One Hundred Years of Air Power and Aviation Robin Higham, 2003 In this precise interpretive and informative volume Higham looks at everything from the roots of strategic bombing and tactical air power to the lessons learned and unlearned during the invasion of Ethiopia the war in China and the Spanish Civil War He also considers the problems posed by jet aircraft in Korea and the use of Patriot missiles in the Persian Gulf He covers anti guerrilla operations doctrine industrial activities and equipment as well as the development of commercial airlines The History of North American Small Gas Turbine Aircraft Engines Richard A. Leyes, William A. Fleming, 1999 This landmark joint publication between the National Air and Space Museum and the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics chronicles the evolution of the small gas turbine engine through its comprehensive study of a major aerospace industry Drawing on in depth interviews with pioneers current project engineers and company managers engineering papers published by the manufacturers and the tremendous document and artifact collections at the National Air and Space Museum the book captures and memorializes small engine development from its earliest stage Leyes and Fleming leap back nearly 50 years for a first look at small gas turbine engine development and the seven major corporations that dared to produce market and distribute the products that contributed to major improvements and uses of a wide spectrum of aircraft In non technical language the book illustrates the broad reaching influence of small turbines from commercial and executive aircraft to helicopters and missiles deployed in recent military engagements Detailed corporate histories and photographs paint a clear historical picture of turbine development up to the present See for yourself why The History of North American Small Gas Turbine Aircraft Engines is the most definitive reference book in its field The publication of The History of North American Small Gas Turbine Aircraft Engines represents an important milestone for the National Air and Space Museum NASM and the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics AIAA For the first time there is an authoritative study of small gas turbine engines arguably one of the most significant spheres of aeronautical technology in the second half of the 20th century Canada's National System of Innovation Jorge Niosi, 2000-04-18 Niosi looks at the history of Canada's National System of Innovation NSI particularly during the post war period illuminating the fact that during and after World War II over 30 research universities 150 government laboratories and dozens of government policies aimed at nurturing innovation in private firms academia and government organizations were developed He uses data obtained through questionnaire responses from all the large research and development organizations in Canada to analyse Canada's domestic system of innovation finding increasing collaboration between universities government laboratories and private firms He concludes that Canada has been quite successful in creating a national system of innovation and that the federal government through its initiatives and innovative techniques has been the main factor in the creation of this system The Bombardier Story Larry MacDonald, 2012-12-24 The story of the company that was founded by the inventor of the snowmobile In 1942 Joseph Armand Bombardier invented the snowmobile and founded his company to manufacture them From its humble beginnings as an entrepreneurial company in rural Quebec led by an enterprising inventor Bombardier Inc has emerged as a global leader in the transportation industry This book tells the fascinating tale of this remarkably well managed company that has enjoyed spectacular growth in its chosen markets through strong leadership and management strategy succession planning strategic diversification and turnaround and acquisition artistry The fascinating story of the world's largest rail manufacturer for both railway and subway Reveals why Bombardier Inc is a multi faceted global company yet nobody knows their name Written by Larry MacDonald the author of Nortel Network The Bombardier Story shows how invention and entrepreneurship management and leadership smooth succession planning and turnaround and acquisition built this global powerhouse

The Immortal Beaver Sean Rossiter, 2009-07-01 Developed soon after World War II the de Havilland Beaver has become one of the most successful and long lived designs in aviation history The Beaver was conceived as a half ton flying pickup truck capable of setting down on land water and snow Since its conception the Beaver has been adopted worldwide becoming the floatplane of choice for island hopping along the Pacific Northwest flying into the Arctic transporting missionaries and doctors into remote spots in Africa and serving as a support aircraft in Antarctic expeditions The Beaver also became the generals Jeep during the Korean War and the generals favorite transport to fishing spots in peacetime Cold War

Fighters Randall Wakelam, 2011-11-03 The cancellation of the CF 105 Arrow in 1959 holds such a grip on the imagination of Canadians that earlier developments in defence procurement remain in the shadows Randall Wakelam corrects this oversight and offers fresh insight into the AVRO saga and contemporary procurement issues by detailing the complexities Canada's air force faced in buying fighter aircraft and by showing how the RCAF grew by leaps and bounds Wakelam shows that cabinet members chiefs of staff and air marshals were forced to negotiate competing pressures to arm the air force please allies and save money Their decisions resulted in the CF 100 Canuck and the F 86 Sabre Canada's front line defensive aircraft in the coldest years of the Cold War Although historians assume that the Arrow arrived on the heels of these successes Wakelam reveals that neither the air force nor the government believed AVRO could manufacture even the CF 100 on budget
