Prehistoric Archaeology A Comparative St:

A History of Oxford Anthropology Peter Rivière, 2009-10 Informative as well as entertaining this volume offers many interesting facets of the first hundred years of anthropology at Oxford University Oxford University Gazette University of Oxford, 1929 Stone Tools in the Paleolithic and Neolithic Near East John J. Shea, 2013-02-28 Stone Tools in the Paleolithic and Neolithic Near East A Guide surveys the lithic record for the East Mediterranean Levant Lebanon Syria Israel Jordan and adjacent territories from the earliest times to 6 500 years ago It is intended both as an introduction to this lithic evidence for students and as a resource for researchers working with Paleolithic and Neolithic stone tool evidence Written by a lithic analyst and professional flintknapper this book systematically examines variation in technology typology and industries for the Lower Middle and Upper Paleolithic the Epipaleolithic and Neolithic periods in the Near East It is extensively illustrated with drawings of stone tools In addition to surveying the lithic evidence the book also considers ways in which archaeological treatment of this evidence could be changed to make it more relevant to major issues in human origins research A final chapter shows how change in stone tool designs point to increasing human dependence on stone tools across the long sweep of Stone Age prehistory The American Antiquarian and Oriental Journal, 1907 Cultural Anthropology Raymond Scupin, 2019-12-10 Cultural Anthropology A Global Perspective delves into both classic and current research in the field reflecting a commitment to anthropology's holistic and integrative approach This text illuminates how the four subfields of anthropology biological anthropology archaeology linguistics and cultural anthropology together yield a comprehensive understanding of humanity Megaliths of the World Luc Laporte, Jean-Marc Large, Laurent Nespoulous, Chris Scarre, Tara Steimer-Herbet, 2022-08-22 Bringing together the latest research on megalithic monuments throughout the world 150 researchers offer 72 articles providing a region by region account in their specialist areas and a summary of the current state of knowledge Highlighting salient themes the book is vital to anyone interested in the phenomenon of megalithic monumentality Archaeological Theory in Europe Ian Hodder, 2014-10-30 The 1980s witnessed exciting developments in theoretical writing in Western archaeology Where previous decades were dominated by the Anglo American perspective or New Archaeology the recent years showed the European debate grow in confidence and vitality This book published in 1991 captures this spirit of debate as contributors from a wide cross section of countries evaluate the development of the distinctly national and European characteristics of archaeology and assess future directions Contributors consider an extensive range of ideologies and viewpoints stressing the fundamentally historical emphasis and social construction of European archaeology The development of archaeological theory is traced with specific emphasis on factors which differ from country to country Ultimately it argues that the most active response to archaeology is to celebrate theory within a constantly critical mode A great insight into the development of theory Bears Heather A. Lapham, Gregory A. Waselkov, 2024-04-02 Although scholars have long recognized the mythic status of bears in indigenous North American societies of the past this is the first volume to synthesize the vast amount of archaeological and historical research on the topic Bears charts the special relationship between the American black bear and humans in eastern Native American cultures across thousands of years Marius Barbeau's Vitalist Ethnology Frances M. Slaney, 2023-03-28 This book examines Marius Barbeau's career at Canada's National Museum now the Canadian Museum of History in light of his education at Oxford and in Paris 1907-1911 Based on archival research in England France and Canada Marius Barbeau's Vitalist Ethnology presents Barbeau's anthropological training at Oxford through his meticulous course notes as well as archival photographs at the Pitt Rivers Museum and the Bibliothèque et Archives nationales du Québec It also draws upon Barbeau's professional correspondence at Library and Archives Canada the BC Archives and above all the National Museum where he worked for over four decades The author Frances M Slaney sheds light on the professional life of this founder of Canadian anthropology exploring his difficult working relationships with Edward Sapir his collaborations with Franz Boas and his outstanding fieldwork in rural Quebec and with Indigenous communities on British Columbia's Northwest Coast Barbeau penned over 1 000 books and articles in addition to curating innovative museum exhibitions and art shows He invited Group of Seven artists into his field sites convinced that their works could better capture the vitality of Quebec's rural culture than his own abundant photographs For these and many other contributions the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada recognized him as a person of national historic importance in 1985 Encyclopedia of Anthropology H. James Birx, 2006 Focuses on physical social and applied anthropology archaeology linguistics and symbolic communication Topics include hominid evolution primate behaviour genetics ancient civilizations cross cultural studies and social theories A History of Anthropological Theory Paul A. Erickson, Liam Donat Murphy, 2013-01-01 In the latest edition of their popular overview text Erickson and Murphy continue to provide a comprehensive affordable and accessible introduction to anthropological theory from antiquity to the present A new section on twenty first century anthropological theory has been added with more coverage given to postcolonialism non Western anthropology and public anthropology The book has also been redesigned to be more visually and pedagogically engaging Used on its own or paired with the companion volume Readings for a History of Anthropological Theory Fourth Edition this reader offers a flexible and highly useful resource for the undergraduate anthropology classroom For additional resources visit the Teaching Theory page at www.utpteachingculture.com

Comparative Archaeologies Ludomir R Lozny, 2011-04-06 Archaeology as with all of the social sciences has always been characterized by competing theoretical propositions based on diverse bodies of locally acquired data In order to fulfill local regional expectations different goals have been assigned to the practitioners of Archaeology in different regions These goals might be entrenched in local politics or social expectations behind cultural heritage research This comprehensive book explores regional archaeologies from a sociological perspective to identify and explain regional differences in archaeological practice as well as their existing similarities This work covers not only the currently dominant Anglo American archaeological paradigm but also Latin America Western and Eastern Europe Asia and Africa all of which have developed their own unique archaeological traditions The contributions in this work cover these alternative archaeologies in the context of their own geographical political and socio economic settings as well as the context of the currently accepted mainstream approaches

Preserved in the Peat Andy M. Jones, 2016-11-30 Excavation of a Scheduled burial mound on Whitehorse Hill Dartmoor revealed an unexpected intact burial deposit of Early Bronze Age date associated with an unparalleled range of artefacts The cremated remains of a young person had been placed within a bearskin pelt and provided with a basketry container from which a braided band with tin studs had spilled out Within the container were beads of shale amber clay and tin two pairs of turned wooden studs and a worked flint flake A unique item possibly a sash or band made from textile and animal skin was found beneath the container Beneath this the basal stone of the cist had been covered by a layer purple moor grass which had been collected in summer Analysis of environmental material from the site has revealed important insights into the pyre material used to burn the body as well as providing important information about the environment in which the cist was constructed The unparalleled assemblage of organic objects has yielded insights into a range of materials which have not survived from the earlier Bronze Age elsewhere in southern Britain

Reframing the Roman Economy Dimitri Van Limbergen, Adeline Hoffelinck, Devi Taelman, 2022-11-17 This book focuses on those features of the Roman economy that are less traceable in text and archaeology and as a consequence remain largely underexplored in contemporary scholarship By reincorporating for the first time these long obscured practices in mainstream scholarly discourses this book offers a more complete and balanced view of an economic system that for too long has mostly been studied through its macro economic and large scale and thus archaeologically and textually omnipresent aspects The topic is approached in five thematic sections covering unusual actors and perspectives unusual places of production exigent landscapes of exploitation less visible products and artefacts and divergent views on emblematic economic spheres To this purpose the book brings together a select group of leading scholars and promising early career researchers in archaeology and ancient economic history well positioned to steer this ill developed but fundamental field of the Roman economy in promising new directions
