Prehistoric Monuments of Guernsey and Associated Folklore James Stevens Cox, 1976 The Lives of Prehistoric Monuments in Iron Age, Roman and Medieval Europe Marta Díaz-Guardamino, Leonardo García Sanjuán, David Wheatley, 2015 The essays in this collection examine the life histories of carefully chosen megalithic monuments stelae and statue menhirs and rock art sites of various European and Mediterranean regions during the Iron Age and Roman and Medieval times By focusing on the concrete interaction between people monuments and places the volume offers an innovative outlook on a variety of debated issues Prominent among these is the role of ancient remains in the creation institutionalization contestation and negotiation of social identities and memories as well as their relationship with political economy in early historic European societies Reformation and Society in Guernsey Darryl Mark Ogier, 1996 Changes in Guernsey's religious practices replace the traditional Catholic polity with Calvinist discipline to the benefit of the old elite but at the expense of social cohesion Decoding Neolithic Atlantic and Mediterranean Island Ritual George Nash, Andrew Townsend, 2016-03-31 What constitutes an island and the archaeology contained within Is it the physicality of its boundary between shoreline and sea Does this physical barrier extend further into a watery zone Archaeologically can islands be defined by cultural heritage and influence Clearly and based on these few probing questions islands are more than just lumps of rock and earth sitting in the middle of a sea or ocean An island is a space which when described in terms of topography landscape form and resources becomes a place A place can sometimes be delineated with barriers and boundaries it may also have a perimeter and can be distinguished from the space that surrounds it The 16 papers presented here explore the physicality and levels of insularity of individual islands and island groups during prehistory through a series of case studies on Neolithic island archaeology in the Atlantic and Mediterranean regions For the eastern Atlantic the Atlantic Archipelago papers discuss the sacred geographies and material culture of Neolithic Gotland Orkney and Anglesey and the architecture of and ritual behavior associated with megalithic monuments in the Channel Islands and the Scilly Isles The Mediterranean region is represented by a different type of Neolithic both in terms of architecture and material culture Papers discuss theoretical constructs and ritual deposition cave sites ritualized and religious aspects of Neolithic death and burial metaphysical journeys associated with the underworld in Late Neolithic Malta and the possible role of its Temple Period art in ritual activities and palaeoenvironmental evidence from the Neolithic monuments of Corsica The cases examined illustrate the diversity of the evidence available that affords a better understanding of the European Mediterranean Neolithic island society not least the effects of interaction contact and or geographical insularity isolation all factors that are considered to have consequences for the establishment and modification of cultures in island settings The Stone Circles of Britain, Ireland, and Brittany Aubrey Burl, 2000-01-01 The spectacular stone circles of western Europe some nearly 6000 years old have intrigued viewers through the ages This beautiful book about these megalithic rings explores their ancestry methods of construction and eventual desertion A substantially revised version of Aubrey Burl's highly praised work The Stone Circles of the British Isles it offers new insights into the purpose of stone circles It also provides a new interpretation of Stonehenge and of Callanish in Scotland the first overview of the cromlechs in Brittany a discussion of the problems of archaeoastronomy as related to stone circles a greatly expanded Gazetteer and an up to date list of radiocarbon dates and recent excavations

Bibliography of British Folklore: Text John David Allison Widdowson, 1996 Pagan Channel Islands S. V. Peddle, 2007 Around three to five thousand years ago an ancient people began building stone sites and monuments on the Channel Islands creating a landscape as rich in mythology as any archaeological site in Greece or Egypt This work examines this landscape The Antiquaries Journal, 1988 The Archaeological Journal, 1989 Guernsey folk lore, ed. by

E.F. Carey sir Edgar MacCulloch, 1903 Guernsey Folk Lore Sir Edgar MacCulloch, 1903 Rock Music M. Catherine Fagg, 1997 From Antiquary to Archaeologist Heather Sebire, 2009-03-26 Frederick Corbin Lukis antiquarian and polymath lived in Guernsey in the Channel Islands from 1788-1871 This book is the result of many years research on his archive held at Guernsey Museum and draws heavily on the material therein highlighting it to both the general reader and the academic world It includes an initial look at the history of antiquarianism and the development of archaeology as a discipline with particular reference to the nineteenth century The development of archaeological study in Guernsey and the development of the museum service are documented alongside a biography of Lukis's life in the context in which he grew up The book includes several illustrations from the museum collections and although the content is based on research it is suitable for readers with an interest in the history of archaeology museum collections and antiquarianism This is widely recognized as a growing area of interest in heritage studies Chambers's Journal of Popular Literature, Science and Arts, 1947 British Books in Print, 1979 From Carnac to Callanish Aubrey Burl, Dr Aubrey Burl, 1993-01-01 This book discusses the lines of standing stones that until now have been the neglected wonders of prehistoric Europe rows that were foci of rituals in Britain Ireland and Brittany for over two thousand years Places such as Carnac in Brittany and Callanish in the Hebrides are visited by many visitors each year but before now there has been no book that seriously explains the history significance and background to these impressive sites Aubrey Burl shows that the settings vary from pairs of isolated stones in the far south west of Ireland to networks of long lines in Scotland Dartmoor and Brittany and describes the types in a sequence of architectural chapters that stress the increasing social and commercial connections between regions hundred of miles apart He uses information from a wide variety of sources excavation reports megalithic art astronomical analyses and legends to provide explanations of why the rows were erected when and what they may have been used for The Oxford Handbook of the Archaeology of Ritual and Religion Timothy Insoll,2011-10-28 The Oxford Handbook of the Archaeology of Ritual and Religion provides a comprehensive overview by period and region of the relevant archaeological material in relation to theory methodology definition and practice Although as the title indicates the focus is upon archaeological investigations of ritual and religion by necessity ideas and evidence from other disciplines are also included among them anthropology ethnography religious studies and history The Handbook covers a global span Africa Asia Australasia Europe and the Americas and reaches from the earliest prehistory the Lower and Middle Palaeolithic to modern times In addition chapters focus upon relevant themes ranging from landscape to death from taboo to water from gender to rites of passage from ritual to fasting and feasting Written by over sixty specialists renowned in their respective fields the Handbook presents the very best in current scholarship and will serve both as a comprehensive introduction to its subject and as a stimulus to further research Chambers's Journal ,1947 Whitaker's Cumulative Book List ,1983
