American Writers of the Present Day, 1890 to 1920 Thomas Ernest Rankin, 1920 The Development of the American Short Story Fred Lewis Pattee, 1923-02 American Afterlife Kate Sweeney, 2014-03-15 An award winning writer explores the patchwork American cultural history of grieving the departed One family inters their matriarch's ashes on the floor of the ocean Another holds a memorial weenie roast each year at a green burial cemetery An 1898 ad for embalming fluid promises You can make mummies with it while a leading contemporary burial vault is touted as impervious to the elements A grieving mother 150 years ago might spend her days tending a garden at her daughter's grave Today she might tend the roadside memorial she erected where her daughter was killed One mother wears a locket containing her daughter's hair the other a necklace containing her ashes What happens after someone dies depends on our personal stories and on where those stories fall in a larger tale that of death in America It's a powerful tale that we usually keep hidden from our everyday lives until we have to face it American Afterlife by Kate Sweeney reveals this world through a collective portrait of Americans past and present who are personally involved with death obit writers in the desert an Atlantic funeral voyage a fourth generation funeral director even a midwestern museum that shows us our death obsessed Victorian progenitors Each story illuminates details in another revealing a landscape that feels at once strange and familiar one that's by turns odd tragic poignant and sometimes even funny Sweeney's quest for the why behind mourning rituals has given us a book in the best tradition of narrative journalism Jessica Handler author of Braving the Fire A Guide to Writing about Grief and Loss

Present Day American Poetry Harry Houston Peckham, 1917 New Visions of Community in Contemporary American Fiction Magali Cornier Michael, 2008-04 In this engaging optimistic close reading of five late twentieth century novels by American women Magali Cornier Michael illuminates the ways in which their authors engage with ideas of communal activism common commitment and social transformation The fictions she examines imagine coalition building as a means of moving toward new forms of nonhierarchical justice for ethnic cultures that as a result of racist attitudes have not been assimilated power with each other rather than power over each other is a collective goal Michael argues that much contemporary American fiction by women offers models of care and nurturing that move away from the private sphere toward the public and political Specifically texts by women from such racially marked ethnic groups as African American Asian American Native American and Mexican American draw from the rich systems of thought histories and experiences of these hybrid cultures and thus offer feminist and ethical revisions of traditional concepts of community coalition subjectivity and agency Focusing on Amy Tan s The Joy Luck Club Barbara Kingsolver s The Bean Trees and Pigs in Heaven Ana Castillo s So Far from God and Toni Morrison s Paradise Michael shows that each writer emphasizes the positive liberating effects of kinship and community These hybrid versions of community which draw from other than dominant culturally specific ideas and histories have something to offer Americans as the United States moves into an increasingly diverse twenty first century Michael provides a rich lens through which to view both contemporary fiction and contemporary life
