Pre Raphaelite Landscape:

The Pre-Raphaelite Landscape Allen Staley, 1973      Pre-Raphaelite Vision Allen Staley, Christopher Newall, Tim Batchelor, Alison Smith, Ian Warrell, Tate Britain (Gallery), 2004-12 Published to accompany exhibition held at Tate Britain London 12 February 3 May 2004 the Altes Nationalgalerie Berlin 12 June 19 September 2004 and the Fundacio la Caixa Madrid 6 October 2004 9 January 2005      John Brett Christiana Payne, 2010 This guide to John Brett 1831 1902 investigates the painter who was seen as the leader of the Pre Raphaelite landscape school In addition to exploring the familiar early works including The Val d Aosta and Stonebreaker it provides information on his later less known coastal and marine paintings Brett s turbulent friendship with John Ruskin is discussed as are his relations with his beloved sister Rosa and his partner Mary with whom he had seven children His fervent interest in astronomy his love of the sea and his lifelong pursuit of wealth and recognition are all examined in this reassessment which concludes with a catalogue raisonné of his works

Pre-Raphaelite Landscape and Outdoor Painting Allen Staley, 1966      The Pre-Raphaelites Christopher Wood, 1994 United in their opposition to the artistic establishment the Pre Raphaelites were determined to paint their pictures with complete fidelity to nature using pure and vibrant colours on a white background This book charts the rise and continued influence of this movement      Reading the Pre-Raphaelites Tim Barringer, T. J. Barringer, 1999-01-01 This illustrated book focuses on the Pre Raphaelite artists and their radical departure from artistic conventions Barringer explores the meanings encoded in Pre Raphaelite paintings and analyses key pictures and their significance within the complex social and cultural matrix of 19th century Britain      Pre-Raphaelites Christopher Newall, Ann Bukantas, 2016 Featuring more than 100 works of art from celebrated Pre Raphaelite artists this fascinating new research into Pre Raphaelite painters and collectors positions Liverpool as the Victorian art capital of the north      Writing the Pre-Raphaelites Tim Barringer, 2017-07-05 This vibrant collection of essays claims that a complex network of texts by critics biographers and diarists established the credibility and influence of the Pre Raphaelite movement Throughout the twentieth century Modernist taste failed to acknowledge the achievement of oppositional groupings such as the Pre Raphaelites The essays collected here however reveal that the British group anticipated later avant gardes by using the written word to configure for itself a radical artistic identity Public and critics alike were scandalized by the radicalism of Pre Raphaelite painting its unflinching portrayal of historical figures and of contemporary life and its irreverent attitude to artistic convention Pre Raphaelitism s innovations were not confined to style new forms of artistic identity and behaviour were explored As the contributors interrogate the texts through which Pre Raphaelitism was constructed they demonstrate that the movement s wide influence as a cultural phenomenon derived from the interplay between exhibited works and critical discourse Applying a range of sophisticated methodologies from the fields of literary studies art history and cultural studies these interdisciplinary essays uncover the neglected role of texts in the success of the Pre Raphaelite rebellion and argue in favor of a new centrality for this movement in the history of nineteenth century European culture      Collecting the Pre-Raphaelites Margaretta Frederick Watson, 2018-12-17 First published in 1997 and written by leading scholars of the day these fifteen essays examine aspects of the reception and collecting of Pre Raphaelite Art the social and cultural context in which the work was favoured and acquired Two major collections provide the focus for the investigation that of the Birmingham City Museums and Art Gallery in the United Kingdom and that of the American Samuel Bancroft Jr now part of the Delaware Art Museum The study of these two collections both formed in the late 1890 places Pre Raphaelite Art at nexus of contemporary cultural issues that touched the lives of both the city council intent on establishing a public gallery of national importance and a wealthy American businessman indulging a private passion for the work of these artists The contributors approach the issue in a variety of ways These include the study of the ambitions and self perception of collectors of the period an analysis of the impact of John Ruskin's campaign to establish Pre Raphaelite painting as the Art of England and its impact on notions of civic and national identity the examination of individual painting in relation to such issues as the portrayal of women the nude and of religious subjects and the study of the Victorian preoccupation with Renaissance Italy and the attempt by Ruskin Charles Fairfax Murray advisor to the two collections and the Grosvenor Gallery to proclaim the Pre Raphaelite artists as the true inheritors of the genius of Renaissance Italian artists These essays were first presented at a symposium held at the Delaware Art Museum during the exhibition there of the paintings of Birmingham City Museums and Art Gallery      Landscape and Vision in Nineteenth-Century Britain and France Michael Charlesworth, 2017-07-05 A study of the ways landscape was perceived in nineteenth century Britain and France this book draws on evidence from poetry landscape gardens spectacular public entertainments novels and scientific works as well as paintings in order to develop its basic premise that landscape and the processes of perceiving it cannot be separated Vision embraces panoramic seeing from high places but also the seeing of ghosts and spectres when madness and hallucination impinge upon landscape The rise of geology and the spread of empires upset the existing comfortable orders of comprehension of landscape Reverie and imagination produced powerful interpretive actions while landscape in French culture proved central to the rejection of conservative classicism in favour of perceptual questioning of experience The experience of subjectivity proved central to the perception of landscape while the visual culture of landscape became of paramount importance to modernity during the period in question      Victorian Landscape Watercolors Scott Wilcox, Christopher Newall, 1992 English landscape watercolor painting a perfect marriage of genre and medium entered a lively period of experimentation in style and content during the second half of the nineteenth century with rich and diverse results Through all the changes of style and technique and all the debates over the appropriate use of the medium it was watercolor's ability to convey the timeless truth and reality of the natural world that mattered to artists critics and audiences British watercolors of the Victorian period continued to observe an essential humility before nature they remain fresh and compellingly immediate because they derived in the first place from the artists heartfelt communion with the elements of nature Victorian Landscape Watercolors begins with a consideration of the continuing influence of the great generation who earlier in the century during the extraordinary parallel rise of watercolor and landscape painting had established the landscape watercolor as a major British contribution to the arts The second chapter examines the role of the landscape watercolor in the aesthetic thought of John Ruskin whose critical voice played a dominant role in shaping that art The third chapter looks at the place of landscape within the watercolor societies and its development as it appeared in their annual exhibitions The final chapter deals with the tug of new and old foreign and native in the later Victorian period The book also features 126 watercolors from public and private collections in America and England all reproduced in full color and accompanied by individual commentaries Among the 76 artists represented are David Cox Sr and Jr Walter Crane William Holman Hunt Edward Lear Samuel Palmer James Mallord William Turner James McNeill Whistler and Ruskin himself along with dozens of lesser known masters of the medium Victorian Landscape Watercolors is published in conjunction with the first exhibition to survey this period of this particularly British contribution to the arts the exhibition organized by the Yale Center for British Art in New Haven Connecticut will also be seen at the Cleveland Museum of Art and in Birmingham England

The Influence of Pre-Raphaelitism on Fin de Siècle Italy Giuliana Pieri,2007 This volume is the first comprehensive study of the influence of English Pre Raphaelitism on Italian art and culture in the late nineteenth century Analysis of the cultural relations between Italy and Britain has focused traditionally on the special place that Italy had in the British imagination but the cultural and artistic exchanges between the two countries have been much misunderstood This book aims to correct this imbalance by placing Pre Raphaelitism in its European context It explores the nature of its influence on Italy how it was transmitted and how it was manifested by focusing on the role of Italian Anglophiles the English communities in Florence and Rome the writings of Gabriele D Annunzio and a number of Italian artists active in Tuscany and Rome The works of Cellini Ricci Gioja De Carolis and Sartorio in particular fully demonstrate the impact of Pre Raphaelitism on the young Italian school of painting which found in the English movement an ideal link with its glorious past on which it could build a new artistic identity These artists show that English Pre Raphaelitism was one of the most powerful single influences on fin de siècle Italian culture
