Perspectives on Prayer and Spirituality Maurice Elliott, Patrick McGlinchey, 2021-02-12 Spirituality has become a buzzword in our contemporary culture as individuals strive for meaning and fulfillment Its detachment from the church and conventional definitions of religious practice highlights the seeming redundancy of what has come before Spirituality in this light signals a new attempt to find wholeness unencumbered by outmoded doctrines and stale rituals It is the conviction of this publication that the intuition behind contemporary searches for spiritual reality is a good one It acknowledges that there must be more to life than what secular media or consumerism might tell us The joyful message of Perspectives on Prayer and Spirituality is that the spiritual quest is a valid one and worth exploring There is treasure to be found However the surprise is that we must rediscover what we have left behind In the words of G K Chesterton it is not that the Christian ideal has been tried and found wanting rather it has been found difficult and left untried This book offers us the tools to mine the riches of Christian spirituality and find that elusive treasure The title Perspectives on Prayer and Spirituality alerts us to the fact that life giving spirituality stems from relationship with a personal God who can be known

The Lord's Prayer and the Sermon on the Mount in Matthew's Gospel Charles Nathan Ridlehoover, 2019-12-26 Charles Nathan Ridlehoover examines the Lord's Prayer in Matthew's Gospel focusing on the prayer's centrality and showing how this centrality affects our reading of the Sermon on the Mount and subsequently the prayer itself Ridlehoover argues that the Lord's Prayer is structurally lexically and thematically central to the Sermon on the Mount and the means through which disciples of Jesus are empowered to live out the kingdom righteousness it defines In turn the Sermon on the Mount clarifies what the answer to the petitions of the Lord's Prayer might look like in the life of the disciple of Jesus Whilst the centrality of the Lord's Prayer has been noted by previous commentators this centrality and its intended purpose has not hitherto been defined or examined in great depth Ridlehoover fills this gap with a closely argued and in depth study ranging from methodology and the structure of the prayer itself to examining the Father will forgiveness and evil petitions and the relevance of word and deed for hearers and doers

Ridlehoover's examination of the relationship between the Sermon and Prayer advances studies in compositional criticism and intratextuality

Divine Words, Female Voices Jerusha Tanner Lamptey, 2018-08-10 The relationship between Islam and feminism is complex There are many Muslim scholars who fervently promote women's equality At the same time there is ambivalence regarding the general norms terminology and approaches of feminism and feminist theology This ambivalence is in large part a product of various hegemonic androcentric and patriarchal discourses that seek to dictate legitimate and authoritative interpretations. These discourses not only fuel ambivalence, they also effectively obscure valuable possibilities related to interreligious feminist engagement. Divine Words, Female Voices is the follow-up to Jerusha Lamphey's 2014 book Never Wholly Other, in which she introduced the idea of Muslima theology and applied it to the topic of religious diversity. In this new book, she extends her earlier arguments to contend that interreligious feminist engagement is both a theologically valid endeavor and a vital resource for Muslim women scholars. She introduces comparative feminist theology as a method for overcoming challenges associated with interreligious feminist engagement, reorients comparative discussions to focus on the two Divine Words, the Qur'an and Jesus, and feminist theology, and uses this reorientation to examine intersections, discontinuities, and insights related to diverse theological topics. This book is distinctive in its responsiveness to calls for new approaches in Islamic feminist theology, its use of the method of comparative theology, its focus on Muslim and Christian feminist theology in comparative analysis, and its constructive articulation of Muslima theological perspectives. Prayer as Memory David L.

Reinhart, 2012-10-23 What would a comparative study of prayer look like? If the human impulse is to survive by thinking and acting religiously, Reinhart says, religion is born on the day prayer first finds breath. He discusses prayer as a discourse since that first day that is speech out of brokenness or suffering, expressed in the hope of something more. Through his engagement with theorists of language and memory, Habermas, Derrida, Metz, Ricoeur, and others, Reinhart develops a framework that sustains an innovative approach to apocalyptic thought that also lays the foundation for a new field: the comparative study of prayer. New Perspectives and Problems in Anthropology Èva Bodzsár, Annamária

Zsákai, 2009-05-27 The 15th Congress of the European Anthropological Association, held under the title MAN AND ENVIRONMENT: TRENDS AND CHALLENGES IN ANTHROPOLOGY, was organized by the Department of Biological Anthropology, Eötvös Loránd University, Budapest, Hungary. The Congress was also a celebration of the 125th anniversary of the founding of the Department of Biological Anthropology of the university. The Congress strived to encompass all aspects of physical anthropology pertinent to the understanding of human origins, as well as the variability of ancient and present populations. The main topic was Man and Environment in the Past and at Present: Trends and Challenges in Anthropology. At the beginning of the 21st century, it seemed important to summarize what we had learned in the last hundred years in order to help our younger colleagues in physical anthropology in understanding the current trends and to provide them with suggestions for their future research. The present volume contains a collection of the selected papers presented in the congress. The first section discusses some aspects of human evolution and adaptation and reflects on the race concept. The second section discusses some skeletal variations in different populations and the effects of isolation, migration, and life style on genetic structure of populations. The third session gives an overview of the current state of our knowledge about growth and ageing that may mould our general approach to human ecology. This book will be especially useful physical

McDowell,2006 Markus McDowell examines how the literature of the Second Temple period portrays women at prayer through an examination of the literary context and character of those prayers The goal of this work is a greater understanding of how women were portrayed in literary sources and an offering of some fresh insights for the study of women s religious and social roles in the ancient world The texts are analyzed and categorized within five areas social location content form occasion and gender perspective The prayers are also compared and contrasted with men s prayers in the same sources The analysis includes locating as much as possible the historical literary and cultic context of each document in which these prayers appear By examining all prayers in these texts uttered by women not just prayers of named or prominent women and then comparing them with all the prayers of men in those same texts certain patterns appear This study adds to our knowledge of women and religion in Second Temple Judaism by primarily exploring patterns that appear among the prayers in the literature of the Second Temple period While there are fewer prayers by women than men in this literature the prayers of women are not portrayed as significantly different from those of men in terms of social location content form or occasion At the same time the prayers of women exhibit other patterns of language and in a minor way form and occasion that differ from the prayers of men Christian Prayer For Dummies Richard Wagner,2011-05-04 Advice and examples help you find your own prayer style Discover how prayer works and why you need it now more than ever Do you want to pray but you re not sure how This friendly guide explains the different kinds of prayer revealing how and why to pray and how to discern God s answers You ll see how to overcome hindrances how to use a journal and how to pray on your own Discover what Thy will be done means and how to approach prayers that seemingly haven t been answered The Dummies Way Explanations in plain English Get in get out information Icons and other navigational aids Tear out cheat sheet Top ten lists A dash of humor and fun Perspectives ,1994

Essays on the Real Church Dirk J. Smit,2024-08-15 The spirit of the Reformation is often expressed in the well known slogan that Reformed churches are always being reformed according to God s Word ecclesia reformata semper reformanda secundum verbum Dei Over the last century the spirit of this slogan motivated someone like Dietrich Bonhoeffer to argue that the visible form and life of the church should reflect the truth and message of the church Already in his doctoral dissertation called Sanctorum Communio the communion of the saints the young Bonhoeffer combined theological claims and traditions with social theory and analysis in this spirit in an innovative way to study the nature and integrity and witness of the church At the time this was a radical claim with major consequences and challenges for Protestant churches Their life which meant their order structure actions statements convictions public presence and role was to be measured by their gospel which meant their message proclamation convictions claims They could no longer proclaim one truth yet live a different life It was this spirit which led to the well known Theological Declaration of Barmen in 1934 and to the formation of the Confessing Church in Nazi Germany Many called this a moment of truth a status confessionis It was this same spirit which later inspired the struggle in South Africa for the integrity and faithfulness of the church and for the credibility of its message proclamation and witness The contributions in this volume 52 papers essays sermons studies were all produced in this spirit Most of them have not been published before They were all occasional pieces written over several decades in different contexts and for different purposes and audiences yet they all breathe this self critical spirit of the Reformation considering whether the real church the concrete every day actual living church that people know and experience and perhaps belong to truly strives to embody the gospel itself the message which it claims and proclaims They all inquire under different circumstances and in diverse ways about different social forms of the real church from worship to congregation from denomination to ecumenical church from individual believers to movements and organisations whether and how they embody the truth of the church or not Together these contributions tell a story the story of this spirit in South African circles over several decades but also in the ecumenical church in our globalizing world They offer one small glimpse into different concrete moments in the story of this spirit in the life of this tradition and community of faith Hopefully some of these accounts may resonate with others who also shared the same spirit and still share it today in new and ongoing ways
