Climate Change - Environment and Civilization in the Middle East Arie S. Issar, Mattanyah Zohar, 2013-04-17 We live in an early stage of an interglacial period which began some fifteen thousand years ago a warming trend which with the extreme ups and downs is still gaining momentum There is little doubt that sometime in the foreseeable future the global climate will inexorably become much warmer and many regions such as the Near East will become much drier We even accelerate this process by recklessly pumping carbon dioxide from fossil fuels into the atmosphere And if that is not enough industrial agricultural and disease ridden human waste unfit for consumption will increasingly pollute the diminishing few remaining water resources By now we fully realize the disastrous consequences of what we do and yet go on doing it So what about the Intelligence of the Homo sapiens about which we read in our books Obviously one of the qualities of intelligence is the capacity to forecast the future on the basis of past experience Since writing was invented and important or mundane matters were recorded in our region many stories about disasters emerging either from shortage or superabundance of water are found The one as well as the other often decided the fate of ancient peoples The inherent historical understanding of the crucial role of water in the fate and thus faith of the human societies faded out when it moved from the semi arid western part of Asia to humid Europe

Butrint 5: Life and Death at a Mediterranean Port William Bowden, 2020-02-19 This is the second volume arising from the 1994-2003 excavations of the Triconch Palace at Butrint Albania which charted the history of a major Mediterranean waterfront site from the 2nd to the 15th centuries AD The sequence Butrint 3 Excavations at the Triconch Palace Oxbow 2011 included the development of a palatial late Roman house followed by intensive activity between the 5th and 7th centuries involving domestic occupation metal working fishing and burial The site saw renewed activity from the 10th century coinciding with the revival of the town of Butrint and for the following 300 years continued in intermittent use associated with its channel side location This volume reports on the finds from the site excluding the pottery which demonstrate the ways in which the lives diet and material culture of a Mediterranean population changed across the arc of the late Roman and Medieval periods It includes discussion of the environmental evidence the human and faunal remains metal working evidence and the major assemblages of glass coins and small finds giving an insight into the health subsistence base and material culture of the population of a Mediterranean site across more than 1000 years The findings raise important questions regarding the ways in which changes in the circumstances of the town affected the population between Late Antiquity and the Middle Ages They illustrate in particular how an urban Roman center became more rural during the 6th century with a population that faced major challenges in their health and living conditions

Egyptianization and Elite Emulation in Ramesside Palestine C.R. Higginbotham, 2022-02-28 A strong Egyptian presence and governance of 13th and 12th centuries B C Palestine has since long become clear from both textual and archaeological evidence How this Egyptianization came about in Ramesside Palestine forms the focus of the present study Carolyn Higginbotham convincingly attends to internal factors affecting the region s cultural and political development Two models are carefully considered The prevailing theory that Egyptian policy shifted from economic and political domination to military occupation is contrasted with a new convincing model elite emulation derived from modern core periphery studies The author s conclusion is that Egyptian policy remained largely unchanged and that the increased Egyptianization of the material culture represents voluntary adoption of the overpowering Egyptian culture by the Palestinian ruling class The appendices are especially important for scholars interested in ancient international connections in Palestine they catalogue all Egyptian and Egyptian style material from LB IIB Iron 1A Palestine Ancient Perspectives on Egypt Roger Matthews, Cornelia Roemer, 2016-09-16 The allure of Egypt is not exclusive to the modern world Egypt also held a fascination and attraction for people of the past In this book academics from a wide range of disciplines assess the significance of Egypt within the settings of its past The chronological span is from later prehistory through to the earliest literate eras of interaction with Mesopotamia and the Levant the Aegean Greece and Rome Ancient Perspectives on Egypt includes both archaeological and documented evidence which ranges from the earliest writing attested in Egypt and Mesopotamia in the late fourth millennium BC to graffiti from Abydos that demonstrate pilgrimages from all over the Mediterranean world to the views of Roman poets on the nature of Egypt This book presents for the first time in a single volume a multi faceted but coherent collection of images of Egypt from and of the past From Nomadism to Monarchy? Ido Koch,Oded Lipschits,Omer Sergi,2023-11-07 Archaeological exploration in the Central Highlands of the Southern Levant conducted during the 1970s and 1980s dramatically transformed the scholarly understanding of the early Iron Age and led to the publication of From Nomadism to Monarchy Archaeological and Historical Aspects of Early Israel by Israel Finkelstein and Nadav Na aman This volume explores and reassesses the legacy of that foundational text Using current theoretical frameworks and taking into account new excavation data and methodologies from the natural sciences the seventeen essays in this volume examine the archaeology of the Southern Levant during the early Iron Age and the ways in which the period may be reflected in biblical accounts The variety of methodologies employed and the historical narratives presented within these contributions illuminate the multifaceted nature of contemporary research on this formative period Building upon Finkelstein and Na aman s seminal study this work provides an essential update It will be welcomed by ancient historians scholars of early Israel and the early Iron Age Southern Levant and biblical scholars In addition to the editors the contributors to this volume are Eran Arie Erez Ben Yosef Cynthia Edenburg Israel Finkelstein Yuval Gadot Assaf Kleiman Gunnar Lehmann Defna Langgut Aren M Maeir Nadav Na aman Thomas R mer Lidar Sapir Hen Katja Soennecken Dieter Vieweger Ido Wachtel and Naama Yahalom Mack Excavations at Tall Jawa, Jordan P.
