Prayer And Modern Man:

Prayer and Modern Man Jacques Ellul, 1970 A prominent social critic and former resistance leader makes a searing analysis of man's alienation from God and traces the reasons for praying or not praying With razor like statements he cuts through the weaknesses of much traditional praying and in the end offers a strong and positive program for praying in today's troubled times

Theology, Ethics, and Technology in the Work of Jacques Ellul and Paul Virilio Michael Morelli, 2021-06-17 Theology Ethics and Technology in the Work of Jacques Ellul and Paul Virilio examines biographical and textual connections between sociologist theologian Jacques Ellul and philosopher phenomenologist Paul Virilio Through an examination of their embeddedness in the socio-historical context of postwar France Michael Morelli identifies a relationship between these critics of technology that bears the marks of a nascent theological tradition He shows from various vantage points how Ellul and Virilio's nascent tradition exposes technology as modernity's primary idol and how these thinkers use multiple disciplines including history sociology philosophy phenomenology theology and ethics to resist the perilous consequences of the modern world's worship of power and the kinds of technologies this misdirected worship produces Jacques Ellul's death in 1994 and Paul Virilio's death in 2018 may have prevented the maturation of this nascent theological tradition but this book will aid in this tradition's ripening through the presentation of an illuminating way to read these two unique prophetic intellectuals

Dialectical Theology and Jacques Ellul Jacob E. Van Vleet, 2014 Argues that the work of Jacques Ellul is frequently misread on account of inattention to the theological underpinning that governs Ellul's thought This book offers an introduction to Ellul's thought his contribution to theology and philosophy and how his philosophy of technology is both theologically informed and culturally relevant

A New Reading of Jacques Ellul Jacob Marques Rollison, 2020-09-10 This book presents an original and dynamic reading of the twentieth century French sociologist and theological ethicist Jacques Ellul Adopting Ellul's use of presence as a hermeneutical key to understanding his work it examines the origins of Ellul's approach to presence in his readings of Kierkegaard and the biblical book of Ecclesiastes highlights the central structural role of presence in Ellul's theological ethics and elucidates a crucial turning point in Ellul's theology following a personal crisis in Ellul's faith and life

Drawing from numerous unpublished and untranslated texts Jacob Marques Rollison argues that this crisis involves confrontation with a critique of presence manifest in Ellul's reading of and engagement with Michel Foucault. Marques Rollison distills Ellul's sociological critiques and theological responses to this crisis presenting Ellul's evolving theology against the background of major shifts in French intellectual life. In doing so the author simultaneously calls for renewed engagement with Ellul's prophetic thought critically appraises Ellul's dialectical theology and Marxist inheritances and develops a robustly Protestant approach to theological communication ethics for our time.

Hope in the Thought of Jacques Ellul Lawrence J. Terlizzese, 2005-10-30 Hope expresses more than an area of concentration in Ellul's thought it is the central idea that binds his disparate elements together. Ellul believed that at this moment of history the world since 1945 hope must preoccupy our thinking and lives. To understand hope we must first comprehend its absence. This entails discerning what causes the absence of hope namely the world's embrace of technique and the abandonment of God. Ellul also rejected these as a positive affirmation. He wanted to make a firm distinction between reality and truth. He affirmed modern abandonment as a realistic fact as an accurate analysis of the present condition not as an affirmation of the truth. Hope is truth in Jesus Christ but truth must be asserted against these harsh facts. He used facts to incite hope in believers to shake their complacency and to realize their actual condition in the world. The idea of hope in the thought of Jacques Ellul can only be properly understood in light of dialectic struggle between negatives which amount to factual representations of the modern world and positives through which hope exerts itself in the face of these facts. From this tension will issue personal resolve. Technique has brought the world to great collective heights and achievements but this has come at the expense of personal ends and meaning. Ellul attempted to bridge this gap by asserting individual meaning against the aggregated progress of technique without destroying the gains made by collective advance. This represents the central dilemma in Ellul's thought how does one maintain meaning and personal aims in a world founded on corporate necessity from the Introduction.

Desert, Wilderness, Wasteland, and Word Jacques Ellul, 2024-09-26 Desert Wilderness Wasteland and Word examines the significance of the desert from biblical theological and ethical perspectives. This is achieved primarily through the publication of Jacques Ellul's recently discovered newly translated essay which considers the theology of the desert. Prefaced by an enlightening introduction and five incendiary essays which critically reflect on Ellul's work this volume offers a fresh provocative insight into Jacques Ellul's writing. Illuminating the relevance of Ellul's work for our present Desert Wilderness Wasteland and Word offers readers an encounter with a new revitalising biblical word.
