contains responses from a number of practitioners to the issues raised by the authors, drawing together the practical and theoretical dimensions of the book.
