Radical Orthodoxy Or Nihilist Textualism? Gavin Lee Hyman, University of Cambridge, 1999      The Predicament of Postmodern Theology Gavin Hyman, 2001-01-01 Gavin Hyman explores in depth two antithetical schools of postmodern theology the radical orthodoxy of John Milbank and the nihilist textualism of Don Cupitt Hyman critiques Milbank's influential project from a postmodern perspective and then points out the major difficulties with Cupitt's approach Finally he explores the work of Mark C Taylor and Michael de Certeau to articulate a third way that leads beyond the responses of both Cupitt and Milbank      The Poverty of Radical Orthodoxy Lisa Isherwood, Marko Zlomislíć, 2012-09-21 Radical Orthodoxy whose founding father is John Milbank claims that God has been pushed to the margins in modernity and that a false and misleading neo theology has taken hold that needs to be revisited and contested It is this return to the premodern that often leads theologians to have reservations about Radical Orthodoxy when they might otherwise have some sympathy for many of its positions Radical Orthodoxy like most traditional theology claims that the power of God is in all creation and that God sits everywhere for all to partake of But there appears to be a failure to see that the church and theology do not set in place systems that live out this basic assumption Liberation theology while sharing much of the same assumption that God is everywhere and to be shared at the same time engages in a critique of the structures that claim to facilitate this vision and finds them wanting From here then liberation theologians attempt to refigure our understanding of shared power in order to broaden the vision while it may be argued that Radical Orthodoxy simply restates the assumption with little political critique of the issues Perhaps this point explains why this book is titled The Poverty of Radical Orthodoxy rather than Radical Error

Controversies in Interreligious Dialogue and the Theology of Religions Paul Hedges, 2013-01-03 A challenging controversial discussion of the current state of the debate about Christianity and other world faiths      Radical Orthodoxy in a Pluralistic World Angus M. Slater, 2018-01-02 Radical Orthodoxy remains an important movement within Christian theology but does it relate effectively with an increasingly pluralist and secular Western society Can it authentically communicate the beauty and desire of the divine to such a diverse collection of theological accounts of meaning This book reassesses the viability of the social model given by John Milbank before attempting an out narration of this vision with a more convincing account of the link between the example of the Trinitarian divine and the created world It also touches on areas such as interreligious dialogue particularly between Christianity and Islam as well as social issues such as marginalisation integration and community relations in order to chart a practical way forward for the living of a Christian life within contemporary plurality This is a vital resource for any Theology academic with an interest in Radical Orthodoxy and conservative post modern Christian theology It will also appeal to scholars involved in Islamic Studies and studying interreligious dialogues      The Cambridge Companion to Postmodern Theology Kevin J. Vanhoozer, 2003-07-31 Postmodernity allows for no absolutes and no essence Yet theology is concerned with the absolute the essential How then does theology sit within postmodernity Is postmodern theology possible or is such a concept a contradiction in terms Should theology bother about postmodernism or just get on with its own thing Can it Theologians have responded in many different ways to the challenges posed by theories of postmodernity In this introductory 2003 guide to a complex area editor Kevin J Vanhoozer addresses the issue head on in a lively survey of what talk about God might mean in a postmodern age and vice versa The book then offers examples of different types of contemporary theology in relation to postmodernity while the second part examines the key Christian doctrines in postmodern perspective Leading theologians contribute to this clear and informative Companion which no student of theology should be without Jewish Theology for a Postmodern Age Miriam Feldmann Kaye, 2019-03-08 Through a critical study of the writings of Rav Shagar and Tamar Ross Miriam Feldmann Kaye asks how Jewish theology can survive the tide of postmodernism and its refutation of a single objective and ultimate truth and suggests how aspects of postmodernism might be conceived of as a potential resource for rejuvenating religion

Interpreting the Postmodern Rosemary Radford Ruether, Marion Grau, 2006-01-19 A collection of feminist historical liberation and constructive theological responses Radical Orthodoxy Trinitarian Responses to Worldliness Heejun Yang, 2022-07-11 Are you a seminarian scholar who wants to go further from your school's Barthian tradition The purpose of this book is to connect cutting edge post Barthian trinitarian theological movements all around the world postliberal theology Yale school in the US radical orthodoxy Cambridge school in the UK German radical hermeneutic theology Zurich school in the German speaking world and the theology of inculturation Korean Methodist school in Asia Although each theological movement had a tremendous impact on the entire area of theology there has been no work done to connect those twenty first century theological trends The strength of this book is that it connects different theological movements with the author's own unique view as a Korean theologian Comparing different Trinitarian theological movements the author argues for the necessity of a God focused theology to embrace different human understandings in a world where Christianity is not dominant The book claims that Christians can pursue a genuine dialectics of differentiation and interdependence when they understand the global phenomenon of Christianity's inculturation as the work of the Trinity who relates Godself to different worldly cultures Reason, Truth, and Theology in Pragmatist Perspective Paul D. Murray, 2004 In this work Paul Murray explores which style of rationality is most appropriate to Christian theology in the contemporary pluralist postfoundationalist postmodern context At its heart is a fresh consideration of the American pragmatist tradition focussing on the writings of Richard Rorty and Nicholas Rescher Where Rorty correctly diagnoses the failures of foundationalist objectivism Rescher's pragmatic idealism is presented as healing the ills in Rorty's own neo pragmatism The significant resonance between Rescher's view of rationality and Christian understanding of the trinity is explored In turn Donald MacKinnon's influential writings are presented as exemplifying just such an approach to theology Murray both articulates an enriched form of Christian postliberalism committed to receiving and learning from other traditions of thought and practice and probes the claim that the dynamics of human rationality can be expected to reflect the Trinitarian dynamics of God's being Paul Murray presents us here with an exhaustive and insightful study of recent pragmatic theory in which he sets up rhythms of healing and completion as well as interrogation particularly remarkable is his exploration of Christianity as the deep and in some sense final interlocutor of pragmatic tradition I strongly recommend this book Olivier Davis Professor of Christian Doctrine King's College London This is a mature wide ranging work that by uniting the intellectual and the practical carries both rational and ethical conviction It does equal justice to the classic teachings of Christianity and to the challenges to rethink them in dialogue with modern and postmodern approaches The result is a conception of Christianity both generously orthodox and deeply engaged with contemporary life and thought It is especially good to see the profound contribution of Donald MacKinnon understood and developed with such perception and relevance David F Ford Regius Professor of Divinity University of Cambridge Paul Murray is currently Lecturer in Systematic Theology within the Department of Theology at the University of Durham England He has previously held posts at St Cuthbert's Seminary Ushaw College Durham and Newman College of Higher Education Birmingham Essays of his exploring issues in philosophical theology science and theology and contemporary Roman Catholic theology have appeared in leading journals and edited collections This is his first monograph

Christian Faith in Our Time Paul Jersild, 2016-12-19 Jersild responds to a fundamental issue in the theology of the church what is the nature of our language in addressing the mysteries of our faith such as speaking of God or of the incarnation Advocating a modest theology in facing the mystery of God and acknowledging the impact of postmodern sensibilities he lifts up the metaphorical language of Jesus as the key to a responsible theology Jersild makes his case for a faith based imagination centering on the life death and resurrection of Jesus as God's man who brings a divine redemptive love to the human story Theology does not give us a line in the sand that divides the saved from the lost nor is it the truth that makes all other religions false This is a book for seekers as well as many church members who harbor questions and doubts about the church's theology

Theology, Psychology and the Plural Self Léon Turner, 2016-02-17 Is the human self singular and unified or essentially plural This book explores the seemingly disparate ways that Christian theology and the secular human sciences have approached this complex question The latter have largely embraced the idea of the plural self as an inescapable even adaptive feature of psychological life Contemporary Christian theology by contrast has largely neglected recent psychological accounts of the naturalness of self plurality and has sought to reaffirm the self's unity in opposition to those postmodern theorists who would dismantle it Through an original analysis of recent theological and secular accounts of self and personhood this book examines the extent of the intertheoretical disparity and its broader implications for theology's dialogue with the human sciences in general and psychology in particular It explains why theologians ought to take questions about the plurality of self very seriously and how they overlap with many of the central concerns of contemporary theological anthropology including the notions of relationality particularity and human sinfulness Introducing a novel psychological framework to distinguish various understandings of self disunity the author argues that contemporary theology's blanket condemnation of self multiplicity is misconceived and identifies a possible means of reconciling theological and human scientific accounts Engaging Deconstructive Theology Ronald T.

Michener,2016-04-29 Engaging Deconstructive Theology presents an evangelical approach for theological conversation with postmodern thinkers Themes are considered from Derrida Foucault Mark C Taylor Rorty and Cupitt developing dialogue from an open minded evangelical perspective Ron Michener draws upon insights from radical postmodern thought and seeks to advance an apologetic approach to the Christian faith that acknowledges a mosaic of human sources including experience literature and the imagination Theology at the End of Culture Russell Re Manning,2005 This book is a reconsideration of Paul Tillich's 1886 1965 project of a theology of culture and art Concentrating on Tillich's widely neglected pre emigration writings 1910 1933 Re Manning reconstructs and defends Tillich's proposals for theology of culture as a philosophically sophisticated programme of theological engagement with culture and art On the boundary between the extremes of liberal Christian humanism and neo orthodox isolationism Tillich's project is shown to be a powerful continuation of the mediatory intentions of the Schleiermacher Troeltsch line of modern Protestant theology to overcome the intolerable gap between religion and culture Drawing heavily on Tillich's incorporation of Schelling's positive philosophy into the deep structure of this theology Re Manning argues that Tillich's Idealistic Romantic theology of mediation provides a way through the entrenched oppositions of the divided mind of twentieth century theology to a constructive theology of cultural engagement Further this book offers an assessment of the continued relevance of Tillich's project in the situation of contemporary philosophical theology Beyond the dominant antithetical types of postmodern theology Mark C Taylor's a theology and the radical orthodoxy of John Milbank Re Manning argues for the possibility of a Tillichian postmodern theology of culture able to engage with the spiritual situation at the end of culture New Directions in Philosophical Theology Gavin

Hyman,2018-01-18 At the beginning of a new millennium philosophical theology has become more contested than ever before The appearance of non realist theologies postmodern theologies and the theology of radical orthodoxy has provoked a vibrant debate about the nature of theology itself In what new directions should theology be moving in the wake of the end of modernity For over thirty years Don Cupitt has been provoking theologians to reconsider the nature of their discipline Taking their inspiration from his work and writing in his honour on the occasion of his 70th birthday some of the leading figures in the contemporary theological scene address urgent questions facing theology today and in doing so exemplify the methodological diversity which characterises the contemporary field Theology, Science and Life Carmody

Grey,2023-01-26 Offering a bold intervention in the ongoing debate about the relationship between theology and science Theology Science and Life proposes that the strong demarcation between the two spheres is unsustainable theology occurs within and not outside what we call science and science occurs within and not outside theology The book applies this in a penetrating way to the most topical contentious and philosophically charged science of late modernity biology Rejecting the easy dualism of expressions such as theology and science theology or science modern biology is examined so as to illuminate the nature of both In making this argument the book achieves two further things It is the first major English language reception and application of the thought of philosopher Hans Jonas in theology and it makes a decisive contribution to the unfolding reception of Radical Orthodoxy one of the most influential schools in contemporary Anglophone theology

Christian Polytheism? Paul Hedges, 2024-09-01 This book is a theological and political exploration of how Christianity may be compatible with polytheism arguing that there is no singular orthodoxy rather we see polydoxy Conceptually deconstructing the distinction between monotheism and polytheism it advances multi devotionism and mono devotionism as analytically preferable terminology It starts by exploring notions of polytheism in the Old er Testament New er Testament and Christian developments of the Trinity over subsequent centuries before placing Christianity in comparative dialogue with Islam Judaism and Hinduism Employing a decolonial and feminist stance the book proceeds to examine global Christianities focusing on African and Asian theologies as well as Goddess traditions It concludes by offering five options for developing a theology of Christian polytheism Henotheist originalism theologies of plurality generous orthodoxy atheistic Christian polytheism and a theology of polytheistic excess This original and compelling volume is essential reading for scholars of Christian Systematic Theology and Modern Theology

Traversing the Middle Gavin Hyman, 2013-10-10 In recent philosophy theology and critical theory postmodern thought has been much criticized on specifically ethical and political grounds In particular it has been argued that postmodernism has induced passivity and is impotent in the face of the challenges presented by the hegemonic global market In response numerous thinkers have called for the return of the metanarrative or have insisted on the necessity of the domain of the universal In this book Gavin Hyman accepts the diagnosis while contesting the cure Through detailed engagements with the work of Alain Badiou Slavoj i ek and John Milbank as well as discussions of the work of Simon Critchley Michael Hardt and Antonio Negri Hyman argues that many contemporary thinkers merely invert the problems intrinsic to postmodernism and therefore do not effectively escape them He argues that the ethical and political are best preserved and perpetuated through the negotiating of an ongoing tension between the domains of the universal the particular and the singular To proceed thus would be to traverse the terrain of the middle ethically politically and religiously

Traces of Otherness in St. Thomas Aquinas' Theology of Grace Michael Fagge,

Engaging with Contemporary Culture Martyn Percy, 2016-04-29 Theology and the churches are often considered to be at the margins of contemporary culture frequently struggling for identity and attention In this important new book Martyn Percy argues that a rich form of practical theological engagement is needed if the churches are to comprehend their situation in the modern world thereby enabling them to engage more confidently with society Drawing on a range of perspectives in the religion culture debate and from case studies in the USA and Europe the book explores the myriad of ways in which culture is now shaping contemporary Christianity and how vital an appreciation of this dynamic is for the self understanding of churches and theology This book explores the crucial and continuing contribution that theology can make to public life in an era that is often perceived to be dominated by consumerism and secularity It will especially appeal to scholars of contemporary religion practical theologians and all those who are engaged in ministerial formation
