Preaching Is Dialogue:

Preaching as Dialogue Jeremy Thomson, 1996 Preaching Contextually Anuparthi John Prabhakar, 2016-10-06

Preaching is the commission given by the great preacher Jesus Christ. It is urgent because it communicates the essential gospel meant for the salvation of the perishing humanity. God is universal and people are local. The universal God became local in Jesus Christ through his incarnation. The saving gospel of Jesus Christ is necessary to communicate contextually. The majority of Indian Christians come from Dalit background. The ongoing development of Dalit Theology is helping to make the gospel relevant and effective. But the homiletic methodology being adapted in the Indian context is mostly from the West. In this scenario, Preaching Contextually searches for relevant methodology for Indian Dalits. For this purpose, contents of some sample sermons were analyzed homiletically to assess its relevance and to present a feasible method as a Dalit Homiletic.

Prof Dr J lio C zar Adam Brazil. This is a book which contributes enormously to homiletic research and science not only in the Indian context but also for other contexts mainly those permeated by social ills and injustices. It is a necessary book for those who study and do homiletics mainly in the context of vulnerability.

Dialogue Preaching William D. Thompson, Gordon C. Bennett, 1969 Preaching in the Purple Zone Leah D. Schade, 2019-04-23

Preaching in the Purple Zone is a resource for helping the church understand the challenges facing parish pastors while encouraging and equipping preachers to address the vital justice issues of our time. This book provides practical instruction for navigating the hazards of prophetic preaching with tested strategies and prudent tactics grounded in biblical and theological foundations. Key to this endeavor is using a method of civil discourse called deliberative dialogue for finding common values among politically diverse parishioners. Unique to this book is instruction on using the sermon dialogue sermon process developed by the author that expands the pastor's level of engagement on justice issues with parishioners beyond the single sermon. This book equips clergy to help their congregations respectfully engage in deliberation about hot topics, find the values that bind them together, and respond faithfully to God's Word.

Partners in Preaching Reuel L. Howe, 1967 Teaching Preaching Katie Geneva Cannon, 2007-10-15

If you ain't got no proposition you ain't got no sermon neither. This was the battle cry of Isaac Rufus Clark, one of the most influential and colorful professors of homiletics in the black church in the twentieth century. Clark taught at the Interdenominational Theological Center in Atlanta for twenty-seven years, 1962-1989. In Teaching Preaching, Katie Cannon, one of Clark's myriad preaching protégés, conceives her role as purely presentational to bring Clark face to face with a reading audience, allow him to explain the formal elements of preaching from the inside out. Teaching Preaching is an invaluable resource for ministers who struggle from Sunday to Sunday to find their ethical voice in the preparation of each and every sermon.

Preaching that Matters Lori J. Hearing a Film, Seeing a Sermon: Preaching and Popular Movies Timothy B. Cargal,2007 Interpreting God's Word in Black Preaching Warren H. Stewart,1984 To assist the preacher with the task of interpreting and communicating the Word so that it will be relevant and understood by the congregation Dr Steward presents a well defined five point study of the hermeneutical process Black Preaching Prof. Henry H. Mitchell,2010-09-01 Henry H Mitchell has completely revised and integrated his popular books The Recovery of Preaching and Black Preaching for seminarians and pastors both Black and White who are seeking to add power and vision to their sermons Mitchell persuasively demonstrates that Black culture and preaching style are vital for the empowerment of Black congregations and have much to offer the preaching method of all preachers By focusing on the use of storytelling imagination and style of preaching rooted in African American culture Mitchell spotlights effective techniques for lively preaching Preaching Racial Justice Heille, Gregory,Nutt, Maurice, J.,Wilhelm, Deborah L.,2023-09-15 This edited volume conveys the urgency of Christian antiracism preaching from ecumenical intercultural and intergenerational perspectives Dialogical Preaching Marlene Ringgaard Lorensen, Ph.D.,2013-11-20 Dialogical Preaching Bakhtin Otherness and Homiletics explores the genre of preaching in light of theories of dialogicity and carnivalization developed by Mikhail Bakhtin The Bakhtinian approach to preaching evokes ways in which historical acts and embodied experiences are transcribed in literary genres The theories of carnivalization manifest the dynamic other oriented interaction between reflexive texts and embodied acts Experiences of otherness and difference play a central role in human communication as well as in theological descriptions of the relationship between God and humans One of the central aims of this book is to explore ways in which others different from the designated preacher influence contemporary preaching practices and in that sense can be seen as co authors As material for this investigation the book provides analyses of four theologians who have contributed significantly to contemporary homiletical developments namely those of the American homileticians Charles Campbell John S McClure and James H Harris and the Danish Systematic Theologian Svend Bjerg The homiletical analyses lead to the thesis that the dialogical encounter between author and addressees analyzer and analyzed is one of the conditions of interpretation and communication rather than a disturbance The communication theoretical and practical theological analyses are discussed in light of Kierkegaard's Barth's and Jungel's emphasis on the qualitative difference between God and humans. These concluding reflections suggest ways in which inter-human otherness can function as a dynamically conjoining rather than mutually exclusive difference between God as the Wholly Other and other-wise humans.

Ethical Approaches to Preaching John S. McClure, 2021-02-23 Different ethical situations require different homiletical responses. John McClure organizes recent literature on ethics and preaching into four ethical approaches. Does your situation require public moral leadership? Then a communicative ethic is best. Does your situation require the development of countercultural moral character? Then a witness ethic is best. Does your situation require ethical consciousness-raising and organizing for social justice? Then a liberationist ethic is best. Does your situation require genuine moral conversation and the discernment of shared commitments in spite of our differences? Then a hospitality ethic is best. Each ethical approach is briefly and carefully explored, correlated with appropriate contexts and situations, and demonstrated with model sermons. The result is a useful handbook for quickly discerning what ethical approach is needed, how to preach that approach, and what to expect as a result.

Does Preaching Have a Future? Dr. Dwight S. Riddick Sr., DR. FRANK A. THOMAS, 2015-08-07 From preaching sermons as a child in the backyard to delivering the upcoming President's address for the 101st annual gathering of the prestigious Hampton University Ministers Conference, Dr. Dwight Riddick has become transparent in his book Does Preaching Have a Future. As you open the pages of this book, you will find insightful conversational thoughts around the future of preaching. He writes, "This book is intended to ignite conversation about what preaching should look like going forward if this discourse is not already burning in the soul." This veteran, seasoned pastor and teacher of the gospel has relied completely upon Scripture in his broad range of topics when it comes to the future of preaching. Preach the word, be instant in season, out of season, is a tried and proven counsel for preachers stretching all generations. Ezekiel was faced with the question, "can these bones live?" Preachers today are asked if their preaching can bring about positive transformation in the lives of hopeless people and hopeless cases during changing times. Dr. Riddick supports this conversational topic by reminding his fellow homileticians, preachers, that those called and anointed by God are uniquely qualified to explain the Scripture.

Allen, 2022-06-23 This volume develops an approach to preaching that brings together two important forces One is process theology and the other is a homiletic of conversation based on mutual critical correlation In this approach the preacher does not unilaterally announce the Word of God but is the leader of an exciting conversation involving the biblical text process theology the congregation and voices from the larger world The preacher seeks to help the congregation identify God's invitations towards inclusive well being and to imagine how to respond in ways that are consistent with those invitations that promote inclusive well being The book begins with a crisp and clear summary of the worldview of process theology highlighting its distinctive views on how God operates in the world through invitation and on the interrelationship of all things The work then outlines an approach to biblical exegesis informed by process perspectives and sketches a method for bringing the biblical voice into dialogue with voices from tradition contemporary theology and the congregation and preacher The volume suggests shaping the sermon to honor process theology and conversation The volume concludes by noticing how perspectives from process and conversation help the preacher embody the sermon in engaging ways Preaching Jesus Charles L. Campbell, 2006-09-01 The post liberal cultural linguistic theology of the Yale School has been one of the most important theological developments in the United States during the latter twentieth century In this unique book which combines theological analysis and homiletical reflection Charles Campbell examines post liberal theology as it is embodied in the work of Hans Frei and develops the implications of this theological position for the theory and practice of preaching Arguing that the trouble with homiletics today is fundamentally theological Campbell offers Frei's theological position as a means for enriching the Christian pulpit and renewing the church
