Prejudices And Antipathies A Tract On The Lc Subject Heads Concerning People:

Prejudices and Antipathies Sanford Berman, 1993 First published in 1971 by Scarecrow Press Prejudices and Antipathies marked the opening salvo in the fight to rid the Library of Congress Subject Headings of bias In the ensuing 22 years many of its recommendations have been embraced Still Christocentrism permeates LC racially tinged Oriental and primitive headings abound reminding the profession of the progress made and problems that persist The McFarland edition includes a foreword a new preface and an index Essential Library of Congress Subject Headings Vanda Broughton, 2011-11-20 Library of Congress Subject Headings LCSH are increasingly seen as the English language controlled vocabulary despite their lack of a theoretical foundation and their evident US bias In mapping exercises between national subject heading lists and in exercises in digital resource organization and management LCSH are often chosen because of the lack of any other widely accepted English language standard for subject cataloguing It is therefore important that the basic nature of LCSH their advantages and their limitations are well understood both by LIS practitioners and those in the wider information community Information professionals who attended library school before 1995 and many more recent library school graduates are unlikely to have had a formal introduction to Library of Congress Subject Headings LCSH Paraprofessionals who undertake cataloguing are similarly unlikely to have enjoyed an induction to the broad principles of LCSH This is the first compact guide to LCSH written from a UK viewpoint Key topics include background and history of LCSH subject heading lists structure and display in LCSH form of entry application of LCSH document analysis main headings topical geographical and free floating sub divisions building compound headings name headings headings for literature art music history and law LCSH in the online environment Readership There is a strong emphasis throughout on worked examples and practical exercises in the application of the scheme and a full glossary of terms is supplied No prior knowledge or experience of subject cataloguing is assumed This is an indispensable guide to LCSH for practitioners and students alike Introduction to Cataloging and Classification Daniel N. Joudrey, Arlene G. Taylor, David P. Miller, 2015-09-29 A new edition of this best selling textbook reintroduces the topic of library cataloging from a fresh modern perspective Not many books merit an eleventh edition but this popular text does Newly updated Introduction to Cataloging and Classification provides an introduction to descriptive cataloging based on contemporary standards explaining the basic tenets to readers without previous experience as well as to those who merely want a better understanding of the process as it exists today The text opens with the foundations of cataloging then moves to specific details and subject matter such as Functional Requirements for Bibliographic Records FRBR Functional Requirements for Authority Data FRAD the International Cataloging Principles ICP and RDA Unlike other texts the book doesn't presume a close familiarity with the MARC bibliographic or authorities formats ALA's Anglo American Cataloging Rules 2nd Edition revised AACR2R or the International Standard Bibliographic Description ISBD Subject access to library materials is covered in sufficient depth to make the reader comfortable with the principles and practices of subject cataloging and classification In addition the book introduces MARC BIBFRAME and other approaches used to communicate and display bibliographic data Discussions of formatting presentation and administrative issues complete the book questions useful for review and study appear at the end of each chapter

Information and Society Michael Buckland, 2017-03-03 A short informal account of our ever increasing dependence on a complex multiplicity of messages records documents and data We live in an information society or so we are often told But what does that mean This volume in the MIT Press Essential Knowledge series offers a concise informal account of the ways in which information and society are related and of our ever increasing dependence on a complex multiplicity of messages records documents and data Using information in its everyday nonspecialized sense Michael Buckland explores the influence of information on what we know the role of communication and recorded information in our daily lives and the difficulty or ease of finding information He shows that all this involves human perception social behavior changing technologies and issues of trust Buckland argues that every society is an information society a non information society would be a contradiction in terms But the shift from oral and gestural communication to documents and the wider use of documents facilitated by new technologies have made our society particularly information intensive Buckland describes the rising flood of data documents and records outlines the dramatic long term growth of documents and traces the rise of techniques to cope with them He examines the physical manifestation of information as documents the emergence of data sets and how documents and data are discovered and used He explores what individuals and societies do with information offers a basic summary of how collected documents are arranged and described considers the nature of naming explains the uses of metadata and evaluates selection methods considering relevance recall and precision

Cataloging and Classification Gretchen L. Hoffman, Karen Snow, 2021-11-24 The cataloging and classification field is changing rapidly New concepts and models such as linked data identity management the IFLA Library Reference Model and the latest revision of Resource Description and Access RDA have the potential to change how libraries provide access to their collections To prepare library and information science LIS students to be successful cataloging practitioners in this changing landscape they need a solid understanding of fundamental cataloging concepts standards and practices their history where they stand currently and possibilities for the future The chapters in Cataloging and Classification Back to Basics are meant to complement textbooks and lectures so students can go deeper into specific topics New and well seasoned library practitioners will also benefit from reading these chapters as a way to refresh or fill gaps in their knowledge of cataloging and classification The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the journal Cataloging Classification Quarterly

Cataloging and Classification Lois Mai Chan, Theodora Hodges, 2007 Cataloging and Classification Third Edition is a text for beginning students and a tool for practicing cataloging personnel All chapters have been rewritten in this latest edition to incorporate recent developments particularly the tremendous impact metadata and the Web have had on cataloging and classification

LGBTQ+ Librarianship in the 21st Century Bharat

Mehra,2019-05-01 Libraries are at the heart of many of the communities they serve Increasingly it is important for them to adjust to serve minority groups including LGBTQ communities This collection presents original scholarship on the emerging directions of advocacy and community engagement in LGBTQ librarianship Critical Theory for Library and Information Science Gloria J. Leckie,Lisa M. Given,John E. Buschman,2010-07-26 This text provides an overview of major critical theorists from across disciplines including the humanities social sciences and education that discusses the importance of these critical perspectives for the advancement of LIS research and scholarship The practical application of library and information science is based upon 75 years of critical theory and thought Therefore it is essential for students and faculty in LIS to be familiar with the work of a wide range of critical theorists The aim of Critical Theory for Library and Information Science Exploring the Social from Across the Disciplines is to provide a comprehensive introduction to the critical theorists important to the LIS audience and to give insights into how such theory can be incorporated into actual LIS research and practice This book consists of chapters on individual critical theorists ranging from Aglietta to Habermas to Spivak written by an international group of library and information science scholars Each chapter provides an overview of the theoretical stance and contributions of the theorist as well as relevant critical commentary This book will be particularly valuable as a reference text of core readings for those pursuing doctoral or masters level degrees in LIS International Perspectives on Publishing Platforms Meghan Forbes,2018-12-21 With large scale scholarly projects dedicated to digitizing print based magazines and a concurrent turn towards digital mapping and data visualization periodicals that were once accessible only in the archive now have the capacity to reach a wider audience and make visible previously overlooked networks and connections enacted within and across the magazines International Perspectives on Publishing Platforms Image Object Text offers a unique contribution to the field of periodical studies while also broadening the scope of purview to consider related content with regards to other relevant printed matter and cultural products as well as digital archiving strategies Including interdisciplinary contributions from academics around the world the volume presents a wide range of approaches to periodicals and printed matter from Africa Asia Europe the Middle East Latin America and the Caribbean Questions of material print culture and the digital realm are considered both via theoretical and more empirical approaches As a whole the book considers the pluralism of perspectives that the study of periodicals and printed matter contribute to our historical understanding of various political and social issues and also devotes attention to the ways in which digital archiving projects can be instrumentalized as a strategy for filling in gaps in the historical record International Perspectives on Publishing Platforms should be of great interest to researchers academics and postgraduates engaged in the study of periodicals publishing book history world literature digital humanities media visual and material culture Asian American Librarians and Library Services Janet Hyunju Clarke,Raymond Pun,Monnee Tong,2017-12-08 What are the library services and resources that Asian Pacific Americans need What does it mean to be an Asian Pacific American librarian in the 21st century In Asian American Librarians and Library Services Activism Collaborations and Strategies library professionals and scholars share reflections best practices and strategies and convey the critical need for diversity in the LIS field library programming and resources to better reflect the rich and varied experiences and information needs of Asian Americans in the US and beyond The contributors show that they care deeply about diversity that they acknowledge that it is painfully lacking in so many aspects of libraries and librarianship and that libraries and the LIS profession must systematically integrate diversity and inclusion into their strategic priorities and practices indeed in their very mission such that the rich diversity of experiences and histories of Asian Americans in library and archival collections services and programming are not only validated and recognized but also valued and celebrated as vital components of the shared American experience The volume recognizes and honors the creative and intentional work librarians do for their constituent Asian American communities in promoting resources services and outreach

Challenges and Opportunities for Knowledge Organization in the Digital Age Fernanda Ribeiro, Maria Elisa Cerveira, 2018-07-11 Thema der 15 Internationalen Konferenz der International Society for Knowledge Organization vom 9 bis 11 Juli 2018 in Porto ist Challenges and Opportunities for Knowledge Organization in the Digital Age Der Konferenzband fasst die Vorträge von Wissenschaftlern aus aller Welt zusammen

Librarianship and Human Rights Toni Samek, 2014-07-21 In this book the reader will encounter a myriad of urgent library and information voices reflecting contemporary local national and transnational calls to action on conflicts generated by failures to acknowledge human rights by struggles for recognition and representation by social exclusion and the library institution's role therein These voices infuse library and information work worldwide into social movements and the global discourse of human rights they depict library and information workers as political actors they offer some new possibilities for strategies of resistance and they challenge networks of control This book's approach to library and information work is grounded in practical critical and emancipatory terms social action is a central pattern This book is conceived as a direct challenge to the notion of library neutrality especially in the present context of war revolution and social change This book for example locates library and information workers as participants and interventionists in social conflicts The strategies for social action worldwide documented in this book were selected because of their connection to elements of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights 1948 that relate particularly to core library values information ethics and global information justice The first monograph of its kind Locates librarianship front and centre in knowledge societies Mainstreams critical librarianship

College Librarianship William Miller, D. Stephen Rockwood, 1981 A good introduction to a variety of topics handled by college librarians on a daily basis This volume should be useful to library school students and others who may wish to obtain greater knowledge of the real issues faced by college librarians

Michael Moss on Archives Julie McLeod, Andrew Prescott, Susan Stuart, David Thomas, 2023-11-17 Michael Moss on Archives brings together selected outputs from an internationally renowned archival scholar who explored the theory and practice of archives and records management

Comprising a selection of 11 of Moss most significant archival writings the book demonstrates the development of his thinking in archival theory and practice over the past 20 years Michael Moss was a towering figure in modern archival writing and was able to push the boundaries of the discipline notably with his analysis of how modern governments create records and his speculations about the future of the archive in the digital world Bringing together in one place Moss most significant writings alongside a comprehensive bibliography this book documents a significant contribution to British and international archival theory and practice Each essay is preceded by a critical introduction written by a leading archival scholar assessing the piece and setting it in a wider archival or historical context while an overall introduction by the editors provides biographical information and describes the development of Michael s archival thinking Michael Moss on Archives will be of interest to scholars and students engaged in the study of archival science library and information science history digital humanities and media studies It should also be of interest to professionals who work in archives and records management

The Archival Turn in Feminism
Kate Eichhorn,2013-07-26 In the 1990s a generation of women born during the rise of the second wave feminist movement plotted a revolution These young activists funneled their outrage and energy into creating music and zines using salvaged audio equipment and stolen time on copy machines By 2000 the cultural artifacts of this movement had started to migrate from basements and storage units to community and university archives establishing new sites of storytelling and political activism The Archival Turn in Feminism chronicles these important cultural artifacts and their collection cataloging preservation and distribution Cultural studies scholar Kate Eichhorn examines institutions such as the Sallie Bingham Center for Women's History and Culture at Duke University The Riot Grrrl Collection at New York University and the Barnard Zine Library She also profiles the archivists who have assembled these significant feminist collections Eichhorn shows why young feminist activists cultural producers and scholars embraced the archive and how they used it to stage political alliances across eras and generations A volume in the American Literatures Initiative The Digital Humanities and Literary Studies Martin Paul Eve, 2022 A short introduction and overview of developing intersections between digital methods and literary studies that offers the best starting place for those who wish to learn more about the possibilities but also the limitations of the digital humanities in the literary space The Laughing Librarian Jeanette C. Smith, 2014-01-10 Despite the stodgy stereotypes libraries and librarians themselves can be quite funny The spectrum of library humor from sources inside and outside the profession ranges from the subtle wit of the New Yorker to the satire of Mad This examination of American library humor over the past 200 years covers a wide range of topics and spans the continuum between light and dark from parodies to portrayals of libraries and their staffs as objects of fear It illuminates different types of librarians the collector the organization person the keeper the change agent and explores stereotypes like the shushing little old lady with a bun the male scholar librarian the library superhero and the anti stereotype of the sexy librarian Profiles of the most prominent library humorists round out this lively study Reference and Information Services Melissa A. Wong, Laura Saunders, 2024-08-22 Written as a textbook for LIS students taking reference courses this fully updated and revised seventh edition of Reference and Information Services An Introduction also serves as a helpful handbook for practitioners to refamiliarize themselves with particular types and formats of sources and to refresh their knowledge on specific service topics The first section grounds the rest of the textbook with an overview of the foundations of reference and an introduction to the theories values and standards that guide reference service The second section provides an overview of reference services and techniques for service provision establishing a foundation of knowledge on reference service and extending ethical and social justice perspectives The third part offers an overview of the information life cycle and dissemination of information followed by an in depth examination of information sources by type as well as by broad subject areas Finally the concluding section guides the reader through the process of developing and maintaining their own vision of reference practice This textbook is essential reading for all preservice and working librarians particularly those concerned with ethical and social justice perspectives on reference work Catalog of Copyright Entries.
