The Fire Robin Blaser, 2006-09-29 Spanning four decades of meditation on the avant garde in poetry art and philosophy the essays collected in The Fire reveal Robin Blaser's strikingly fresh perspective on New American poets deconstructive philosophies current events and the state of humanities now The essays gathered in one volume for the first time include commentaries on Jack Spicer Charles Olson Robert Duncan Mary Butts George Bowering Louis Dudek Christos Dikeakos and J S Bach Blaser emerged from the Berkeley Renaissance of the 1940s and 1950s having studied under legendary medieval scholar Ernst Kantorowicz and having been a major participant in the burgeoning literary scene His response to the cultural and political events of his time has been to construct a poetic voice that offers a singular perspective on a shareable world and to pose that voice alongside others as a source of countermemory and potential agency Conceived as conversations these essays brilliantly reflect that ethos as they re read the cultural events of the past fifty years

Male Subjectivity and Poetic Form in "New American" Poetry A. Mossin, 2010-05-24 Focusing in particular on pairings of writers within the larger grouping of poets this book suggests how literary partnerships became pivotal to American poets in the wake of Donald Allen's New American Poetry anthology

Writing in Our Time Pauline Butling, Susan Rudy, 2009-10-22 Process poetics is about radical poetry poetry that challenges dominant world views values and aesthetic practices with its use of unconventional punctuation interrupted syntax variable subject positions repetition fragmentation and disjunction To trace the aesthetically and politically radical poetries in English Canada since the 1960s Pauline Butling and Susan Rudy begin with the upstart poets published in Vancouver's TISH A Poetry Newsletter and follow the trajectory of process poetics in its national and international manifestations through the 1980s and 90s The poetics explored include the works of Nicole Brossard Daphne Marlatt bpNichol George Bowering Roy Kiyooka and Frank Davey in the 1960s and 70s For the 1980 2000 period the authors include essays on Jeff Derksen Clare Harris Erin Mour and Lisa Robertson They also look at books by older authors published after 1979 including Robin Blaser Robert Kroetsch and Fred Wah A historiography of the radical poets and a roster of the little magazines small press publishers literary festivals and other such sites that have sustained poetic experimentation provide context

A Literary Biography of Robin Blaser Miriam Nichols, 2019-09-06 A Literary Biography of Robin Blaser Mechanic of Splendor is the first major study illustrating Robin Blaser's significance to North American poetry The poet Robin Blaser 1925 2009 was an important participant in the Berkeley Renaissance of the 1950s and San Francisco poetry circles of the 1960s The book illuminates Blaser's distinctive responses to and relationships with familiar writers including Robert Duncan Jack Spicer and Charles Olson via their correspondence Blaser contributed to the formation of the serial poem as a dominant mode in post war New American poetry through his work and engagement with the poetry communities of the time Offering a new perspective on a well known and influential period in American poetry Miriam Nichols combines the story of Blaser's life coming from a mid western conservative religious upbringing and his coming of age as a gay man in Berkeley Boston and San Francisco with critical assessments of his major poems through unprecedented archival research This literary biography presents Blaser's poetry and poetics in the many contexts from which it came ranging from the Berkeley Renaissance to the Vancouver scene from surrealism to phenomenology from the New American poetry to the Canadian postmodern from the homoerotic to high theory Throughout Blaser's voice is heard in the excitement of his early years in Berkeley and Boston and the seriousness of the later years where he was doing most of his living in his work

The Householders Tara McDowell, 2019-10-01 How the poet Robert Duncan and the artist Jess made the household part of their separate and collaborative creative practice I'm a householder the poet Robert Duncan once explained My whole idea of being able to work was to have a household In this book Tara McDowell examines the household physical and conceptual that Duncan established with the artist Jess beginning in 1951 when the two men exchanged marriage vows and ending with Duncan's death in 1988 For Duncan and Jess the household rather than the studio gallery or collective provided the support structure for their art Indeed McDowell argues convincingly their work was coextensive with their household The material surroundings of their house in San Francisco and the daily rhythms of their domestic lives became part of their creative practice Duncan wrote poetry that is romantic ornate and obscure Jess born Burgess Franklin Collins created multi imaged complex collages and assemblages McDowell explores their life and work reading Duncan and Jess with and against each other in alignment and misalignment She examines their illustrated book Caesar's Gate a collaborative effort that led them to reject collaboration considers each man's lifelong preoccupation with an unfinished project Jess's Narkissos and Duncan's The H D Book and discusses their origin myths and self made genealogies describing them as a form of witness in the face of the calamities of the twentieth century Duncan and Jess made the household a necessary precondition for their art making Doing so they reclaimed and rehabilitated the domestic from which gay couples were traditionally excluded for their own uses The household permitted them to reimagine the world McDowell's portrait of a couple expands to encompass broader issues urgent in midcentury America and still resonant today belonging and kinship alienation and catastrophe

Robert Duncan and the Pragmatist Sublime James Maynard, 2018-05 This book examines three historical phases of the poet Robert Duncan's writing within the aesthetic and philosophical context of a pragmatist sublime The author traces Duncan's poetics of process which like process philosophy is predicated on conditions of change and plenitude to the pragmatist tradition of William James John Dewey and Alfred North Whitehead Working from this theoretical framework and using the archival resources of the Robert Duncan Collection housed in the University of Buffalo's Poetry Collection James Maynard examines Duncan's understanding of excess in relation to poetry

Stan Brakhage the realm buster Marco Lori, Esther Leslie, 2018-01-10 Stan Brakhage's body of work counts as one of the most important within post war avant garde cinema and yet it has rarely been given the attention it deserves Over the years though diverse and original reflections have developed distancing his figure little by little from critical categories This collection of newly commissioned essays plus some important reprinted work queries some of the consensus on Brakhage's films In particular many of these essays revolve around the controversial issues of representation and perception This project sets out from the assumption that Brakhage's art is articulated primarily through opposing tensions which donate his figure and films an extraordinary depth even as they evince fleetingness elusivity and paradoxicality This collection aims not only to clarify aspects of Brakhage's art but also to show how his work is involved in a constant mediation between antinomies and opposites At the same time his art presents a multifaceted object endlessly posing new questions to the viewer for which no point of entry or perspective is preferred in respect to the others Acknowledging this this volume hopes that the experience of his films will be revitalised Featuring topics as diverse as the technical and semantic ambiguity of blacks the fissures in mimetic representation of the it within the itself of an image the film maker as practical psychologist through cognitive theories the critique of ocularcentrism by mingling sight with other senses such as touch films that can actually philosophise in a Wittgensteinian way political guilt and collusion in aesthetic forms a disjunctive reflexive and phenomenological temporality realising Deleuze's image time and the echoes of Ezra Pound and pneumophantasmology in the quest of art as spiritual revelation this book addresses not only scholars but also is a thorough and thought provoking introduction for the uninitiated Contributors include Nicky Hamlyn Peter Mudie Paul Taberham Gareth Evans Rebecca A Sheehan Christina Chalmers Stephen Mooney and Marco Lori

Beyond Maximus Anne Day Dewey,2007 Beyond Maximus shows how field poetics influenced the construction of the public voices of five Black Mountain poets Charles Olson Robert Creeley Robert Duncan Denise Levertov and Ed Dorn in order to explain their association in the 1950s and 60s as well as their break up as a result of the political and poetic crises of the Vietnam War era

Selected Prose John Ashbery,2005 Fifty years of writing on literature film and art by one of the most influential poets and critics of our time

The Letters of Robert Duncan and Denise Levertov Robert Edward Duncan,Robert J. Bertholf,Albert Gelpi,2004 This volume presents the complete correspondence between two of the most important and influential American poets of the postwar period The almost 500 letters range widely over the poetry scene and the issues that made the period so lively and productive But what gives the exchange its special personal and literary resonance is the sense of spiritual affinity and shared conviction about the power of the visionary imagination Duncan and Levertov explore these matters in rich detail until under the stress of dealing with the Vietnam War in poetry they discover deep seated differences in the religious and ethical convictions underlying their politics and poetic stance The issues that drew them together and those that drove them apart create a powerful personal drama with far reaching historical and cultural significance The editors have provided a critical Introduction full notes a chronology and a glossary of names

Edward Lear and the Play of Poetry James Williams,Matthew Bevis,2016-08-25 Of all the Victorian poets Edward Lear has a good claim to the widest audience admired and championed by critics and poets from John Ruskin to John Ashbery he has also been read heard and loved by generations of children As a central figure in the literature of nonsense Lear has also shaped the evolution of modern literature and his work continues to influence and inspire writers and readers today This collection of essays the first ever devoted solely to Lear builds on a recent resurgence of critical interest and asks how it is that the play of Lear s poetry continues to delight and to challenge our sense of what poetry can be These seventeen chapters written by established and emerging critics of poetry seek to explore and appreciate the playfulness embodied in the poems and to provide contexts in which it can be better understood and enjoyed They consider how Lear s poems play off various inheritances the literary fool Romantic lyric his religious upbringing explore particular forms in which his playful genius took flight his letters his queer writings about love and trace lines of Learical influence and inheritance by showing how other poets and thinkers across the nineteenth and twentieth centuries played off Lear in their turn Joyce Stein Eliot Auden Smith Ashbery and others

Minutes of the Charles Olson Society ,1997 The Cambridge Introduction to American Poetry since 1945 Andrew Epstein,2022-12-15 Contemporary American poetry can often seem intimidating and daunting in its variety and complexity This engaging and accessible book provides the first comprehensive introduction to the rich body of American poetry that has flourished since 1945 and offers a useful map to its current landscape By exploring the major poets movements and landmark poems at the heart of this era this book presents a compelling new version of the history of American poetry that takes into account its variety and breadth its recent evolution in the new millennium its ever increasing diversity and its ongoing engagement with politics and culture Combining illuminating close readings of a wide range of representative poems with detailed discussion of historical political and aesthetic contexts this book examines how poets have tirelessly invented new forms and styles to respond to the complex realities of American life and culture
